14. Stamps.—The budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1909-10 was passed by the Government of India at Rs. 1,65,00,000. The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,55,99,838. The actuals of the first ten months of 1909-10, exclusive of receipts on account of unified stamps used as receipt stamps, show a small decrease of Rs. 2,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced from Rs. 1,65,00,000 to Rs. 1,56,00,000. The estimate for 1910-11, which has been placed at Rs. 1,67,86,000, allows for a progressive increase of five lakhs, and includes Rs. 6,86,000 being the expected proceeds of the new scheme of taxation sanctioned by the Government of India by the enhancement of the present duties levied on debentures, share warrants to bearer, transfers of shares and debentures, agreements or memoranda of agreements relating to the sale of shares and securities, bills of exchange and probate. The Provincial share is one-half, and thus amounts to Rs. 78,00,000 for 1909-10 and Rs. 83,93,000 for 1910-11.

15. Excise.—The revenue from Excise for 1909-10 was estimated at Rs. 1,69,00,000. The actuals of 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,70,01,004, while the figures for the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 2,61,000 as compared with the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year. The decrease in 1909-10 is due to the introduction of the contract distillery system in certain districts of Bihar and to the unfavourable result of the settlements of shops. The revised estimate for the year has therefore been passed for Rs. 1,67,50,000 ; and allowing for a progressive increase of two and half lakhs and for the expected proceeds from the new scheme of taxation, increasing the tariff rates on beer and spirits, amounting to Rs. 52,000, the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 1,70,52,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 83,75,000 and Rs. 85,26,000, respectively.

16. Provincial Rates.—The actual collections of Public Works Cess in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 36,60,066, and the estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 36,53,000. The receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10, however, show an increase of Rs. 1,91,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The annual valuation of existing mines and the first assessment of new mines which were opened in consequence of the development of the coal industry, together with the completion of valuation operations in the Sonthal Parganas, raised the total demand for Public Works Cess for 1908-09 by about Rs. 1,36,000, but the collections in that year were not in proportion to the demand. The arrears are being collected in 1909-10, and the revised estimate for the year has accordingly been placed at Rs. 38,70,000. A reduction in the annual profits of coal mines is anticipated, and there will be smaller arrears to be collected in the coming year; the estimate for 1910-11 has therefore been placed at Rs. 37,90,000. Under "General Rates for the management of Private Estates" the estimate is Rs. 1,85,000, against Rs. 1,63,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10. The increase is due to the levy of higher rates to meet the cost of the Lady Legal Adviser to parda nashin ladies, and her establishment, etc. The total estimate for 1910-11 is therefore Rs. (37,90,000+1,85,000=) 39,75,000.

17. Assessed Taxes.—The budget estimate of receipts from Income-tax for 1909-10 was Rs. 58,00,000. The actual collections in the first ten months of the year amounted to Rs. 44,58,000. For the remaining two months of the year the receipts have been taken at Rs. 10,92,000, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 55,50,000. The estimate for 1910-11 allows for an increase of Rs. 3,50,000, and stands at Rs. 59,00,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 29,50,000.

18. Forests.—The total receipts under this head for 1910-11 are estimated at Rs. 11,00,000, against Rs. 10,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 11,84,846 the actuals of 1908-09. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 5,50,000.

19. Registration.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,50,000. The collections during the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 46,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the preceding year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 14,26,043, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 13,80,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 14,87,000 after providing for a normal increase of Rs. 1,07,000 over the revised estimate for 1909-10. The decrease in 1909-10 is attributed to the smaller number of registrations effected. The receipts of this department are wholly Provincial.

20. Interest.—The estimate of loans, as submitted to the Government of India, provides for a return in the way of interest during 1910-11 of Rs. 8,53,000, as shown below:—

	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators, etc.	4,26,000
„ „ drainage and embankment advances	27,000
„ „ loans to land-holders	1,73,000
„ „ „ to Municipalities and District Boards, etc. ...	1,84,000
Miscellaneous	43,000
Total ...	8,53,000

21. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 6,39,469, and the receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 30,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 6,12,000, against Rs. 6,00,000 originally passed. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 6,24,000.

22. Jails.—The actuals for the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show a decrease of Rs. 25,000 as compared with the previous year, and a further decrease is anticipated. The actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 9,21,281, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced to Rs. 8,13,000. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 9,64,000.

23. Police.—The actuals of the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show an increase of Rs. 38,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 1,80,904, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 1,89,000. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,67,000, as smaller recoveries are anticipated on account of punitive police.

24. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,31,000. This has been raised to Rs. 15,50,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 15,48,000.

25. Education.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 7,18,358 and included more than 1½ lakhs, being the refunds made by District Boards of the amounts placed at their disposal in the previous years for the construction of primary school buildings. As further refunds amounting to two lakhs were expected in 1909-10, the budget for the year was passed for Rs. 7,75,000. The actual collections of the first nine months, however, show that nothing has been thus refunded by District Boards. The revised estimate has accordingly been reduced to Rs. 5,97,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 6,00,000.

26. Medical.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 2,90,000, against Rs. 2,81,855 the actuals of 1908-09. The actual receipts during the first nine months of 1909-10 do not show any marked improvement over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 2,84,000. The increase anticipated in 1909-10 under "Hospital receipts" has not been realized. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 2,98,000, in view of the increased contributions promised by the Calcutta Corporation to the Campbell and Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospitals.

27. Scientific and Other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,31,000, against Rs. 2,86,008 the actuals of 1908-09. The Superintendent, Cinchona Plantation, anticipated larger sales of sulphate of quinine in 1909-10, but the actual receipts in the first nine months of the year show a falling off of Rs. 23,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The revised estimate for 1909-10 has therefore been placed at Rs. 2,83,000. As an increase is expected from the sale of quinine in 1910-11, and as the Director of Agriculture also anticipates an increase in the receipts from experimental farms, the estimate for that year has been passed for Rs. 3,87,000.

28. Receipts in aid of Superannuation.—The budget estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 61,000, against Rs. 64,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 59,540 the actuals of 1908-09.

29. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate under this head for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,34,000, against Rs. 1,25,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,29,070 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimate includes increased provision for work done for local and private bodies and miscellaneous receipts.

30. Miscellaneous.—The receipts for 1909-10 were estimated at Rs. 5,83,000, against Rs. 6,34,688 the actuals of 1908-09. In the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 6,60,000, including Rs. 60,000 being part of the sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana, and Rs. 40,000 being the sale-proceeds of the steam-trawler Golden Crown belonging to the Fishery Department. For 1910-11 the estimate has been placed at Rs. 7,42,000, including the balance of the anticipated sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana and Rs. 40,000, the sale-proceeds of the present Garden Reach thana buildings and land.

31. Irrigation—Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The budget estimate for 1909-10 is Rs. 24,36,000, which has been raised to Rs. 27,08,000 in the revised estimate, owing to an increase in the area irrigated. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,92,000.

32. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 6,33,000, but in view of the collections in the first eight months of 1909-10, amounting to Rs. 3,49,000, as compared with Rs. 3,44,000 in the corresponding period of the previous year, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 5,84,000, against Rs. 5,79,308 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is chiefly in navigation receipts from the Orissa and Calcutta canals, owing to the cyclone of October 1909, and also in the receipts from the Nadia rivers. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 6,50,000, an increase being expected owing to the opening of the Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal.

33. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,55,000, against Rs. 3,48,202 the actuals of 1908-09. No improvement is now anticipated under this head in 1909-10, and the budget has been repeated in the revised estimate for 1909-10. The same amount has been taken as the estimate for 1910-11.

EXPENDITURE.

34. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 1,35,000, against Rs. 1,34,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,31,332 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimates under this head are based, as usual, on the average actuals of the previous three years excluding special payments.

35. Assignments and Compensation.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 70,000, and this has been repeated as the estimate for 1910-11. The revised estimate has, however, been placed at Rs. 66,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10.

36. Land Revenue.—The total Provincial expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 39,86,000, against Rs. 37,10,000, the revised, and Rs. 40,00,000 the budget estimate, for 1909-10, as shown below:—

	1909-10. Budget.	1909-10. Revised.	1910-11. Budget.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
(1) Charges of District Administration	30,00,000	27,40,000	29,77,000
(2) Charges on account of Land Revenue collections ...	4,000	2,000	4,000
(3) Management of Government estates	3,57,000	3,45,000	4,29,000
(4) Survey and Settlement ...	2,58,000	2,45,000	1,60,000
(5) Land Records and Agriculture	4,41,000	3,78,000	4,86,000
	40,60,000		40,56,000
Lump reduction ...	60,000		70,000
Total ...	40,00,000	37,10,000	39,86,000

Under (1) a lump provision of Rs. 34,400 has been made for an increase in the number of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, in order to meet the demands of the Settlement Department. A lump provision of Rs. 33,600 has also been made for the appointment of eight new Joint-Magistrates by promotion of Assistant Magistrates. The budget also includes Rs. 1,50,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers, in accordance with the recommendations of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee to which effect will be given from the 23rd May 1909, the date upon which the orders of the Secretary of State sanctioning the proposals were received in India. Under (3) a special provision of Rs. 40,000 has been made, in order to take up certain works of improvement in Government estates which are urgently required, and which cannot be financed from the Improvement grant as ordinarily calculated. A separate provision of Rs. 17,000 has also been entered for the management of the Hiranpore Market in the Santhal Parganas, the accounts of which have hitherto been kept out of the provincial account. Under (5) Rs. 2,93,000 have been provided for initial expenditure in bringing the survey and settlement records in Orissa up to date, Rs. 88,000 for the revision of the record-of-rights in Orissa, Rs. 19,627 for the reproduction of maps, and Rs. 36,000 for the maintenance of records in Sambalpur.

37. Stamps.—The sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,05,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 4,70,000, owing chiefly to the smaller supply of stamp paper from the Central stores, consequent on the decrease in the sale of stamps, and smaller payments of discount on the sale of stamps. The budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 5,04,000, and closely follows the grant for the current year.

38. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 8,83,000, against Rs. 8,30,000 the budget grant for 1909-10. The increase is due to a lump provision of Rs. 32,000 for temporary establishment in connection with the introduction of the contract distillery system in the districts of the Patna and Tirhut Divisions; to a larger provision for travelling allowances which is incidental to the employment of larger establishments; and to larger grants under "Petty construction and repairs" in order to meet the cost of erecting warehouses in the Patna and Tirhut Divisions. The budget also includes provision for the Bengal share of the pay of a joint distillery expert for Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam.

The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 4,42,000.

39 Provincial Rates.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 64,000, against Rs. 50,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 41,429 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase in the estimate is chiefly under "Collection charges," owing to a provision of Rs. 48,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers. One-third of this charge is debitable to Provincial revenues, and two-thirds to District Funds. A small additional provision has also been made for the revaluation of certain chakran and ghatwali lands in Birbhum and other districts.

40. Assessed Taxes.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,63,000 against Rs. 1,64,000 the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,60,003 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is due to the omission of provision for the revision of the establishment of the Calcutta Collectorate, which was entered in the budget for the current year. The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 82,000.

41. Forests.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 6,65,000, against Rs. 5,87,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 5,83,981 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase is chiefly due to the following causes:—

	Rs.
Acquisition of land in and along the Satikhola landslip, in the Darjeeling Division.	4,000
Payment to the Raja of Porahat, in the Singbhum Division, on account of profits of the Porahat Forest	20,000
Completion of Forest buildings in Kurseong	5,000
Part construction or purchase of a house for the Divisional Forest Officer, Chaibassa	3,000
Construction of a rest-house near the Ghish River, in the Tista Division	2,500
Construction of a new Forest office in the Sambalpur Division ...	4,200
Purchase of a new steam-cutter for the Sunderbans Division ...	4,000
Establishment for additional flats for the Sunderbans ...	2,000
Construction of quarters for clerks at Khulna	8,000
Reorganization of the clerical staff of the Conservator's office ...	5,000

42. Registration.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 8,13,000, against Rs. 8,24,000, the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs 8,14,977, the actuals of 1908-09. The budget for 1909-10 included a provision of Rs. 20,540 for the increase of the pay of ministerial officers. No definite proposals for the revision of salaries have been received, and no provision has been made on this account in the budget for 1910-11. On the other hand, provision has been made for a larger number of Sub-Registrars, and grants for temporary establishments and rent of offices for Sub-Registrars have been raised with reference to probable requirements.

43. Interest on ordinary Debt.—This is interest payable from the Provincial revenues to the Imperial Government on the amount advanced by the latter to the Provincial Government for loans to cultivators under the Agriculturists' Loans and Land Improvements Loans Acts, for advances to Co-operative Credit Societies, for advances on drainage and embankment schemes, for loans to notabilities and to municipalities and other public Corporations (excluding Presidency Corporations).

44. General Administration.—The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 21,02,000, and includes the following provisions:—

	Rs.
Additional establishment required in connection with the expansion of the Legislative Council	12,000
Additional grant for travelling allowances of non-official Members of Council	4,000
Salaries, establishment and contingencies of the Members of the Executive Council	2,00,000
Re-organization of the Chief Secretary's office	14,793
Ditto ditto Judicial Secretary's office	9,105
Ditto ditto Financial Secretary's office	8,946
Temporary establishment in the record-room of the Secretariat for copying correspondence for the Secretary of State ...	6,144
Temporary establishment in ditto for arranging and destroying old records	16,176

	Rs.
Personal allowance of the Uriya Translator	600
Temporary establishment in the Bengali Translator's office for the translation of Acts and Bills for the Government of India	3,300
Increased grant for the revision of the Customs Audit establishment	2,004

On the other hand, savings are anticipated in the salaries of the Hon'ble Members of the Board of Revenue to the extent of Rs. 50,000.

45. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total charges for 1909-10 were originally estimated at Rs. 79,20,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 83,04,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is large, and is chiefly due to heavy unforeseen law charges consequent upon the outbreak of political crime. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 82,43,000. It includes provision for—(a) the revision of the establishment of the Insolvency Court, Rs. 24,820; (b) temporary establishment for an additional Judge of the High Court, Rs. 5,500; (c) the appointment of a Lady Legal Adviser to parda-nashin ladies, under the Court of Wards, Rs. 16,320; (d) the appointment of a new District Judge for Sambalpur and his establishment, etc., Rs. 52,000; (e) purchase of fire-extinguishing appliances for Civil Courts, Rs. 10,000; (f) improvement of prospects of ministerial officers in Civil and Criminal Courts, Rs. 2,00,000 for 1910-11 and Rs. 1,00,000 for the payment of arrears not drawn in 1909-10; (g) fees for the defence of paupers accused of murder, Rs. 5,000; and (h) temporary establishment for sorting the judicial records of the High Court, Rs. 3,500

46. Jails.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 27,00,000, against Rs. 27,70,423 the actuals of 1908-09. The actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10 show an increase of Rs. 27,000 as compared with the figures of previous year under "Jails proper," and the total revised estimate for the year has accordingly been raised to Rs. 28,00,000. The increase is chiefly due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, for which an additional grant of Rs. 69,000 was required, and also to the incidental charges connected with the packing and distributing of pice-packets of quinine, the demand for which has greatly increased. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,71,000, and includes provision—(a) for the reorganization of the Jailor's Service sanctioned by the Government of India at a cost of Rs. 16,536; (b) for the appointment of clerks to assist Medical Officers in charge of subsidiary jails at a cost of Rs. 9,300; (c) for the appointment of circle reserve warders at a cost of Rs. 5,424; (d) for establishment and other charges in connection with the new Presidency Jail, which are estimated at Rs. 1,39,486; (e) for revision of the office establishment of the Inspector-General of Prisons, Rs. 2,000; (f) for the revision of factory establishments, Rs. 4,514; and (g) for the employment of two clerks in the Presidency Jail and six clerks in Central Jails, Rs. 3,840.

47. Police.—The following table compares the figures under this head:—

48. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 stood originally at Rs. 12,44,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 11,48,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to the postponement of the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide, and to smaller expenditure on pilots. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 12,93,000, and includes a provision of Rs. 57,000 for the purchase of two boilers for the S.S. Guide, a larger allotment for the repairs of Pilot vessels, made on the advice of the Dockyard authorities, larger provision for pilotage allowances to Pilots in anticipation of increased shipping, provision for the house allowances of the Deputy Shipping Master, Calcutta, the Assistant Shipping Master, Kidderpore, and the Surveyor and Assistant Surveyors of steam vessels, Calcutta, and for repairs to leadsmen's quarters.

Printing charges to be incurred by Inspectors for work done in private presses	3,300

50. Medical.—The budget grant under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 25,20,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 23,39,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The saving is chiefly under "Medical Establishment" and was due to the non-utilization of the provision for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, to changes in the personnel, and to savings under "Reserve Medical subordinates"; the grants for plague preventive measures were also smaller than in the preceding year, and the provision for the improvement of the Sanitary Department was not expended, since no scheme has, as yet, been sanctioned. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,16,000. It includes Rs. 5,000 for anti-malarial measures, Rs. 41,000 for the improvement of the pay of Assistant Surgeons, Rs. 32,520 for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, Rs. 4,800 for an Inspector of Septic Tank Installations, Rs. 2,000 for an enquiry in connection with Beri-beri which is now in progress, Rs. 6,000 for a Professor of Anatomy in the Medical College, Rs. 18,000 for the establishment and Rs. 50,675 for equipment required for the new Surgical Block at the Medical College Hospital, and Rs. 7,821 on account of the inclusion for the first time of the charges of the Chuni Lall Seal's Outdoor Dispensary in the Provincial account. Rupees 12,000 have been provided for contributions towards the construction of dispensary buildings at Rajmahal and Asansol.

51. Political.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 55,000, against Rs. 56,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 52,404 the actuals of 1908-09. The figures call for no special remarks.

52. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,32,000, against Rs. 14,05,000 the budget grant for 1909-10. Provision has been made in the budget for the following charges:—

	Rs.
Larger grants to Veterinary Dispensaries	7,000
Fittings of the Agricultural College at Sabaur	25,000
For purchase of cinchona bark	2,00,000
For a new pumping engine and boiler for the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta	5,600

53. Superannuation.—The charges under this head tend to rise year after year, owing to the increase in the number of claims to pension. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,11,000, against Rs. 27,20,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 26,27,146 the actuals of 1908-09.

54. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,16,000, against Rs. 13,30,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 13,35,983 the actuals of 1908-09. The following table compares the figures:—

HEADS.	Actuals, 1908-09.	Revised estimate, 1909-10.	Budget estimate, 1910-11.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs
Stationery Office at the Presidency ...	57,771	51,000	59,000
Stationery purchased in this country ...	33,646	33,000	34,000
Government Presses	5,71,336	5,90,000	6,67,500
Printing at private Presses	931	1,000	1,000
Stationery supplied from Central Stores ...	6,71,520	6,54,000	6,54,000
Refunds	779	1,000	500
Total ...	13,35,983	13,30,000	14,16,000

The increased provision under "Government Presses" is on account of the printing of the Indian Law Reports, larger provision for overtime fees, and the purchase of printing machines.

55. Miscellaneous.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,27,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 3,83,000. The decrease is due to smaller provision for rewards for proficiency in Oriental languages, smaller expenditure under donations for charitable purposes and the Fisheries Commission, and to savings under the lump provision for contributions to District Funds and other miscellaneous charges. The Budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 4,98,000, and includes a special provision of Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of His Honour for petty grants, an item which was formerly shown under "Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers." The charges for the Fishery Department are not shown here, but under "Scientific and Minor Departments," as the Department has been placed under the supervision of the Director of Agriculture.

56. Subsidised Companies, Land, etc.—The charges under this head represent the cost of acquisition of land for the Bengal Provincial Railway from Magra to Tarkeswar. This railway belongs to a private Company, but Government meets the cost of land acquisition.

57. Irrigation Minor Works (Working Expenses).—The actual charges during 1908-09 were Rs. 13,97,147, and Rs. 13,44,000 were passed as the budget grant for 1909-10. The revised estimate is Rs. 13,81,000, and the estimate for 1910-11, Rs. 13,50,000.

58. Irrigation Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The actual expenditure during 1908-09 was Rs. 20,32,056. The budget grant for 1909-10 was Rs. 21,31,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 21,50,000, chiefly on account of the additional grant of one lakh for the acquisition of land in connection with the Ultadanga-Bamanghata

Canal, while a sum of Rs. 37,218 has been transferred to "42—Major Works." The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 22,72,000. It includes Rs. 43,000 for capital expenditure on the Orissa Canals, chiefly for the raising of the flood-bank of the Pattamundi Canal, and for the construction of permanent outlets and new distributaries in progress since the previous year; Rs. 24,200 for the completion of the new Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal; Rs. 3,42,000 for the Madaripur Bhil scheme; Rs. 40,000 for training works in the River Ganges; Rs. 30,000 for the construction of a lock at Utterbagh in connection with the Magrahât Drainage Scheme, and Rs. 2,15,000 for flood damage repairs to embankments in Midnapore and elsewhere. The estimate also includes provision for special repairs and silt clearance on the Orissa Coast Canal, and special repairs to the Chitpur Lock.

59. Civil Works.—The estimate of expenditure for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 52,59,000, against Rs. 49,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 62,93,800 the actuals of 1908-09. The following figures show the distribution of the allotment as compared with the two preceding years :—

He said :—"The remarks which it has been customary for the Financial Member to make in presenting the Budget have been circulated in the memorandum which was issued with the Amended Draft Financial Statement. The only change since made in the figures was explained in the memorandum which accompanied the Revised Financial Statement. As Hon'ble Members are aware, the Stamp Bill as finally passed by the Imperial Council was in a slightly modified form as compared with the Bill originally introduced. In consequence of the modification of the Bill, the estimated receipts under Stamps have been reduced by Rs. 40,000, of which Rs. 20,000 is the Provincial share. Our receipts under this head have, therefore, been reduced by Rs. 20,000, but we do not lose anything, because the Government of India take the receipts which are anticipated from the enhanced scale of taxation, and the contribution to that Government on this account is accordingly Rs. 20,000 less."

The Hon'ble MR. SLACKE introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

I.—Land-revenue.

Expenditure—

3. Land-revenue.
8. Provincial Rates.

He said :—"It falls upon me, Sir, to deal with the Land-revenue and Provincial Rates portions of the Budget.

"I will first deal with the revised estimate for the year 1909-10, as given on pages 1 and 2 of the revised Financial Statement. On the receipt side the increase under Land-revenue and Provincial Rates is mostly due to the good harvests which facilitated the collection of arrears. On the expenditure side the decrease was due to the inability to make full use of the grant because of absences of Civilian officers on leave, deputation of Provincial officers to settlements and valuations, to delay in the discussion of proposals to appoint additional members of that service, and to the fact that the orders with reference to the proposals of the Ministerial Officers' Committee were not received till late in the year and the time necessary to work out the details in connection with these proposals. The Ministerial officers themselves will not suffer, for payments will be made from the date the orders were received. With regard to the increases under the head 'General Rates for the Management of Private Estates,' hitherto the salary of Miss Sorabji has been paid for by the estates in respect of which that lady was specially employed. Experience has shown that, for the administration of Court of Wards' estates, her services cannot be confined to certain specific estates, but must be regarded as available generally, and consequently the cost will, in the future, be met from the Wards' Rate Fund instead of, as in the past, by a special assessment on certain estates.

"Under heading 'Management of Government Estates,' paragraph 36, page 10 of the Revised Financial Statement, the Budget provides for Rs. 84,000 in excess of the revised estimate for 1909-10. Thus, after allowing for certain allotments made in 1909-10, but which will not re appear in this year, such, for instance, as the Sundarbans reclamation scheme, the increase in question is mainly due to a special grant of Rs. 40,000 for special improvements, to the inclusion of the Hiranpur Market in the Provincial accounts for the first time, and to the fact that the actuals of collections were greater than the estimates on which were based the yearly 9½ Management and Improvement grant of Government estates. The special grant to which I have referred is required in order to safeguard a very much larger amount of Government revenue that would have to be remitted unless certain necessary works are carried out—works which it is impossible to finance from the ordinary Improvement grant. As an instance I would give the large Majnamutha and Jellamutha estates in Midnapore, the collections in which depend on the numerous khals and embankments being kept in proper order. I would mention that of the sum required for the Hiranpur Market, Rs. 10,000 is in respect of improvement and Rs. 7,000 to meet the collection of rents.

"The decrease referred to in the same paragraph in the sum estimated under Survey and Settlement in 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate of 1909-10, is due mostly to less being required in the coming than in the current year for certain settlements. Still, with reference to the same paragraph, the lump reduction of Rs. 70,000 has been made under the orders of the Government of India, who think that the total grant will not be expended during the year and that savings to that extent may be expected.

"Turning to page 19 of the Revised Financial Statement under Receipts,' the decrease in the sum budgetted for 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate for 1909-10, is due to the fact that, owing to good harvests, more arrears were collected in the year 1909-10, and hence there is less to collect in the coming year; and similarly with regard to the figures against Provincial Rates for the year 1910-11 under Land-revenue as compared with those of the revised estimate for 1909-10.

"The increase of expenditure under Provincial Rates in 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate for 1909-10, is mainly owing to the provision for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers in cess offices.

"With reference to heading XII—Interest, on page 27, the decrease under Class III is due to repayments of principal. The item 'Interest on Government securities' relates to interest due on Government securities belonging to endowments of Educational and Medical Institutions, and fluctuates according to the amount of such securities held in the Accountant-General's Office.

"With reference to the details given on page 39 of the revised Financial Statement, no provision has been made for the controlling office because the whole of the expenditure required for control has been distributed amongst the various operations in regard to the supervision of which the Director is responsible.

"The increase under Bengal Drawing Office is due almost wholly to the fact that the amount allotted in 1909-10 for the reproduction of village maps is totally inadequate to meet the requirements of district officers.

"Under 'Other operations' are included the Ganges Diara Survey and the Calcutta Town Survey, and under 'Other settlement operations' the settlement of Government and temporarily-settled estates and reproduction of maps in respect of certain areas in Chota Nagpur. This reproduction is carried out at Ranchi and not in the Bengal Drawing Office.

"The decrease under Superintendence under Land Records in the estimate for 1910-11, as compared with the revised estimate for 1909-10, is due to deductions made by the Accountant-General in respect of work debitable to Imperial.

"It will be seen that for 1910-11 a sum has for the first time been separately provided under Land Registration charges. This is not a new charge, but commencing with 1910-11, the charge has been placed under this sub-head, having been previously included under District charges—Land Records.

The portion of the Land-revenue Budget which relates to General Administration will be dealt with by the Hon'ble Mr. Duke."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE said :—"Before I pass to the head 'General Administration,' I just wish to mention one or two items under Land-revenue, head No. 3, which have been left to me by the Hon'ble Mr. Slacke. The first is that referred to on page 38 of the detailed statement, the provision of Rs. 33,600 for eight additional Joint Magistrates. The growing necessities of the administration and particularly the want of junior officers to assist District Officers at head-quarters and the want of officers for settlement operations led in 1907 to the preparation of a scheme for increasing the cadre of the Civil Service and that scheme is now before the Government of India. This Government is still unaware of what effect may be given to the scheme as a whole, but there is reason to believe that, as part of it, the appointment of eight Joint Magistrates will shortly be sanctioned and therefore they are provided for, the figure merely representing the difference of pay by the promotion of Assistant Magistrates to be Joint Magistrates.

"The other item to which I have to refer is the provision of Rs. 34,400 for additional Deputy Magistrates and Sub-Deputy Collectors for settlement demands. The settlement operations in this province have constantly been growing and of recent years very great difficulty has been felt in carrying on the work of the revision of settlement in Orissa with the existing staff and the result has been that to ease the strain on the administration, a number of temporary officers not in the regular service of Government have been employed as Assistant Settlement Officers. This is an unsatisfactory arrangement neither tending to efficiency nor fair to the officers themselves. We are now faced with the problem of having to extend revision operations to North Bihar not later than 1912, and we have, therefore, to prepare for these operations and in particular to have the necessary number of officers in training and ready to take up the work when it comes on. Upon the whole it has been found that 18 extra Deputy Collectors and 50 Sub-Deputy Collectors will eventually be required and these will be distributed through the grades of the service. I need not go into details of the eventual cost, which will come up to Rs. 1,76,000, but the necessary addition to the cadre will be made by increases extending over three or four years and in the meantime all that is to be done is to take in 9 Deputy Magistrates and 25 Sub-Deputy Collectors in the lowest grades of the service, that is, the Rs. 200 and Rs. 100 grades, respectively, and provision is made accordingly.

The Hon'ble MR DUKE introduced the following head:—

Expenditure—

18. General Administration.

He said:—"I now pass to head No. 18, 'General Administration.'

"The first item which presents any novel features is that of the Legislative Department, where there is an increase of Rs. 22,000 over the budget estimate of 1909-10, which has been provided for. Of this sum, Rs. 12,000 is for additional establishment required in connection with the enlargement of the Council, and the balance (Rs. 10,000) is for the travelling allowance on account of the increased number of the non-official members and for other incidental expenses.

"The next item also requires notice—the Civil Secretariat. The budget provides for an increase of Rs. 8,000 over the budget estimate for the current year. It includes provision for two considerable schemes of reorganisation. The first of these is the reorganisation of the Civil Secretariat. The last reorganisation of the Secretariat took place in 1892. The establishment was then reorganised on the following principles: progressive salaries were abolished and clerks were arranged in upper and lower divisions. It was intended that all recruitments should be made through the lower division, every assistant starting on a pay of Rs. 40. In practice, however, unpaid assistants or apprentices were constantly employed, and it has been apparent for some time that the system was unsatisfactory. The grading was imperfect and there were too many clerks in the lower grades on inadequate salaries, and men before reaching these grades had to remain without pay. The result was that men of superior attainments were discouraged from entering the Secretariat, and it has begun to be evident that it is very difficult to obtain men of efficient qualifications for the higher posts. It has therefore been resolved that, under the system approved by the Government of India, unpaid apprentices be abolished and the number of assistants in the lower grades diminished.

There are at present 42 men drawing Rs. 40 a month. These will be reduced to 15; and when the new scheme of reorganisation is given effect to, the average value of appointments in the upper classes will be raised from Rs. 199 to Rs. 219, and in the lower grade from Rs. 59 to Rs. 65. Furthermore, a system has been created of direct appointments in the upper division, that is to say, posts which carry Rs. 125 or above are to be re-introduced, and it is hoped that in this way that careers will be opened to candidates of superior attainments.

"The total provision on this account is Rs. 32,000 for the three branches of the Civil Secretariat not including the Public Works Department.

"Then I would refer to the allotment of Rs. 22,000 for temporary establishment in the Secretariat record-room. The record-room is in bad order and suffering from want of attention, and provision has therefore been made for a temporary establishment to carry this out with a view to eventually putting the record-room on an entirely new system.

"I may now refer to the provision for the Executive Council under the Board of Revenue. We are still unaware of the date and personnel of the Council which will be created in this Province, but there is every reason to expect that the appointment will be made shortly. It is assumed that there will be three members, and for budget purposes the salaries of these three members have been taken at Rs. 64,000, and Rs. 8,000 has been added for incidental charges and contingencies.

"It is anticipated that if the Executive Council is created the post of, at least one of the members of the Board of Revenue will be abolished, and accordingly a reduction of Rs. 50,000 has been made in the charges of the Board.

"Under the head of Commissioners, there will be found a slight increase for establishment on account of the increase of the pay of ministerial officers in accordance with the recommendation of the Salaries Commission, but upon the whole this will be more than counterbalanced by savings under compensation for the dearness of food.

"While dealing with this head, I will, with your permission, refer briefly to the statement of Civil Works, paragraph 59, page 16. These are works which are required for the purposes of general administration, and it is more suitable for me to deal with this, than it would be for the Secretary in the Public Works Department. The first of the works to which I refer is the construction of new court buildings at Angul. The existing building is a small one and a new one is badly required. Of the total cost—which is under Rs. 40,000—Rs. 18,000 was provided in the current year and Rs. 20,000 is provided now to complete it.

"The next item, the Deputy Commissioner's residence at Sambalpur. The existing house is a small one and ill arranged, and the work in it is of very poor quality. The total estimate is about Rs. 31,800, of which Rs. 10,000 is provided in the current year, and this will practically provide for its completion.

"The next item, Rs. 25,595, for the re-construction of the sub-divisional office building at Tamluk in Midnapore. The present buildings are unsightly and inconveniently situated huts, and a proper office is badly required.

"The next item is Rs. 6,790 for some small addition to the sub-divisional office building at Jajpur, Cuttack. This office is already crammed to bursting point, and the Bench have no place to sit in.

"Rupees 7,053 is provided for the extension of the sub-divisional office at Aurangabad. The existing record-room is unsafe, and some accommodation for the Sub-Registrar and a verandah for the court-room, which is uninhabitable in the hot weather, are required.

"These, I think, are the only items which require any special explanation."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUKE also introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—
IX —Forests.

Expenditure—
11. Forests.

He said :—"The budget for 1910-11 shows an increase of over a lakh over the revised estimate for 1909-10, and a decrease of 2 lakhs as compared with the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10. Forests being divided between Imperial and Provincial, those figures have to be divided by two to obtain the Provincial share.

"The decrease in the revised figures for 1909-10 is entirely accounted for by head 'Receipts for Timber and other Produce removed from the forests by consumers or purchasers'. This is to be attributed to the depression in the timber markets, which depression is partly due to the general depression of trade and partly to increased imports of Australian and other foreign woods. There is also some further loss on account of decrease in the quantity of sabai grass in Singhbhum. Upon the whole we anticipate that the timber trade will begin to improve, and we also anticipate some increase of revenue from the extension of mica-mining in Palamau. The estimate for 1910-11 has accordingly been fixed at Rs. 10,41,700.

"On the 'Expenditure' side a total provision of Rs. 6,65,000 has been made, being an increase of Rs. 78,000 over the sanctioned figure and Rs. 84,000 over the revised figures for 1909-10. The Provincial share of this expenditure will be Rs. 3,32,000.

"There is an increase of Rs. 51,000 over the sanctioned figure for 'Conservancy and Works', and Rs. 5,17,000 over the revised figures. This increase is largely accounted for by the head 'V —Payment to shareholders in forests managed by Government', Rs. 20,000, which is payable to the Raja of Porahat whose forests are leased to Government. Then there is also a large sum of Rs. 98,800 for 'Communications and Buildings'. That sum exceeds by about Rs. 20,000, the sanctioned estimate, and by Rs. 70,400, the revised estimate. The increase is due to the provision of a number of urgent non-recurring schemes estimated to cost Rs. 5,000 or less.

"I do not think it is necessary to remark upon any of the small items which are separately detailed on page 14. I shall be happy to give any explanation which may be required regarding them, but detailed explanations are unnecessary.

"I now turn to establishments. The total amount provided is Rs. 2,63,000, which gives an increase of Rs. 27,000 over the sanctioned estimate of 1909-10. This is accounted for by the head 'Salaries'. A re-organization of the Imperial and Provincial Forest Services for Bengal has been lately sanctioned by the Secretary of State, and the effect of this is to provide one additional Extra Deputy Conservator for this Province, and as the department was also short of another officer, there will be the full salaries of two officers, one on Rs. 500 and one on Rs. 450. This involves a corresponding addition to the ministerial establishment."

The Hon'ble Mr. DUKE also introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—
XXI.—Scientific and other Minor Departments.

Expenditure—
26. Scientific and other Minor Departments.

He said :—"I now turn to item XXI on the receipt side.

"Taking the revised estimates for 1909-10 on the receipt side, there is a decrease of Rs. 48,000 on the original estimates. This is principally due to a falling off in the sale of quinine, Rs. 40,000. The estimate is based on actuals, but it is possible that at the end of the year it will be seen that the loss is not so great as anticipated. There is a slight decrease of Rs. 8,000 under 'Emigration fees.' On the expenditure side sanctioned provision for 1909-10 was Rs. 14,05,000, and the revised estimate shows a decrease of Rs. 2,16,000. The principal items which contribute to this decrease are: experimental cultivation which accounts for Rs. 1,59,000 (of which the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay will give some explanation), veterinary and stallion charges Rs. 30,000, cinchona plantation Rs. 14,000, Botanical and public gardens Rs. 24,000, and Inspector of Factories Rs. 17,000, and Gazetteer and Statistical Memoirs Rs. 13,700.

"I take the items in connection with the budget figures for 1910-11 one by one.

"There is an increase of Rs. 1,04,000 over the revised figures for 1909 10.

"The principal items of increase is cinchona plantation. Increased sales of quinine are anticipated, the number of grains in the packet being raised from 7 to 10, and arrangements have been made for supplying the drug in tabloid form, in which it will be practically tasteless, and so it is hoped will be more generally acceptable. Steps have also been taken to increase the number of centres of distribution by enlisting the services of school masters, vaccinators and private practitioners, and it is therefore anticipated that there will be a considerable increase of revenue.

"The only other item of importance is experimental cultivation, which shows an increase of Rs. 27,000, and to this the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay will refer.

"Coming now to expenditure (Rs. 14,32,000), there is an increase of Rs. 2,43,000 over the revised figures of the current year.

"In the year 1907 a scheme for the reorganization and extension of the Veterinary service of the Province was sanctioned by the Secretary of State. The scheme provides for a large increase in the number of veterinary assistants, both stationery and peripatetic, and the charges for these will be shared between Government and the local authorities, under whom they are employed under the present system, the charges for which will be entirely provincial. The scheme will be brought into force gradually as funds permit. Some provision in furtherance of the scheme was made in the budget for 1909-10, but it continued under discussion for about a year and practically very little progress was made. It is partly on this account that there is so large a decrease in the revised figures for the current year, but there is also a large saving (Rs. 21,217) under 'Supplies and Services.' It is hoped that the scheme will now go forward.

"Out of the amount stated above, Rs. 10,000 is provided for the reorganization of the veterinary assistants' services in the coming year.

"Under the head 'Cinchona plantations' there will be an increase of Rs. 1,61,147 over the revised and Rs. 1,67,000 over the sanctioned figures for the current year. This is due to the provision of 2 lakhs as against ½ lakh for the current year for the purchase of cinchona bark. The reasons for making this largely increased provision is partly in anticipation of the increased sales of quinine, but also the fact that the supply from the Government plantations is necessarily inelastic. It takes 10 years for cinchona to mature. It is therefore proposed to purchase sufficient to provide an outturn of 40,000lbs., which will suffice for a reasonable reserve Another reason for making purchases at the present time is that the price of the raw material shows an upward tendency.

"I will refer to the item under 'Civil Works,' which is the concern of this department: this is the construction of a new bulding at Munsong at a cost of Rs. 13,000. This bungalow is required to house the officers in charge, when the plantation inspection is going on at Munsong. There is some decrease (Rs. 24,000) in the case of the Botanical gardens, etc. This is partly due to smaller expenditure on account of the Zoological Gardens.

"Last year, when the budget for the current year was under preparation, it was anticipated that the extension of the Zoological Gardens would be carried out by the purchase of the adjoining premises known as Kidderpore House, and provision of Rs. 10,000 was made for the appointment of a Superintendent of higher qualifications on higher pay. The extension of the Garden has not been found possible, and there is no present prospect of its being undertaken, and accordingly no provision has been made. A new pumping engine has to be provided for the Royal Botanical Garden at a cost of Rs. 5,600 to replace the old one which has worn out.

"There are changes of some importance in respect of the Inspector of Factories and of the Gazetteer, but I need not go beyond the explanation in the remarks column. There is an increase under 'Co-operative Credit Societies' (Rs. 42,000), as compared with the sanctioned revised figures for 1909-10. This is partly due to the fact that there were exceptional savings in 1909-10 owing to the absence of the Registrar on leave, and also for the further reason that provision is now to be made for three auditors.

"Fisheries.—During 1909-10 there was budget provision for Rs. 1,65,000 under the head '32—Miscellaneous'. Operations, however, were completed earlier than was anticipated, that is to say, the deep-sea fishery operations, and the revised estimates were only Rs. 1,14,000. The 'Golden Crown' has been sold and the post of Fishery Commissioner, which was a temporary post, will lapse, and the department will cease to exist as a separate branch of the Administration. The department in future will be carried on under the Director of Agriculture, and for the next few years will principally be confined to the investigation and improvement of freshwater fisheries, so that the provision now made is entirely for these purposes. The budget consists of Rs. 7,500 of non-recurring charges, principally with a view to the provision of fish-breeding tanks, Rs. 32,500 of recurring charges, salaries of assistants Rs. 11,400, temporary establishment Rs. 6,200, travelling allowance Rs. 6,500, contingencies and unforseen Rs. 10,000.

The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay will explain the minor head 'Experimental cultivation'."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY said:—"I have been asked by the Chief Secretary to deal with the minor head 'Experimental cultivation.' The provision made for agriculture is Rs. 3,89,000—Rs. 1,11,000 less than last year, and on the receipts side there is an estimated income from the farms of Rs. 54,000. Although the provision in the budget is for experimental cultivation, this minor head includes also the whole work of the Agricultural Department, including agricultural education.

"In any scheme of scientific agriculture there must be four stages. There is, first of all, the provision for a research station and research officers. There is next the provision of farms for experimenting with the results obtained by research. Thirdly, there is the work of demonstrating the results of experiments to the cultivators and instructing them in scientific methods; and hand in hand with these three stages is the scientific training of the expert officers to carry out the experiments, the demonstration and the instruction. These four stages are all in addition to the ordinary needs of a country for agricultural education. Agricultural education may be divided into two classes: first, an education the aim of which is to train experts, whose duty it will be to carry on scientific research and to demonstrate the results, and to educate the agricultural community; and, secondly, an education the aim of which is to train the agricultural community itself in scientific methods. For this purpose in Bengal the agriculturists are divided into two classes: the landholder, who cultivates his land by means of hired labour, and the raiyat who does the most of his cultivation by means of his own family. For the training of experts and of the landholders we require a college, and it is only by means of a college that we can train teachers who will impart instruction to the raiyat. Therefore the first necessity in any scheme for the introduction of scientific agriculture is the provision of an agricultural college.

"We have established in Bengal a research station at Sabaur, near Bhagalpur, which has a staff of expert officers who are at present engaged in scientific work. The scheme of organisation for Bengal provides for an experiment station in each of the homogeneous tracts of the Province which correspond roughly with the different Divisions. Stations have been established at Bankipore, Bhagalpur (Sabaur), Chinsura and Cuttack; but owing to the financial stringency it has not been found possible to provide money for the proposed stations at Ranchi, representative of the Chota Nagpur plateau, and at Kharagpur, representative of the laterite area.

"It is also proposed to have demonstration farms where the results of our experiments can be demonstrated at the headquarters of every district, and in time, at the headquarters of each sub-division, and to have attached to each of these stations an itinerant Inspector whose duty it will be to tour through the districts and to demonstrate scientific methods and instruct the cultivators how to carry these out. But all these schemes require funds which are not at present available, and they require more than funds—they require a staff of trained officers. Provision has already been made in the college at Sabaur for the teaching of scientific and practical agriculture. The college building is approaching completion, and it is hoped that the fittings will be completed by November and that it will be possible to commence teaching then. The professorial staff will almost entirely be supplied by the research officers and their assistants who reside at present at the college. For the first year it is not proposed to take any large number of students, probably 15 or 20 at the outside, for the research staff themselves have to gain experience in tutorial work. It is not proposed during the first year to charge any fees for the courses, but neither is it proposed to offer any large number of scholarships. It is hoped that we will be able to attract, without other inducements, except a practical agricultural training, a sufficient number of the sons of zamindars and landholders of Eastern Bengal and Bengal, and thus to be able to give a scientific training to men who are interested in agriculture for its own sake.

"These remarks practically cover the whole of the provision for agriculture in the Financial Statement. The decrease in the estimates is due to the necessity at present for expanding slowly, and also to the fact that last year's estimates included a large provision for the completion of the college at Sabaur.

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

V.—Excise.

Expenditure—

7. Excise.

He said:—"I present, Sir, the figures relating to the receipts and charges of the Excise Department. They are to be found on pages 25 and 41 of the Financial Statement. Next to the item of Land-revenue, the Excise revenue is the most important item of the Provincial resources. It was originally estimated that the total excise revenue for the current year would be 179 lakhs, but the present estimate is that it will be 167½ lakhs only. For 16 years, from 1892 to 1908, the Excise revenue rose steadily from 111 lakhs to 171 lakhs, and in recent years there was an annual increase of about 8 lakhs. Last year, however, there was a check of the increase of the Excise revenue which fell short of that of the preceding year by about ¾ of a lakh. This check was principally due to scarcity and high prices, to the failure of the mahua crop and to dull markets in lac, coal and mica which decreased the consumption of country spirits, but it was also partly caused by the reduction of license-fees in the Bhagalpur Division, consequent on the substitution of the contract distillery system for the system of outstills.

"The high prices of food-grains have continued to operate during the present year, and other causes have led to a further decrease of revenue in the current year, viz., the restrictions made in the issue of opium with the object of checking the smuggling to Burma and the abolition of the outstills in the greater part of the Patna and Tirhut Divisions, which will have effect from the 1st April next, and which has resulted in a large decrease of the advance fees paid for licenses.

"Down to the end of January the receipts for the current year were 2½ lakhs behind those of the preceding year. Although there has been a decreased consumption of country spirits in Calcutta in the last two years, there has been an increase of about 1 lakh in the license fees of country spirit shops just settled in Calcutta, and there has been a similar increase in some of the Bengal districts which, however, is more than counterbalanced by the large decrease in the license fees settled in Bihar.

"The estimate made of receipts for 1910-11 is 170½ lakhs, including half a lakh of additional taxation on Indian liquor passed at the tariff rate. As it may be anticipated that the loss under the head of 'License fees' in the current year will be counterbalanced by receipts next year under the head of 'Duty', the estimate for next year appears to be reasonable and perhaps moderate in view of the better harvests. Of the total revenue of 170 lakhs, 90 lakhs, or more than half, come from country spirits, nearly 30 lakhs from ganja, 27 lakhs from opium, 12 from tari, 6 from pachwai and 4¾ from license fees for selling foreign liquors and duty on Indian-made liquors excised at tariff rates.

"Hon'ble members will remember that these figures do not include about 30 lakhs of import duty on foreign liquors collected under the head of 'Customs revenue' which will be much increased next year on account of the increased tariff.

"Of the total excise revenue of 170½ lakhs, the provincial share is one-half or 85¼ lakhs.

"I turn to the expenditure figures. The expenditure for next year is estimated as 8¾ lakhs, half of which is provincial. The increase of expenditure in recent years is due partly to improvement of the pay of the permanent establishment and to better allowances sanctioned for Deputy Collectors, but is chiefly due to the employment of additional temporary establishment which will eventually have to be made permanent in districts in which the contract distillery system has been introduced, and to the construction of a number of warehouses in connection with the system. A similar increase of expenditure is contemplated in 1910-11 in consequence of the extension of the district distillery system in Bihar, and there is an additional item of Rs 6,090 on account of the pay of the distillery expert whose services are shared between Bengal and the eastern provinces. Reference is made to this special item of expenditure on page 69 of the Financial Statement."

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON also introduced the following head :—

Expenditure—

6. Stamps.

He said :—"I introduce Sir, the figures relating to expenditure under the head 'Stamps.' They are to be found on page 40 of the Financial Statement. It will be observed that it is estimated that the expenditure of next year will be Rs. 5,04,000, against Rs. 4,70,000, the revised estimate for the current year. The difference is chiefly in regard to discount and the cost of stamp paper. Half of this expenditure is Imperial and half is Provincial."

The Hon'ble MR. W. C. MACPHERSON also introduced the following head:—

Expenditure—

10. Assessed Taxes.

He said:—"I present the figures relating to assessed taxes, that is, Income-tax. They are to be found on page 42 of the Financial Statement which shows charges of Rs. 1,63,000 for next year against Rs. 1,55,000 for this year. These charges, too, are half Imperial and half Provincial. There is nothing special in the figures to which I need draw attention."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY introduced the following head:—

Expenditure—

19A. Courts of Law.

He said:—"It falls to me to lay before the Council the principal features of the Financial Statement so far as it concerns the Courts of law. The minor heads of expenditure will be found on pages 46 and 47 of the Financial Statement. There is a net increase of 3·37 lakhs in expenditure. The estimate amounts to 82½ lakhs, of which the High Court accounts for 14½ (an increase of ·45), law officers 5 lakhs (an increase of ·42), Civil and Sessions Courts 35 lakhs (an increase of 1·54), and Criminal Courts 24 lakhs (an increase of 2·40). Out of the gross increase (which amounts to 4·78 lakhs), 3 lakhs is due to the provision for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers in Civil and Criminal Courts. This is to give effect to the recommendation of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee. The scheme has been sanctioned by the Secretary of State, and will take effect from the 23rd of May, 1909. A portion of the cost of the scheme has already been provided for by the grant of personal allowances: of the remainder of the cost, the arrears of 1909-10 are estimated at one lakh, and the total cost for 1909-10 at two lakhs.

"Under the minor head which provides for the High Court, there are but two items which appear to call for special notice,—the first is the provision for a Registrar of Insolvency and the revision of the establishment of the Insolvency Court. On the 1st of January, 1910, the new Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, III of 1909, came into force. The new Act and the new rules introduced changes of procedure and practice which added considerably to the work done by the Insolvent Court under the old Act, and the delegation of some of the powers of the Court necessitated additions to the present staff. Accordingly the appointment of a Registrar on a salary of Rs. 1,500 to Rs. 1,800 per mensem and of a chief clerk has been created. The other item is the provision of Rs. 5,500 for the establishment of the fifteenth Judge recently added to the High Court.

"The next minor head provides for the law officers of the Crown. Under this there is a provision of Rs. 16,320 for the Lady Adviser to the pardanashin proprietors under the Court of Wards. The Lady Adviser was appointed in 1904 on a retaining fee to advise pardanashin ladies, and the work done by her has been so much appreciated that it is now proposed to make the post permanent and pensionable. The charge has hitherto been paid directly by the estates concerned, but now appears in the budget for the first time. It is not in reality an additional item of expenditure, since the charge will still be met from the recoveries from private estates, which will be credited under provincial rates, and one quarter of the charge will be recovered from the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam.

"A provision of Rs. 5,000 has been made for the fees for the defence of paupers in murder cases. This requires few words from me to commend it. The object is to provide, at the expense of the State, proper legal advice to men accused of murder who have not the means to procure it for themselves.

"Under the minor heads 'Civil and Sessions Courts' the principal new item is a provision of Rs. 53,000 for the salary and establishment of the recently-created post of District and Sessions Judge of Manbhum-Sambalpur. When the district of Sambalpur came over to Bengal in 1905 it was attached to the Judgeship of Cuttack. But it was neither in the interests of efficiency or economy that the Judge or the parties should be compelled to make a journey occupying from 24 to 36 hours before the judicial work could be disposed of. It had also long been felt necessary to relieve the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur and the District and Sessions Judge of Bankura of some of the work which they were called upon to perform. The Sessions Judge of Bankura formerly heard the sessions cases of Singhbhum and Manbhum at Purulia, and the other work of these two districts was performed by the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur. By the creation of the new Manbhum-Sambalpur Judgeship all these difficulties have been solved. The Judge has his headquarters at Purulia, but will spend one month in every quarter in the district of Sambalpur.

"The fire which took place in the Civil Court at Chapra brought to light the necessity for providing Civil Courts with fire-extinguishing appliances. Accordingly a sum of Rs. 10,000 has been provided for supplying buckets and fire grenades, etc., to 120 Civil Court buildings in the Province.

"Another important item which comes under the minor head of 'Criminal Courts' is a provision of Rs. 12,090 for establishment in the Courts of Honorary Magistrates. In the past it has been the custom, in many cases, for a clerk of the regular establishment to undertake the Bench work in return for a small extra allowance; but it was felt that Honorary Magistrates who give their work for nothing were entitled to a proper establishment, and that the work ought to be done by the regular establishment of the office as part of their regular duties. This has, in many cases, entailed the addition of an extra clerk to the local staff. A sum of Rs. 10,626 is provided to meet the cost of the extra establishment sanctioned in 1909-10, and the balance is for additional requirements which may be sanctioned during 1910-11.

"The increase of Rs. 21,000 in the provision for process-serving establishment of Criminal establishment is apparent rather than real. Formerly two-thirds of the cost of the process-serving establishment was debited to Land-revenue and one-third to the head 'Law and Justice.' To simplify accounts, the procedure followed in allocating the cost of the staff, employed partly in revenue work and partly in criminal work, has been followed and half debited to each department.

"The amount of money available for new works is very limited, but it has been found possible to provide money for three urgent projects. The first of these is the building of a new record-room for the District and Sessions Judge at Purnea. The congested state of the Purnea Judge's record-room was brought to notice by the High Court as far back as 1905, and the provision of extra accommodation has become an urgent necessity. The project provides for a centre room with two wings, and it is proposed to build the centre room and one wing at present. The second project is the extension of the present Civil Court buildings at Khulna at an estimated cost of Rs. 65,000. Since the new Judgeship was created in 1908, the judicial staff have had to work for the greater portion of the year in tents, and when these became uninhabitable they found accommodation in the verandahs of the old Court building. The provision of a proper Court for the new Judge is a matter of urgency. The old Cuttack Civil Court building dates from 1811, and the original rooms in which the Court was held in those days have been gradually enlarged by breaking down the walls, building up verandahs and making additions which have rendered the main Court-rooms almost uninhabitable. The new Civil Court, which is estimated to cost 1½ lakhs and for which a sum of Rs. 52,617 is provided in the estimates for 1910-11, will be situated near the Revenue Court buildings and close to the Commissioner's house on the banks of the river, and I am sure that the Hon'ble Members who represent the Orissa Division will welcome this improvement of their capital."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI, with the leave of the President, withdrew the following Resolutions of which he had given notice:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that provision be made in the Budget for an additional sum of Rs. 50,000, under the heading 'Courts of Law,' for improvement of the status and prospects of the Provincial Judicial Service of Bengal on the following lines and in the following manner, or such other lines and manner as may commend themselves to the Government:—

(a) By creating a new grade of Rs. 500 for Munsifs who exercise jurisdiction up to Rs. 2,000, or by providing for a personal allowance of Rs. 100 each for officers exercising such jurisdiction.

(b) By raising the pay of the lowest grade of Subordinate Judges to Rs. 700, or, in the alternative, by reducing the number of Subordinate Judges in the lowest grade on the existing pay from 25 to 15, and proportionately increasing the number in higher grades.

(c) By providing for the grant of privilege leave on full pay, by allowing privilege leave to be added to the Puja vacation, by allowing reasonable joining time when officers are transferred during short vacations, by providing for officers' quarters where none exist, and by reducing the rent where quarters have been provided, by increasing the numerical strength of the service, by providing for employment of a larger number of Subordinate Judges as District and Additional Sessions Judges and Assistant Sessions Judges, who should be allowed to draw two thirds of the salary drawn by members of the Indian Civil Service holding similar appointments, and by providing for special pensions in the case of meritorious officers earning the prize appointments of their service.

"The Council further recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the 'Grants placed at the disposal of Divisional Commissioners for petty local works of improvement' be reduced by Rs. 50,000."

He said:—"As your Honour has just pointed out, under the new rules a general discussion as to matters arising out of the Financial Statement is at this stage not permissible, and we are much obliged for the latitude just accorded for the time being. I, therefore, crave permission to say a few words by way of explaining my reasons for giving notice of the Resolution which stands in my name. I desire in the first instance to express our great obligation for facilities provided for discussing and proposing alterations of the items in the Financial Statements under those rules, which your Honour has been largely instrumental in securing for us. In the second place, I desire to congratulate your Honour and your Honour's Government on securing favourable terms from the Government of India and making the best of the available resources, which has made a financial equilibrium of the Province possible. Last year I had occasion pointedly to take exception to the inclusion of the fifty lakhs of rupees earmarked for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme in our apparent working balance, which I claimed was purely trust money, in no way available for the current Provincial purposes, and therefore forming no part of the working balance, and my view did not quite commend itself to the Hon'ble Mr. Oldham, then in charge of the Financial portfolio. But there has since been a change of view in the Financial Secretariat regarding this matter, and our present Finance Member has been pleased to state in his informing note on the Financial Statement now before the Council, on the vigour and clearness of which I desire to congratulate him, that 'our balances are at present swollen fictitiously by the inclusion of the sums' which I mention. We fully and cordially share the views of your Honour and your Honour's Government about the doubly regrettable need of spending large sums of money on the imperatively urgent work of stamping out disorder and lawlessness, the penalty for which has to be paid by the country at large in the shape of straitened Educational, Sanitary, Public Works and Judicial Departments. We rejoice and are thankful that in spite of depleted balances and limited resources it has been possible to make increased educational, medical and sanitary grants and grants for the long-needed bettering of the medical service and the ministerial department of our law courts and Secretariats, all which spell increased administrative efficiency. Many of the matters that I and my colleagues on the old Council have been pressing on your Honour and your Honour's predecessor during the last few years have thus received attention, and if all have not been dealt with to the full measure of our expectation, it is not because of want of sympathy or willingness to assist on the part of Government, but of want of its resources.

"Those of us that have not been members of the Finance Committee brought into existence under the new rules have not had time enough to go into the details of Financial Statement with sufficient care so as to be able to formulate considered suggestions in time and submit notes that would be of use to the officers concerned in the different departments. This will account for the hurried character of some of the suggestions and recommendations made, and probably for the embarrassing position in which I find myself today in being singularly isolated as a proposer of propositions that under the circumstances stand little chance of being carried. Though we are not free to criticise these rules now, and here, I crave your Honour's permission to bring this to your Honour's notice incidentally so that your Honour may be pleased to consider whether some relief in this direction is not desirable and possible, for example, by allowing more time for examination of the details and by making the papers available during the committee stage to those that do not happen to be members of the Finance Committee, so that their study of the figures and suggestions relating thereto may proceed simultaneously with those of the members of the Committee and be more deliberate.

"One of the outstanding suggestions of the previous years which has not received attention apparently is the proposed improvement of the Judicial service. I called attention to it last year and the year previous, both in connection with the Budget debate and also in separate notes addressed to the Judicial Secretary. I shall not now go over these grounds, but would ask Your Honour's permission to withdraw the Resolution of which I have given notice. Having regard to the fact that no scheme has yet been formulated, though many may have long been under consideration in some shape or another, the interests of the service, which we have all at heart, would probably be best served by not pressing the Resolution now and in connexion with a framed Budget. After the repeated assurances of sympathy given on behalf of Government by the Hon'ble Mr. Gait, the Hon'ble Mr. Streatfeild and the Hon'ble Mr. Richardson,—whom we are glad to have once more in our midst, and who will now be transferred to a higher sphere, where he will be better able to translate his sympathy into solid demonstration,—every one believes and hopes that the improvement of the service is engaging the anxious care of the Government. Till, however, the full scheme is ready and sanctioned, little useful purpose will be served by securing a budget grant, even if the Council agrees to my Resolution and the President accepts it. I, therefore, ask permission, Sir, to withdraw the Resolution.

"And under the ordinance of grace which Your Honour has just been pleased to pronounce with regard to the order of the debate of the day, I would ask Your Honour's permission to draw the attention of the Council to two matters my Resolutions regarding which had to be disallowed because I could not sufficiently indicate the sources from which the proposed grant should be made. I do not know whether I am at liberty to do so."

THE PRESIDENT said:—"I am afraid the Hon'ble Member would not be in order in making any reference to Resolutions which have been ruled out of order. But if he can frame his remarks in such a way as not to conflict with the rules, I am sure the Council will be pleased to hear him.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"Sir, the most important of these Resolutions relates to the strengthening of the office establishment of the Original Side of the High Court. The ministerial departments of the Lower Courts and of the Appellate Side of the High Court have received a welcome and necessary accession of strength. The Deputy Registrar of the Appellate Side has been given an allowance, the Private Secretary of the Hon'ble the Chief Justice, figuring in the Budget as the Chief Justice's clerk, has also been given an allowance, and there has been other necessary increase in the Appellate Side of which we are glad. The Original Side offices, however, have been long neglected, though in the place of one Court for which they were originally constituted and meant, they have to deal with the work of three Courts, and the work is steadily on the increase. I pressed this matter on the attention of the Council last year and in the year previous, and do not now wish to go into details. If a scheme for the strengthening of this department has not been already drawn up, it ought not to be longer delayed.

"As I was listening to the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay explaining the necessity of making Purulia a full district, there appeared to me to be a peculiar fitness of things in this honour being conferred on the district during the regime of a Lieutenant-Governor who did so much for that district, for which he has so kindly feelings and associations and with which his early career was closely identified. In going to Purulia recently, Your Honour may have seen the new Court-house at Asansole which requires many conveniences for litigants and the profession. The public is in no way reconciled to the transfer of the Courts from Ranigunge, and the best way of popularising the Courts would be not to let these inconveniences continue. A small sum of three or four thousand would re-excavate the tanks in the Court compound, supply the necessary sheds and conveniences for the public and the profession, and otherwise improve the arrangements. If I am permitted to bring to the notice of this Council the present needs of these Courts, it may be that the department concerned will be able to take action on it, whether a Resolution on the subject is passed or not, and I ask for such permission. I am glad and grateful, Sir, that my pressing request last year,—a request that I ventured to make even in the presence of the Hon'ble Mr. Das,—for reconstruction of the Cuttack Courts, the deplorable condition of which could not possibly fail to strike all who had occasion to go near them, has at last borne fruit, and Orissa ought to rejoice that its capital will soon have fitting Civil Court buildings. There has been considerable accession of strength all round, and we have every reason to be grateful. I am afraid that the suggestions that I wanted to make to-day for improvement of the Judicial Service may not find present acceptance, and I hope that, by withdrawing the Resolutions now, Sir, I shall have not only the assent of this Council, but also their acceptance at the hands of Government when I next move them on an early occasion and in another shape."

"The Hon'ble BABU BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN said:—"With Your Honour's permission, I wish to make a few remarks. I gave notice of a Resolution which unfortunately through oversight did not provide a counterbalancing decrease in other items. I received a copy of the Financial Statement on the 6th instant, and I did not send out my notice on the 7th. Of course, through inadvertence for my not having as yet studied the rules carefully, I made an oversight, and Your Honour was perfectly justified in disallowing the Resolution, which did not suggest the resources from which the excess amount might be recruited. I am glad, however, to find that my hon'ble colleague, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, did give notice of a Resolution for the improvement of the prospects of the members of the Provincial Judicial Service in Bengal. Now I am glad that Your Honour has given me an opportunity to say a few words in regard to it.

"In April, 1908, Mr. Streatfeild, the then Judicial Secretary to the Government of Bengal, observed:—'The Government is fully aware that the officers of this service have genuine grievances; their cases are receiving consideration; and any reasonable proposal for the removal of hardships will always receive sympathetic consideration.'

"These Judicial officers are hardworked, and in my humble opinion, they are not properly paid. I intended to suggest that special provision might be made for a certain sum of money so that steps might be taken in future for the improvement of the pay and prospects of these officers. There are now 176 Munsifs in the cadre. Of these, 25 are doing the work of Subordinate Judges. They have been invested with powers to decide cases over Rs. 1,000 and below Rs. 2 000, so that practically they are doing Subordinate Judge's work If that work had to be done by Subordinate Judges, there would have been required at least six Subordinate Judges. These Munsifs work as Munsifs and partially as Subordinate Judges, and they receive no remuneration whatsoever for this. It is but just that they should be given some remuneration for this work. What I intended to suggest, and what was in fact suggested by my hon'ble colleague, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, is that there should be a grade of Rs. 500 for Munsifs. If there be a grade of Rs. 500, and if 25 Munsifs be raised to that grade, that would give an increase of Rs. 2,500 per mensem, or Rs. 30,000 annually. Similarly with regard to Subordinate Judges, as matters at present stand, no officer can be made a Subordinate Judge until he has served for at least 23 years, and a Munsif cannot be made permanent until he attains the age of 23 years under the existing rules; so that by the time an officer becomes a permanent Subordinate Judge he attains the age of 52. He has therefore very little chance to reach the first grade of Subordinate Judges on Rs. 1,000. It is highly desirable that the pay of the lowest grade of Subordinate Judges should be raised to Rs. 700 instead of Rs. 600, so that they might reap the benefits of the valuable services they render to Government. With these remarks, I beg to submit that I would have supported my hon'ble friend, Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, if he had moved his Resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY said:—"Every service is capable of improvement, from the highest to the lowest, and the members of every service are naturally anxious for the improvement of their pay and prospects; but there must be some general principles upon which such a question can be considered. When a new service is created the point for consideration is, first, the class of man who is required, and then the terms upon which such men can be recruited.

"When the question arises of the improvement of the terms of the service, the improvement is usually advocated on one of two grounds: either the service has deteriorated and it is necessary to offer better terms in order to stimulate recruitment, or the terms of similar services have for other reasons gradually improved, and it is desirable to allay discontent by bringing the prospects of one service to the level of the other.

"It has not been suggested, I understand, that our present Provincial Judicial Service has deteriorated, and it is on the second ground that the improvement is advocated. The comparison is naturally made with what may be called the sister service, the Provincial Executive Service, and I shall examine shortly some points which have been suggested in this comparison.

"The first point in any service which attracts notice is the pay and prospects of the officers who join, and it has been suggested that the pay and prospects in the Judicial Service are not as good as those in the Provincial Executive Service The actuarial calculation of the value of pay and prospects of different periods of a man's service is very difficult, but there is a rough and ready method which gives sufficiently accurate results for all practical purposes, and that is by dividing the total of the salaries of all the officers in the service by the number of officers. We thus get a figure which represents the average pay of an officer in the service. If this calculation be made, it will be found that the average pay of the 353 officers in the different grades of the Provincial Executive Service is Rs. 370 per mensem, while the average pay of the 208 officers in the seven grades of the Judicial service is Rs 375 per mensem. It would, therefore, appear that the Judicial officer has a slight advantage.

"It is quite true that the Judicial service has only three grades above Rs. 400, while the Provincial service has four, but 18 per cent. of the officers of the Judicial service draw pay of Rs. 600 or over, while only 9 per cent. of the Provincial service draw Rs. 600 or over. If we go higher the distinction is still more marked, for less than 2 per cent. of the Executive officers draw a salary of Rs. 800, while 7 per cent. of the Judicial officers draw Rs. 800, 2½ per cent. of whom are in a grade of Rs. 1,000. The highest grade to which an Executive officer can rise is Rs. 800.

"The fact of the matter is that the promotion of the officers of the Judicial service in their earlier years is not so good as that in the Executive service; but the Judicial officers have prospects in their later years far superior to the Executive officers.

"There is another matter too. The prizes of the two services are the listed appointments,—appointments ordinarily held by members of the Civil Service to which the Provincial Service are promoted. At the present time there are seven such appointments: three of them are held by Executive officers and four by Judicial officers, and the chances of a Judicial officer obtaining such an appointment are 2½ times as great as those of an Executive officer. Executive officers have sometimes the chances of such appointments as the Inspector-Generalship of Registration, but the prospects of such appointments are more than counterbalanced by the higher grades of pay in the listed appointments open to the Judicial officers.

"If the comparison be made with the Eastern Bengal and Assam Judicial Service as at present constituted, the calculations show the superiority of the Bengal service. The rough and ready method gives an average pay of Rs. 369, including the new grade on Rs. 500. The percentage of Subordinate Judges to Munsifs is less than in Bengal, and I think if the members of the Eastern Bengal and Assam service were given the opportunity, they would elect for service in Bengal."

"The next point of importance in a service is the amount of leave to which an officer is entitled. If the officers of the Provincial Executive Service were consulted, I think they would be unanimous in thinking that the advantage in the matter of leave rests with the Judicial We will exclude Sundays from our calculation. The Judicial officers have 97 holidays in the year, including a vacation extending to 33 days, while the Executive officers have only 37 holidays, and it must be remembered that while the Judicial officer is usually free from care on his holidays, the duties of the Executive officer very often monopolise most of his time. An Executive officer qualifies for one month's privilege leave on full pay every year, but the exigencies of the services very often interfere with the privilege; on the other hand, a Judicial officer has a vacation on full pay extending to 33 days with which nothing interferes, and in addition to this he qualifies for one month's privilege leave on half pay in cases of emergency. So far as leave is concerned, therefore, the Judicial service certainly has the advantage.

"The rules for joining time are the same for all services, but joining time cannot be regarded as leave on full pay to which an officer is entitled. It is the amount of leave which is ordinarily required to make arrangements and to travel from one point to another. It seldom happens that an officer has no previous warning of his transfer, but where the transfer involves the up-rooting of an officer's home, he is expected to commence making his arrangements before the day he hands over charge of his duties.

"The question of the provision by Government for quarters for its officers is a very large one. Only one class of officer in these two services, so far as I am aware, is entitled to free quarters, and that is the Subdivisional officer. There are at present about 47 members of the Provincial Executive Service who are in charge of subdivisions, and in respect of quarters all the other members of both services are on an equality. I do not think that the fact that 47 of the officers out of the total of 353 are provided with free quarters can be considered to out-balance the other advantages of the members of the Provincial Judicial service, and to counterbalance this advantage, it must be remembered that these 47 officers are continually on duty, and that they are very seldom able to avail themselves even of the ordinary executive holidays.

"There are one or two other minor points to which reference has been made. It has, for example, been suggested that Subordinate Judges and Munsifs should be authorised to appoint the ministerial officers of their own Courts, but I do not think that in this respect the members of the Judicial service are worse off than their brethren in the Executive service.

"Finally, I would remind the Hon'ble Member that quite lately a very great concession was made to the Judicial service. Last year sanction was obtained permitting Munsifs to count towards pension the officiating period of their service. This concession has, I believe, been very greatly appreciated by all the members of the service.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"With Your Honour's permission I wish to say a few words with reference to what has fallen from my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Gourlay. He said that in case of appointments from Rs. 600 and upwards, the percentage in the Judicial service is 18 and upwards, and in the case of Executive officers the percentage is 9. Would he kindly enlighten us as to what the percentage is above the grade of Rs. 400? As my Hon'ble friend Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen has pointed out, Judicial officers do not get into the grade of Rs. 600 until they are on the verge of extinction, i.e., when they are 52 years old, and then from the age of 52 to 55 years there is a regular rush through these three grades. Like the pictures on the canvas which some of my friends may have witnessed on the maidan bioscopes they come and go. They rise to the posts of Subordinate Judges at 52, and if they live up to the age of 55, they run through these three grades, and then they go out. So that it is not by the higher grades that the prospects in the service are to be judged. I believe, and the general impression is, that it is difficult for these men in the Judicial service, after they come into the grade of Rs. 400, to get to the higher grades, and when they get to the higher grades it is of little use to them. We do not wish that the members of the Executive service should be deprived of any privileges or advantages that they enjoy in reference to the members of the Judicial service. All that we press for is that some consideration ought to be shown for the members of the Judicial service also. My Hon'ble friend will not forget that the members of the Executive service have, besides their pay, travelling allowances. They have to go out on tour and thus relieve themselves of the monotony of Judicial work at head-quarters; whereas these Munsifs and Subordinate Judges are held down to their desks year in and year out, and upon these desks they wear their lives away.

"As regards leave, my Hon'ble friend forgets that because these unhappy officers have these thirty-three days which they can avail of, a great distinction is made and half their pay is cut. Judicial officers do not get the full pay of their post when they take privilege leave; whereas Executive officers get full pay. As regards the necessity of some leave occasionally to Judicial officers, my Hon'ble friend is probably not unaware that a very high Judicial authority once said that judicial notice might be taken of the fact that all our Judicial officers or most of them were subject to that fell disease of the tropics -diabetes, and they are compelled to take leave oftener than the Executive officers are. In calling the attention of the Council to the grievances of the Judicial servants, I do not by any means wish to suggest that there should be any curtailment of the privileges and advantages of the members of the Executive service, but all that we wish is that their lot and position may receive more careful consideration at the hands of the Government."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XVII—Police.

Expenditure—

20. Police.

He said :—"I have now, Sir, to introduce the figures relating to the Police Budget. They appear as head No. XVII, on the receipt side, page 29. There is very little on the receipt side that calls for observation.

"The sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 1,45,000. The estimate revised stands at Rs. 1,89,000, and the estimate for 1910-11 amounts to Rs. 1,67,000. Practically the whole of this may be accounted for by the extent to which preventive police have had to be appointed. They have been appointed in rather large numbers during the current year, and it was estimated that in the coming year a more restricted use of this measure will suffice.

"I turn now to the expenditure side, page 49. The first point to which I will draw attention is that the Budget for 1909-10 provided for an increase of 3½ lakhs (Rs. 83,78,000 as against Rs. 80,26,000) over the actuals for 1908-09, so that in fact the revised estimate for 1909-10 falls somewhat short of the previous year's actuals.

"The decrease in the revised figures is due to decreases under the heads District, Village, Special and Railway Police, and to a very great extent it is due to savings in the grant for grain and conveyance allowances, savings in constables' pay owing to the force not being up to establishment, and to the failure to entertain additional Railway Police up to the numbers budgeted, and also to considerable savings under contingencies. The decreases extend to Rs. 4,63,000 under the head District force, Rs. 4,000 for Village Police, Rs. 2,000 for Special Police, and Rs. 33,000 for Railway Police. Against this, there is an increase under Presidency Police and Superintendence, and under the Criminal Investigation Department, which comes to Rs. 1,29,000. Altogether the Presidency Police accounts for Rs. 51,000, that for Superintendence Rs. 17,000, and that for the Criminal Investigation Department Rs. 61,000, so that the result is a net decrease of Rs. 3,72,000. These fluctuations will be explained in more detail under their respective heads, except as regards the Presidency Police; any explanation for which that may be required will be given by the Hon'ble Mr. Halliday.

"The Criminal Investigation Department has had to be reorganised and expanded to meet changing circumstances: many officers have had to be added to it, and there has been for some years a steady increase of expenditure under this head.

"The reasons for this are well understood by the Hon'ble Members, and I need not go into details. It is enough to say that the necessity is on the Government to make adequate provision in this direction.

"I will take now the remaining heads in order. The charge under Superintendence requires very little consideration: the charge amounts simply to the provision for the Inspector-General and Deputy Inspector-Generals and their establishment, and I can say no more than appears in the remarks column.

"We come to the principal head—the District Police Force, under which are grouped the charges on account of the main body of the Provincial Police. The figures are large: the force we are dealing with consists of over 22,000 men, and therefore I am not going to take you into details. The decrease in the revised figures for 1909-10 was Rs. 4,63,000, which is to be attributed to savings under Grain compensation allowance, which was not less than Rs. 2,20,000, and to the fact that the lump grant of Rs. 2,65,000, which had been provided for carrying out reorganisation, that is to say, that the general improvement of the Police recommended by the Police Commission had to be hypothecated to meet charges of the Criminal Investigation Department, except that portion of it which was assigned for the improvement of the Beat Police in Calcutta. Under Salaries—Gazetted Officers, the increase of Rs. 20,000 is due to the strengthening of the force by recruitment under the orders of the Secretary of State, and these appointments were necessary in order to bring the number up to the strength prescribed by the Police Commission. The total cost under that head for 1910-11 is Rs. 21,600, and provision has also been made for six Deputy Superintendents at a cost of Rs. 4,800. As regards the rank and file, a very important item is an increment of Re. 1 per month to 9,580 constables, which we are pledged to give in order to carry out the recommendations of the Police Commission regarding the better payment of the force. The amount to be paid to the constables will account for Rs. 88,650 out of the total increase under this head. This increment has been long overdue: it was to be made in 1909-10 out of the lump provision for Police reforms, had not more urgent requirements intervened. The further postponement of the increment would be a breach of faith; and as recruiting for the force is none too easy in spite of the improvements for the last few years, the charge is urgent.

"A provision of some importance is that for 30 more Sub-Inspectors in furtherance of the scheme for the better efficiency of the force, and that will leave 30 more Sub-Inspectors to be added to complete the establishment. Two more armed Inspectors are required for Jessore and Angul to bring up the armed force to the full establishment. The decrease of Rs. 4,000 in training schools is due to the transfer of 3 Sub-Inspectors and 14 head-constables from training schools to the District Police. The training school establishment had to be increased with reference to the accelerated recruitment which followed and the adoption of the Commission's proposals. A large number of men were taken in each year, and now that enlistment has gone back to its normal rate, the excessive training staff no longer required in the school has been reduced. Under this head a provision of Rs. 6,000 appears for the management of the Doranda Cantonment at Ranchi, which has been taken over entirely by the Police Department. We are fortunate this year in being able to estimate for a decrease of Rs. 1,74,000 on account of grain compensation allowance, which has fallen very heavily upon us for a number of years.

"Supplies and Services is an important head under which there is an increase of a lakh. The principal item is the provision of two lakhs for petty construction and repairs, as against one and-a-half lakhs for last year. A great part of this sum is required for the provision of quarters for Sub-Inspectors. Every Sub-Inspector ought to have free quarters, but at present, out of the total number of 1,525 Sub-Inspectors, 500 still need to be provided with quarters, and that results in our having to pay out large sums as house-rent.

"Out of the figure provided this year for contingencies, no less than Rs. 40,000 is intended to pay house-rent for Sub-Inspectors. This is bad finance, and only excused by the stringency of the last few years. We have to make provision for housing of the 30 additional Sub-Inspectors to be entertained during the year. This will cost Rs. 33,000, and is provided for under petty construction and repairs. We have also to provide for the housing of the constables who are everywhere replacing the town chaukidars. Outside petty construction and repairs, the principal item under Supplies and Services is Rs. 58,500 to provide a serviceable steam-launch, which is urgently required in the 24-Parganas. The launch at present used is unserviceable and incapable of going into big rivers. For a long time the 24-Parganas had no launch, and great inconvenience has been felt. The launches formerly used have more than once been swamped and officers placed in great danger. At the present moment it has been possible to provide temporarily for a launch fit for the work. This will have to be withdrawn for other work, and therefore provision has to be made for a new launch.

"Contingencies have been kept very low during the current year, and the only point of importance in connection with them is the house-rent of Sub-Inspectors.

"Before leaving the Police Budget proper, I desire to give you a collected view of those fresh items of expenditure to be incurred in furtherance of the reforms recommended by the Police Commission. The total cost of these reforms spread over a considerable number of years is estimated at Rs. 32,42,400 for recurring and Rs. 21,44,000 for non-recurring charges. Out of these total figures, the following charges will still remain to be provided for in the year 1910-11 and in succeeding years, that is, Rs. 9,23,622 and Rs. 14,25,322 respectively. The difference between these and the total sum has already been provided. It will be observed therefore that a great deal of ground has to be made up before the Police Force can be brought up to the point of efficiency required by the Commission. In the original budget estimate for this year it is not possible, owing to financial stringency, to provide any very large sums towards these reforms, and the provision actually made on this account will be found included in the second statement on page 13.

"The principal items are the appointments of Assistant Superintendents (Rs. 21,600), and house allowance for Sub-Inspectors (Rs. 40,000).

"Subsequently, at a later stage in the preparation of the Financial Statement, the Government of India found it possible to allot a further assignment on this account.

"The sum granted last year was fourteen and-a half lakhs. This will be repeated for 1910-11, and the whole of it goes to schemes already initiated. But in addition to this the Government of India has now granted us Rs. 3,17,000, and that makes the grant up to the maximum limit they have undertaken to give for the furtherance of the Police reform. The Finance Committee had accordingly to decide what further expenditure should be incurred against this additional assignment, and the items selected are shown in the first statement on page 13. The amount allotted for the Mufassil Police, excluding Calcutta, is Rs. 2,07,260. The Government of India in making the grant of Rs. 3,17,000 had in view the extreme financial stringency prevailing in the Province, otherwise they probably would not have granted the whole remaining portion of the contribution within one year, and in doing so they did not insist that the whole amount should be spent in reforms immediately, and accordingly a portion of the amount has been diverted to other urgent administrative needs, and the Police Department in future years will have a claim to have that sum again reimbursed. The only other points to which I need refer are the few schemes for the improvement of Police buildings which principally concern the Police Department. They appear at the middle of page 17, and I think they hardly call for any remarks: it need only be said that the accommodation in the Police barracks at Khulna is totally inadequate, and a new barrack has to be provided, and as for the other schemes, they are simply the reconstruction of already existing buildings, which are dilapidated and insanitary.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Halliday will give the explanation necessary regarding them."

The Hon'ble MR. HALLIDAY said:—"There are only a few items in connection with the Presidency Police on which I may offer a few explanatory remarks.

"The first of these will be found on page 5 of the draft Financial Statement.

"A small sum of Rs. 1,800 is provided. This is to complete the grades of Inspectors as sanctioned by the Secretary of State.

"Another item, Rs 34,640, has been provided for the improvement of the beat system for Calcutta and the Suburbs of Calcutta. This system was sanctioned by the Secretary of State on the 20th September, 1908, on the recommendation of the Police Commission. It was partially introduced in the 3rd Division of the Town and in the Southern Division of the Suburbs of Calcutta last year at the cost of Rs. 37,568, and the sum now allotted will enable the system to be introduced throughout the remaining portion of the Town and in the Northern Division Suburbs.

"Shortly described, the system increases the number of constables in the Northern and Southern Suburbs of Calcutta, the Police Force for which has remained stationary since the year 1887, that is, for the past 22 years.

"The rapid growth of the Town and the urban character that the Suburbs are now assuming is likely to be intensified on the introduction of the Calcutta Improvement Scheme.

"The improved beat system ensures that each squad of Police placed on beat duty is under the direct supervision of a Head Constable who marches the squad out, remains with it throughout its term of duty, and returns with it to the Police-station, where he makes his report to the responsible officer.

"The system also provides for the greater amelioration in the conditions of service for constables, as it provides that every constable after two nights on duty on the streets will be allowed a night in bed.

"Another item is Rs. 21,000 for the appointment of two Additional Deputy Commissioners for Calcutta sanctioned by the Secretary of State on the recommendation of the Police Commission; the division of Calcutta into four districts under officers of the rank of Deputy Commissioners of Police in place of five divisions under officers of the rank of Superintendent of the Calcutta Police. This disposition is being gradually effected, as officers of the requisite rank are made available for duty in Calcutta. The two Deputy Commissioners mentioned on page 13 have been appointed in accordance with the orders of the Government of India in place of two Superintendents retired.

"A further sum of Rs. 10,000 is for married European Sergeants.

"At present only fifteen married European Sergeants of Police in Calcutta are granted house allowance. As the number of married men is always greater than this figure, it has been decided to raise the number of house allowances to 30, the total force being 100.

"The house allowance previously granted was Rs. 40 a month. It was found that decent accommodation could not be procured within a reasonable distance from head-quarters for this sum. It has therefore been decided to increase the allowance to Rs. 50 a month, and it is hoped that for this figure it will be possible to induce some private person to build a block of quarters which will be leased to Government for the accommodation of married European Sergeants. It is hoped that these arrangements will remove them from undesirable localities where they are now obliged to live, and will at the same time ameliorate the general conditions of their service in Calcutta.

"Another item is the purchase of the Duff College, which appears at page 17 of the Financial Estimate.

"The premises formerly occupied by the Duff College were purchased in July, 1908, with a view to turning them into the head-quarters for the 1st Calcutta Police District, and when the additions and alterations required to make it a combined central station and district head-quarters are completed, accommodation will be available for 22 officers and 126 men.

"As a set-off against the sum to be expended, it may be noted that the force accommodated here will include the Police formerly stationed at the Jorabagan Thana, which building has been advantageously sold for a sum of Rs. 1,83,000, a moiety of which has already been paid.

"The Garden Reach Thana has for many years past had an unenviable reputation for its extreme unhealthiness; and the Police Force stationed there has continually been in a crippled condition owing to the number of men constantly in hospital. It is now proposed to build another Police station and Fire-station on a healthier site, which has already been acquired, facing the Bengal Nagpur Railway offices. This change of locality will, it is hoped, render the force which is sanctioned for policing this area available for duty.

"A sum of Rs. 40,000 for the construction of the barracks for the Police of Government House and the Imperial Secretariat.

"The present Police-guard for Government House is in Crooked Lane, and is accommodated in some old stables converted into barracks, the increased guards during the cold weather being housed in the vaults below the Town Hall.

"It is now proposed to construct proper barracks for the force required both for Government House and for guarding the Imperial Secretariat Buildings. These barracks will be erected on the Crooked Lane site already in occupation."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XVI-B.—Jails.

Expenditure—

19B.—Jails.

He said:—"The next department, the estimates of which I have to lay before this Council, comes under the major head "Law and Justice—Jails." The figures on the receipt side will be found on page 28, No. XVI (b). The figures on the expenditure side will be found on pages 48 and 49 of the draft Financial Statement No. 19 (b).

"There has lately been a serious falling-off in the receipts from manufactured articles. As the Council is aware, the jail's principal customers are the other departments of the Government, and owing to financial stringency these departments have curtailed their orders with the result that there are at present large stocks in hand. This question will receive the special attention of the department during the coming year, but as the probable requirements, e.g., of the Ordnance Department for tents, are at present not known, it has been thought safer to reduce the estimate of receipts.

"The estimate of expenditure is Rs. 2,26,000 greater than last year: 1·39 lakhs of this increase is due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, and the rest of the increase is distributed fairly evenly over the minor heads.

"We cannot give up the old Presidency Jail at present, because, even after opening the new jail, we have not enough accommodation for our jail population. Including both the old and the new Presidency Jail we have accommodation for 13,917 male convicts, whereas the average number of prisoners for the last two years has been in excess of this, and the average for the months when the number of prisoners was greatest was nearly 1,500 in excess. Therefore, until more accommodation can be provided elsewhere, it is impossible to give up the old Presidency Jail. I shall return to this subject when dealing with civil works.

"I shall now refer briefly to the main items of interest in the Statement which are new. A provision of Rs. 16,536 has been made for the reorganisation of the jailer service. The sanction of the Government of India has been given to the reorganisation of the staff with fixed rates of pay in place of the old incremental system, and the position and prospects of the staff have been materially improved.

"A provision of Rs. 9,300 is made for providing a clerical staff for civil medical assistants in charge of subsidiary jails. Clerical staff has already been provided for Assistant Surgeons in charge of subsidiary jails, but medical officers of these two ranks are posted to subdivisions, having regard to the general medical importance of the subdivision and not with regard to the importance of the sub-jail. It has been found necessary to provide clerical assistance for the civil medical assistants as well as for the Assistant Surgeons, and thus to relieve them of the routine work of writing up registers and returns and copying letters.

"A provision of Rs. 5,424 has been made for the appointment of circle reserve warders. To improve the Jail Department it is necessary that there should be at the headquarters of each Central Jail circle a reserve of warders under training from which to recruit. A commencement has been made by providing one head warder and 30 warders as a reserve at Alipore, and 1 head warder and 22 warders at Buxar.

"The most important item under the head "Jails" is the provision of two lakhs for a new Central Jail at Monghyr. I have already explained the position. We have not sufficient accommodation for our average male convict population, and it is therefore necessary to increase the jail accommodation by establishing a new Central Jail. It was considered desirable that the proposed jail should be established in one of the Bihar districts, the essential conditions being (1) that it should be easily accessible by railway; (2) that it should be at the headquarters of a district; (3) that it should be near the river; and (4) that the acquisition of the land and the construction of buildings should not be unnecessarily expensive. After consulting the Commissioners of Divisions and the local officers, Monghyr was selected as the most suitable centre, and the Commissioner of Bhagalpur, with the assistance of the Medical, Sanitary, Public Works and Prisons officers, has chosen a suitable site between Monghyr and the Pirpahar. A notification has been issued for the acquisition of 200 acres of land there, and it is hoped to commence the work during the present year.

"Another insistent matter in connection with jail administration is the provision of adequate accommodation in many of our subsidiary jails. Much has been done of late years to improve the Central and District Jails, but a large number of our subsidiary jails are inadequate and call for considerable extension and improvement. I am aware that many of these projects are very urgent, but unfortunately it has not been found possible to provide for more than three on the present occasion. These are (1) the improvement and extension of the sub-jails at Magura in Jessore, (2) Banki in Cuttack, and (3) Banka in Bhagalpur. The other jail projects which it is intended to take up are the improvement of the water supply in the Buxar Central Jail at a cost of Rs. 7,042; the roofing of three wards in the Hooghly district at a cost of Rs. 9,000; the improvement of the present inadequate hajat in the Bhagalpur Central Jail at a cost of Rs. 7,345, and the provision of Rs. 16,000 for a hospital in Krishnagore Jail. As Krishnagore is one of our unhealthy districts, adequate accommodation for sick prisoners is a matter of urgency. There is one other project: the old Alipore Reformatory has been converted into a juvenile jail. As convict guards are not suitable for juvenile prisoners they will be replaced by paid warders, and for these it is necessary to provide quarters. A provision of Rs. 10,400 has been made for this purpose."

The Hon'ble MR. KUCHLER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XIX.—Education.

Expenditure—

22.—Education.

He said:—"Your Honour—I beg leave to introduce the budget referring to education. With regard to the receipts, little explanation is called for beyond what has already been given in the general Financial Statement. The decrease of Rs. 1,78,000 in the revised estimate is mainly due, as already pointed out, to the non-refund to the Education Department of two lakhs of rupees originally allotted to District Boards for the construction of primary school buildings. The revised estimate would otherwise have shown a considerable increase over the sanctioned estimate, chiefly on account of the increased enrolment of students in the Government Arts Colleges, of supplementary examinations by the University of Calcutta for candidates who had failed in the last examinations under the old regulations. This, however, is a temporary phase. An excess of enrolment of students at the Presidency College representing a very considerable increase in fee receipts will, in the normal course, be greatly reduced. Under the head "Miscellaneous" the revised estimate shows a decrease of Rs. 2,50,800. Of this, as already indicated, Rs. 2,00,000 represents the refund from the District Boards, which was anticipated but not received. The defect of the remaining Rs. 50,800 is apparently due to the adjustment of heads under which the receipts have been credited, and is more than balanced by an increase under the heads of "Government Colleges, General and Professorial," and of "Government Schools, General."

"Coming now to the expenditure side of the budget, it will be noticed in the first place that the revised estimate for next year, namely, Rs. 59,17,000, shows a very substantial increase over both the sanctioned and the revised estimate for the preceding year, each of which amounted to approximately Rs. 55,50,000. A comparison with the actuals for the three preceding years will further show that the increase of expenditure on education has been continuous. Though, however, the budget estimate for next year exceeds that of 1909-10 by no less than Rs. 3,60,000, the increased cost is due not to the sudden introduction of any schemes involving large individual expenditure, but for the most part to the natural expansion of the needs of already existing educational institutions. Certain allotments have, it is true, been entered as new schemes under the schedule prescribed for the purpose, but in most cases these allotments represent really the enhanced cost for which the general sanction of Government has already been received.

"Before proceeding to discuss the Educational Budget proper, I wish to make a few remarks about those building projects, which, though technically included in the Public Works Department Budget, really represent expenditure on education.

"Probably the most important of the new projects, which are to be taken in hand next year, is the construction of a new Physical Laboratory for the Presidency College. Though the primary object is to meet the pressing needs of the Physical Science Department, the project derives its chief importance from the fact that it practically marks the commencement of a large scheme for the improvement of the accommodation of the Presidency College. It is not absolutely the first step in the execution of the project, as this was taken last year by the acquisition of a plot of land measuring 1½ acres at the cost of Rs. 2,50,000. The scheme itself has now been under discussion for a good many years, and it has been complicated by the consideration of the question as to whether it would not be desirable to remove the college to another site. Before this was settled, it was, of course, impossible to draw up plans for the construction of the buildings, and the delay which has occurred in making a beginning with what all are agreed in regarding as a necessary project is not only due to financial considerations, but also to the cause I have here indicated. On the question of removal, opinions were invited so long ago as 1905. As they gradually came in, it was apparent that they were fairly divided; and in the absence of any preponderance of opinion on one side or the other, Government finally decided to retain the college in its present site. It is unnecessary here to recapitulate the arguments that were advanced for its removal or retention,—clearly there is much to be said on both sides, but I should, perhaps, point out that educational opinion was strongly in favour of removing the college to an open and more secluded site, and that those who were in favour of retention of the present site, were labouring under the misapprehension that it was intended when the college was moved to make it entirely residential. The reason why I refer to this matter at all, which may seem of little practical interest in view of the statement that the question has been decided, is that it is possible that in the interval which has elapsed since the matter was last discussed a change may have come over the opinion of those who were originally opposed to removal. Should this be the case, I would remind the representatives of public opinion here present, and especially those who may be supposed to have the interests of the numerous mufassal students at heart, that the opportunity for an expression of opinion on the part of the public either one way or the other will now speedily pass away. With the assignment of funds made in the present budget, the matter must now go forward; and once the construction of the Physical Laboratory has commenced, there can be no looking back. The scheme itself in its complete form provides for the acquisition of a large additional plot of land, partly for the purposes of a playground, the construction of new laboratories for the Biological and Geological sections, the erection of residences for the Principal and several Professors, as well as of additional hostels for students, and it is obvious therefore that its execution will for financial and other reasons have to be spread over a considerable number of years. In the meantime the provision of a new Physical Laboratory will not only remove the cramped conditions under which Physics is at present being taught in the college, but will incidentally relieve the congestion of other departments as well by placing at their disposal the space now occupied by the Physical section.

"It will be seen from the budget figures that the building requirements of all Zilla Schools are also receiving attention. The new University regulations have not only necessitated the provision of additional accommodation in many cases, but have also called attention to the defects of construction in the existing buildings. Plans and estimates have been prepared for the alterations and additions which have been found necessary in a number of Government schools, and the work of new construction is being gradually carried out. Of the larger projects of this nature, three have found a place in the present budget. The needs of the Ranchi, Purulia and Darjeeling Zilla Schools are all urgent, many of the class rooms in each of these schools being defective in lighting and ventilation, while their number is insufficient. The provision of a hall and class room for the Darjeeling Zilla School does not, however, complete the whole scheme in connexion with that institution. Further items are the construction of hostels and the preparation of a play-ground, the ground for the latter having already been acquired, but the most urgent needs will now be satisfied, and the further improvements here indicated will be taken up later on. The work of these three schools will, I anticipate, be carried to practical completion before the end of the financial year, and will form a substantial instalment in satisfaction of the demands of the University.

"The claims of Muhammadan education have been recognised by the allotment in the budget of Rs. 50,000 towards the completion of the new Muhammadan hostel, and of Rs. 4,200 for the construction of seven model Maktabs. The necessity of a Muhammadan hostel, as of so many other projects, has arisen from the requirements of the new University regulations. These requirements must at times appear to outsiders as unending; but so far at least as they are concerned with the provision of proper hostel accommodation for mufassal students, they will be acknowledged to be fully justifiable. Each college is required by the regulations to provide hostels for such of its students as do not live with their parents or guardians, but the number of Muhammadans reading in individual colleges being small, it was found difficult on the part of the colleges to comply with this regulation. The University, however, recognises not only hostels and messes attached to particular colleges, but also what are called non-collegiate hostels where students belonging to any affiliated college may reside. It was felt by the Muhammadan community that the wants of its students would be more satisfactorily met by providing a hostel of this type, and it was likewise recognised that this hostel should be associated with the central institution for Muhammadans in Bengal, i.e., the Madrasa. Owing to the efforts of the leaders of the community, certain sums were subscribed towards the erection of the building, and Government having undertaken to supplement the funds so collected, it was found possible to commence the work last year. The allotment in the budget represents the Government contribution for next year. The construction of the building, however, is already well advanced, and it is hoped that the hostel will be ready for the admission of students at the beginning of July next, when the academic session commences.

"The construction of seven model Maktabs forms part of the scheme initiated by Mr. Earle for the general improvement of Muhammadan education. This scheme has received the administrative sanction of Government, and is being brought into operation as funds permit. Effect has already been given to a very considerable portion of it. One of its features was the provision of 13 model Maktabs, that is Maktabs which should be under direct Government management, which in their teaching and general working should serve as a model to the privately conducted Maktabs throughout the province, whose numbers and efficiency it is likewise intended to increase by substantial grants-in-aid. The present allotment in the Public Works Department Budget refers merely to the provision of the necessary buildings for the first instalment of seven Maktabs. When these are completed, funds will be provided for the appointment of the necessary Maulvis and for the equipment of the schools.

"The last item in the Public Works Department Budget affecting education is the provision of Rs. 10,000 for sanitary improvements in the Reformatory School, Hazaribagh. These improvements have been necessitated by the transfer of the boys of the Alipore Reformatory, which has been closed, to the already existing Reformatory at Hazaribagh. The transfer took place in September 1908, and as the population of the Hazaribagh School was thereby increased from 219 to 411, additional works had to be undertaken to meet the increased sanitary requirements of the institution. Much has already been done, especially with regard to the water-supply and the extension and improvement of the latrine system; but, in addition to these items, other essential projects have still to be carried out, such as the provision of better hospital accommodation and of more numerous bathing platforms. The work is naturally urgent.

"I now pass to a brief consideration of the new projects included in the Educational Budget itself. The major projects involving an annual expenditure of more than Rs. 5,000 will best be taken up in the order in which they occur in the schedule on page 75.

"The appointment of an Inspector of Technical Schools and Industrial Education, which has been under discussion for a considerable time, has now finally been given effect to, and Mr. Denning, the officer appointed by the Secretary of State, has arrived in Calcutta and commenced his work. The object of his appointment is two-fold. In the first place, he will be entrusted with the inspection of the ever-increasing number of technical and industrial schools throughout the Province, and will assist the Director of Public Instruction in the disposal of questions of technical education. In his inspecting capacity he will relieve the Principal of the Engineering College from the duties which, in the absence of a special officer for the purpose, have fallen on his shoulders.

"The second part of Mr. Denning's duties is concerned with the subject of industrial inquiries. The need has long been felt of an officer whose special duty would be to superintend such inquiries on the part of Government, as well as to assist by information and advice such private persons as are interesting themselves practically in the development of the industries of the country. The appointment of this officer will, it is hoped, remove some of the difficulties of those who are anxious to devote capital and energy to the promotion of particular industries, but who have not the antecedent information without which their enterprise would be of too speculative a character. The subject of industrial development is intimately connected with that of technical education; and as the latter will, for some time to come, form the more immediate part of his duties, the officer in question will, for the present at least, be entirely associated with the Education Department.

"The second major scheme included in the schedule concerns the provincialisation of sub-inspectors previously employed under District Boards. The transfer of these officers was due to the necessity that was felt by Government of giving the Education Department greater powers of control over primary education. Incidentally it has improved their prospects. The allotment in the budget represents the difference between the pay of the sub-inspectors under the District Board and the cost of the new appointments that had to be created in the Subordinate Educational Service.

"The item of Rs. 42,000 in the schedule under the head "Arts Colleges" represents the additional cost that will have to be incurred next year in connexion with the scheme for strengthening the staff of Government colleges. This scheme was the outcome of the (new) University regulations, and received the final sanction of the Secretary of State on 21st May, 1909. It involves the creation of a large number of new posts in the Indian Educational Service, Provincial Educational Service and Subordinate Educational Service, the total cost of which amounts to Rs. 1,40,840. As, however, it was necessary to satisfy the requirements of the University, as far as possible, immediately after the promulgation of the regulations, a number of temporary appointments had already been created in anticipation of the Secretary of State's sanction.

The cost of these temporary appointments amounted last year to Rs. 45,000. The Rs. 42,000 on the schedule represents the additional cost which the introduction of the complete scheme will entail next year. It will be seen that the expenditure for that year, namely, Rs. 87,000, still falls short of the maximum figure, namely, Rs. 1,40,840. This is mainly due to the fact that it will not be possible to recruit several Professors in the Indian Educational Service for the present.

"Under the head of "Government Schools, Special," there is a non-recurring allotment of Rs. 1,00,000 for the construction of the buildings of Guru Training Schools. In December, 1905 a scheme was sanctioned for the establishment of 96 Guru Training Schools in addition to the 96 already existing. It was also decided to provide the schools, both new and old, with much more complete buildings than had been thought sufficient for the original ones. For the latter a sum of Rs. 500 only had been sanctioned, while in the case of the new schools it was decided to construct not only improved class rooms, but also hostels for the pupils and quarters for the pandits at an average cost amounting to some Rs. 5,000. A large number of these buildings have already been erected, but chiefly owing to difficulties with contractors the work of construction has, in many cases, been delayed, liabilities, which should have been met by funds provided in previous years, have had to be carried forward, and considerable allotments will still be necessary to bring the work to completion. We hope in the course of the next year to frame a definite estimate of the expenditure necessary to complete the scheme. In the meantime Rs. 1,00,000 is provided in the budget to carry out existing contracts.

"The provision for the Serampore Weaving School has hitherto figured in the budget in a lump sum for technical education. This school was opened in January, 1909, and I am glad to say is working under conditions which give every promise of a successful future. At the Serampore Institute both the class for weavers and that for more advanced students have settled down to regular work, and under the energetic management of the present Principal we may confidently hope for good results. An important feature of the original scheme was the establishment of outlying centres,—for the present five in number, in addition to one at Sambalpur,—and this will be taken in hand during the coming year. These centres will consist of small weaving schools located in places where there is a considerable population of the weaving class, and the schools will be affiliated to the Serampore Institute. The course of instruction is intended for weavers and sons of weavers, and will be somewhat of the same character as that imparted in the corresponding classes at Serampore. There will be a separate teacher at each centre who has received his training at Serampore, but each school, in addition, will be under the personal superintendence of the Principal of the Serampore Institute.

The PRESIDENT said:—"I am sorry to interrupt the Hon'ble Member in his speech, but as many of us are anxious to attend the Convocation, he will be asked to complete his remarks at the next sitting of the Council."

The Council was then adjourned to Monday, the 14th March, 1910, at 11 A.M.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

M.A. AND B.A. CLASSES IN THE PATNA COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the article "M. A. Class in Patna College," which appeared in the Behari of the 18th February, 1910?

(b) Is there any likelihood of the introduction of the "M. A. Class" and the "B. A. Class in Philosophy" in the Patna College?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the time, if any, by which the said introduction is expected?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"(a) The answer to the first portion of the Hon'ble Member's question is in the negative.

(b) and (c) The Principal of the Patna College represented that the B. A. classes in Philosophy were unpopular, and Political Economy with Political Philosophy was substituted. It would not be possible to obtain affiliation in Philosophy up to the B. A. standard without an addition to the present staff, and there is no likelihood of this at present.

With regard to the affiliation up to the M. A. standard, the Hon'ble Member is referred to the answer given to the questions put by the Hon'ble Maharaj-Kumar Gopal Saran Narayan Singh on Saturday last."

SURPLUS OF THE HOOGHLY IMAMBARAH FUNDS.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

(a) Can the Government give any information to the Council as to whether there is any money lying in the hands of the Government as surplus of the Hooghly Imambarah Funds?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether, if there is any surplus, it is possible to utilise that surplus in the construction of the present extension of the Madrassa Hostel in Calcutta, or for any other purposes to meet the special needs of Muhammadan education?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

"(a) and (b) It is understood that the question relates to the Mohsin Endowment Fund which is administered by Government. According to the estimates for 1909-10 the balance of the Fund on the 31st March, 1910, will be Rs. 2,874 only, a sum which scarcely suffices for an adequate working balance. In the circumstances no fresh expenditure from this source in connection with Muhammadan education will be possible."

REGISTRATION DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if any provision has been made for the pension of such officers of the Registration Department as have their services transferred from the commissioned to the graded appointments?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state if any age-limit has been fixed for the retirement of those officers of the Registration Department who have chosen to work according to the old system of commission?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"(a) Provision has been made for the pension of such officers of the Registration Department as were transferred to the graded appointments.

When the Registration Department was reorganised in 1905, the existing Sub-Registrars were divided into two classes according to their age: (1) officers of the age of 45 and under; (2) officers above 45 years of age. Officers of the first class were graded in the new service with effect from 1st October, 1905. Officers of the second class were given the option of joining the graded service, or of remaining on the old terms. The services of all officers in the new graded service became pensionable with effect from the 1st October, 1905.

"(b) No age limit was fixed for the retirement of those officers of the Registration Department who elected to work on the old commission terms."

MINISTERIAL OFFICERS' SALARIES COMMITTEE.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

Will the Government be pleased to state if the salaries of ministerial officers, in accordance with the recommendation of the Salaries Commission, have been increased in only some of the Departments or in all, and, if in some, which are the Departments in which the increase has not been given?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

"The inquiries of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee covered the office establishments of Commissioners of Divisions, District and Sub-divisional Officers, and the Courts of District Judges, Sub-Judges and Munsifs and Small Cause Courts (outside Calcutta). It is in respect of these offices only that various enhancements of pay have been approved by the Secretary of State, and effect will now shortly be given to them. A revision of ministerial establishments in the offices of District Superintendents of Police and of the Railway Police was sanctioned by the Secretary of State in February, 1909. The salaries of the clerical establishments in other Departments have not been recently revised.

"In the budget for 1910-11 a lump provision has been made for the reorganisation of the offices of the Collector of Customs, Inspector-General of Registration, Legal Remembrancer, Inspector-General of Prisons and Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals, and of the Darjeeling Forest Office. Detailed proposals have still to be approved. Also a reorganisation of the Bengal Secretariat was recently approved by the Government of India."

MINORS UNDER THE COURT OF WARDS IN THE PATNA AND TIRHUT DIVISIONS.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN asked—

Will the Government be pleased to state the names of minors whose estates are under the Court of Wards in the Patna and Tirhut Divisions, together with the names of the guardians of (a) the persons and (b) the properties of such minors?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

"The information is contained in the statement laid on the table.

Where there are guardians of the persons of minors they are mentioned in the statement. The Court of Wards is the guardian of the property in all cases."

COPYISTS AND SECTION-WRITERS EMPLOYED IN THE CIVIL AND CRIMINAL COURTS.

The Hon'ble MR. DIP NARAYAN SINGH asked—

(a) Is Government aware that on the 12th of March, 1904, the late Hon'ble Babu Saligram Singh drew the attention of Government to the following subject:—

"That Copyists or Section-writers are employed in the Civil or Criminal Courts, and are paid out of the income derived from the copying department in a certain proportion, and that to all intents and purposes they are much in the same position as paid ministerial officers in other departments; that there are numerous instances of such Copyists or Section-writers leaving office after a service of 30 years and upwards, without getting anything in the shape of a pension or a gratuity for the support of themselves and the families depending upon them; and that there is no provision in the Civil Service Regulations to enable such persons to draw a pension or gratuity after they retire."

Also that the late Hon'ble Member asked whether the Government would be pleased to consider the desirability of making some provision for these persons on their retirement from service.

(b) Is it the case that the Hon'ble Mr. Shirres replied that the Lieutenant-Governor hoped to be able to effect some improvement in the position of the officers referred to by the Hon'ble Member, and that the matter had formed the subject of correspondence with the Government of India. No further information could be given on the subject.

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken to improve the position of these Copyists and Section-writers employed in the Civil and Criminal Courts?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of either exempting these Copyists from coming under the rules in Article 459 of the Civil Service Regulations or of making some provision for them on their retirement from service?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

"(a) and (b) The Hon'ble Member apparently refers to a question put by the Hon'ble Rai Tarini Persad Bahadur to which an answer was given as quoted.

"(c) The Government of India declined to treat the service of copyists as pensionable, on the ground that their work differed from that of the ordinary clerical establishments, and was on a par with various other non-pensionable forms of Government service. The pension charges are ever tending to increase and fresh claims to pension require to be jealously scrutinised.

"(d) Article 459 of the Civil Service Regulations permits of the compulsory retirement of an officer at the age of 55 and allows his retention in Government service after the age of 60 only in exceptional circumstances. Copyists are practically piece-workers and are not dealt with under this article, although their fitness for continuance in Government service would be judged with regard to the age limits referred to. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the decision given in 1904 that copyists should not be eligible for pensions, and he is not prepared to make any recommendation to that effect."

EDUCATION IN BIHAR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the total amount of the revenues of the Lower Provinces, and how much of it is raised in Bihar?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state what portions of the said revenues the Government ordinarily spends on education in Bihar, and what portion in Bengal?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"(a) and (b). Separate figures of the revenue raised in Bihar and of the expenditure on education are not available and it would take much time and labour to compile them. It does not appear that any advantage commensurate with this labour would be obtained."

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if it is a fact that before the last ten years or so there used to be generally not less than four graduate teachers in a zila school in Bihar, and that now there are hardly two graduate teachers in most of the said schools?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state the reasons for this gradual weakening of the teaching staff in zila schools?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a) It is a fact that there are fewer graduates in the zila schools in Bihar at the present time than there were ten years ago.

"(b) The reason is that, as far as possible, Bihari teachers have been employed in Bihar schools, and the supply of Bihari graduate teachers has been insufficient."

SECONDARY EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if any scheme or definite proposal for the improvement of secondary education was formulated by the Hon'ble Mr. Earle ?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the same on the table ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state when it intends to give effect to the said scheme or proposal ?

The Hon'ble Mr. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a), (b) and (c). The answer to the first portion of the Hon'ble Member's question is in the affirmative. The question is still under the consideration of Government and it would be premature to lay the report on the table or to make any announcement on the subject at present."

BHUMIHAR BRAHMAN COLLEGE, MUZAFFARPUR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state if the trustees of the Bhumihar Brahman College have petitioned the Director of Public Instruction, through Mr. Greer, the Commissioner of Tirhut, who has strongly recommended them, for a grant by the Government of Rs. 800 a month for current expenses of the College and Rs. 30,000 for building, the College authorities having undertaken to raise a similar monthly sum for current expenses and Rs. 60,000 for building ?

(b) Considering that the Bhumihar Brahman College is the only institution of its kind in North Bihar, and considering the fact that the trustees have been able to raise a sum of Rs. 1,60,000, and have also already raised a monthly subscription of about Rs. 600 for current expenses, will the Government be pleased to consider favourably their petition and allow the grants ?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied :—

"(a) and (b). It has been ascertained that the Director of Public Instruction has received a request from the Bhumihar Brahman College, Muzaffarpur, through the Commissioner of Tirhut, for the assistance specified in the question of the Hon'ble Member.

"(c) There is however no possibility of giving the grant requested.

APPOINTMENTS.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state separately the total number of District Magistrates, of Joint-Magistrates, of Deputy Magistrates, of Sub-Deputy Magistrates, of Superintendents of Police, of Assistant Superintendents of Police, of Deputy Superintendents of Police, of District Judges, of Sub-Judges, and of Munsifs, in this Province ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state separately the total number of appointments in each grade of the services mentioned in the first question ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state the percentage of the total number of appointments in each of the grades of the services specified in the first question to the total number of appointments in each of those services?

(d) Considering the very low percentage of appointments in the first three grades of Deputy Magistrates, as compared with the percentage of appointments in those grades of the other services, will the Government be pleased to raise the number of appointments in those grades?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

(a) and (b) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the Civil List.

(c) The percentages asked for are laid on the table.

(d) The analogies sought to be drawn by the Hon'ble Member appear to have no practical application. It is impossible to draw any conclusion from a comparison of the grading of certain specific ranks of the Indian Civil Service or the Police Service with the grading of the Provincial Executive Service as a whole. To make any practical comparison it would be necessary to take into account various appointments and grades which the Hon'ble Member has left out of account.

THE REVISED FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

THE PRESIDENT said :—"We will now resume the discussion of the Revised Financial Statement, which stood over from Saturday last. I call upon the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler to proceed with his remarks on the head of Education."

The Hon'ble MR. KÜCHLER said:—"I will now resume the remarks which I have already made in connection with the introduction of the Education Budget.

"The last of the major projects is under the head 'Miscellaneous,' and concerns the preparation of the Senior Teachers' Manual and of the Science text-books for Standards III to VI. The authors of the various sections have been carefully selected, and the work is being carried on according to the instructions laid down by the Committee appointed by Government to revise the syllabus of studies for the standards in question. It is expected that the book when completed will be of the greatest assistance to teachers, and will enable them to carry out intelligently the scheme of instruction as laid down in the new syllabus.

"The preparation of the text-books for the four standards has been left to private enterprise. The syllabuses are most detailed, and it was felt that with the large number of publishers of repute catering for the Indian market, there was a sufficient guarantee that the books competing for patronage would give the Text-book Committee a satisfactory field of selection. An exception was made in the case of Science text-books alone, the Syllabus Committee having decided that in the case of these important and difficult subjects it would be better that model text-books should, in the first place, be prepared by Government. The Science text-books will be written in English and then translated into the various vernaculars.

"A few words of explanation will suffice for the minor schemes which are given on pages 4 to 6 of the Financial Statement. As regards non-recurring charges on page 4, the first item of Rs. 1,620 is the cost of the additional temporary staff of clerks required for the Director of Public Instruction's office. As regards the Rs. 5,000 allotted to the Patna Law Library, this represents the second instalment of a total grant of Rs. 10,000, which was considered necessary, when the Patna Law College was created last year, to provide it with an adequate library.

"The Teachers' Manual, referred to in the fourth item, is the Junior Teachers' Manual, which has been under preparation during the past two years, and whose publication in the various vernaculars of the province may be shortly expected. The Bengali version, I may mention, has already been published. The sum of Rs. 1,500 is required to enable the department to purchase and supply copies of the Manual to those institutions and teachers who cannot buy them out of their own allotment.

"A manual is also required for maktabs; and though there will be incorporated with it a considerable portion of the Junior Teachers' Manual, it will also include some portions appropriate to maktabs alone. The cost of preparation of this Manual will be Rs. 750. The balance of Rs. 2,000 in the budget is for the purpose of providing translation of the model readers and arithmetic books into the aboriginal vernaculars of Chota Nagpur, namely, Mundari, Uraon and Ho.

"I come lastly to the items of recurring expenditure on page 6 under the head 'Education.' The first item represents the house allowance of the Inspector of the Presidency Division. As regards the second, I may state that Inspectors have hitherto had a considerable portion of the printing work performed at the Bengal Secretariat Press. This practice has now been discontinued, under the orders of Government, on account of the pressure of work in this press, and the Inspectors' printing in future will be done privately. Hence provision of Rs. 3,300 has been made in the budget to meet the required cost.

"The personal allowance of the Inspectress of Schools has been sanctioned in accordance with the orders of the Secretary of State. With regard to the fourth item of Rs. 3,600 for clerks for the Additional Inspectors of Schools, I may explain that, besides the six Divisional Inspectors, there are now six Additional Inspectors, one of whom has for the present been posted to each Division. Each of these Additional Inspectors has been allowed a clerk on Rs. 50 a month. The total cost therefore amounts to Rs. 3,600 a year.

"The allowance of Rs. 3,600 for two Professors of the Presidency College also requires some explanation. Pending the recruitment from England of a Professor of Mathematics and a Professor of History in the Indian Educational Service sanctioned under Mr. Earle's scheme for the Presidency College, two Indian graduates have been temporarily appointed to do the work of the Professors referred to, each on a salary of Rs. 150 a month. The cost for the year 1910-11 of the temporary appointments is Rs. 3,600.

"The sixth item of Rs. 1,380 is to meet the cost of personal allowance for three of the four Foremen Instructors at the Civil Engineering College. It has been decided that such allowances should be given to the Foremen Instructors after they have served in class I of the Subordinate Educational Service for a certain period. The exact form of the allowance has not yet been determined, but a provision of Rs. 1,380 has been made in the budget, as it is likely that the scheme will come into effect next year.

"The scholarships in connexion with the Title course form part of the general scheme for the improvement of Muhammadan education. Twelve scholarships, at a value of Rs. 12 each, have been created for award on the result of the new higher Madrasa examination. Of these twelve scholarships, four will be competed for each year. A further new allotment for scholarships is that of Rs. 2,160 for students who have graduated from the Ravenshaw College, Cuttack, and desire to read for the B. L. examination in a Government Law College. Six scholarships were created of the value of Rs. 30 a month, tenable for two years, either at Patna or Calcutta, from the commencement of the 1909 session. In the award of these scholarships preference is given in the first place to Uriyas, and secondly to candidates who can establish a genuine domicile in Orissa. The cost for last year was Rs. 1,620, and for next year would be Rs. 3,780. The increase therefore for the coming year is Rs 2,160, which is the amount shown in the Financial Statement.

"The last item is the allowance to the Secretary to the Advisory Committee for Indian students. As may be remembered, in July 1909 the Government of India announced that the Secretary of State had decided to establish a Bureau in England for the supply of information to Indian students, as well as a Standing Committee for advisory purposes. The Government of India also issued instructions that local centres be established in each province who would be in direct communication with the Central Bureau in England. It was necessary to appoint a Secretary to this Committee, and the item of Rs. 2,400 in the budget represents the salary of this officer."

The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that provision be made in the Budget for the following additional grants under the heading "Education":—

(a) Rupees 50,000 for assisting the University of Calcutta in acquiring the market to the south of the Senate House.

(b) Rupees 50,000 for strengthening the professorial and tutorial staffs of Government Colleges, and for providing house allowance to such members of the professorial and tutorial staffs as may be in need of such relief owing to the smallness of their pay.

(c) Rupees 50,000 for assisting Private Colleges in Bihar and Bengal and Private Schools of Arts, Technology and Industries.

(d) Rupees 20,000 for strengthening M. V. and M. E. Schools in Calcutta and in the mufassal.

(e) Rupees 5,800 for strengthening maktabs and other Muhammadan institutions.

(f) Rupees 5,000 for assisting private institutions for imparting education to females."

He said:—"The additional educational grants for which I must plead, in fact much more, as the Educational Member has been pleased tacitly to admit, are urgently necessary. All the different items speak for themselves, and realizing and appreciating that no outside resources would be available, I am obliged to suggest inter-department retrenchment, which, I am afraid, will not be agreeable to the learned head of the Education Department The constant increase in the costs of the Directing and Inspecting Agency without the inspectable commodity appreciably increasing, has been a source of as constant complaint. As I read the speech of the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming last year in reply to these complaints, it was practically conceded that the complaints were fairly well grounded, and we should have no further complaints, as the maximum was nearing or had already been attained. When such increase takes the shape of the appointment of a much-needed officer like an Inspector of Technical Schools and Industries with its immense possibilities, it can not only be justified but should and would be welcome. Such an officer will be able to give tone and direction to courses of instruction that have been getting rather diffused and at times confused. The directing agency will really be the stronger for such an accession, and our complaints as to increase of inspecting costs do not extend to items like these. We are, however, on firmer grounds when between direction and inspection an increase of sixty thousand rupees takes place, and adequate provision cannot be made for fuller and better manning of our colleges and schools.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's precise and forceful enunciation of the situation makes it clear that nearly fifty-five thousand rupees is still needed to bring up Government colleges to working strength. I did not know this till the statement was made in Council, and I asked for the smaller sum of Rs. 50,000 on this head, which shows how reasonable and moderate my requisition is.

"The only item that may be said not to appertain to schools and colleges direct is the sum of rupees fifty thousand which I ask for by way of assistance to the University, so that it may be enabled to take steps for acquiring the market to the south of the Senate House. The Government will not for some time to come be able to give the University the whole of the money necessary for this acquisition even if it be inclined to do so, and it is doubtful as to whether the Government could and would guarantee a loan by the University itself for the purpose. It is clear and undoubted that the costs of this acquisition will be prohibitive very soon, and if it is to be acquired at all, it should be acquired immediately. The University will have to do this out of its own resources, supplemented by the contributions of public benefactors and of the Government. The Government of India is already assisting the University with a lakh and eighty thousand a year, and we invite Your Honour's Government to give us the smaller benefaction of fifty thousand rupees.

"How urgently our private institutions require supplementing is well known to Your Honour's Government and to the Director of Public Instruction, and they cannot come up to the University standard if such standard is strictly and rigidly insisted upon. Their continued existence is more or less on sufferance, and they have to be given latitude which they would not be given if Government institutions had not to be given some such latitude. Your Honour referred to this regrettable condition of affairs in the Imperial Council last year with great force, but the Government of India had no more to give us than they did. It behoves us therefore to cast about for means of strengthening our resources unaided. Some of our best men who have received their training in Europe or here, and would be ornaments of any educational service, are long toiling in the lower grades of the service to our lasting regret and to the permanent inefficiency and unpopularity of the service. Some of these names are household words in the domains of learning all the cultured world over, and every day lost in giving them their proper place in the service is an act of inexpediency and injustice that will be difficult to compensate for later on. The Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, in explaining the allowance of Rs. 3,600 for two temporary professors for the Presidency College, was pleased to observe:—

'Pending the recruitment from England of a Professor of Mathematics and a Professor of History in the Indian Educational Service, sanctioned under Mr. Earle's scheme, two Indian graduates have been temporarily appointed to do the work of the Professors referred to, each on a salary of Rs. 150 a month.'

It is no little satisfaction to find that there are Indian graduates to be had on Rs. 150 a month who can win and earn confidence enough to be entrusted with important work like this, for the permanent discharge of which recruitment in England is considered to be absolutely necessary. If junior and newly-appointed professors could be so entrusted, is there any reason why their tried seniors should not be appointed to some at least of the chairs awaiting the fresh arrivals. They are no way lacking in zeal, industry, distinction and experience, and many of them would be in no way inferior to many that have been recently appointed to the higher service and some would be distinctly better. It would be real economy, and more than expedient, to recognise these claims in bringing up the strength of our colleges to the requisite standard, and it is a plea neither out of place nor untimely in trying to economise the Educational Budget.

"Other Professors there are in our Government Colleges whose pay is too low to allow them to be housed properly. They have to teach their students lessons in elegance and cleanliness, the contrary of which they are obliged to practise away from the ken of their students, whom they dare not allow to come near their residences lest the clay feet be discovered. We are grateful, Sir, that Rs. 4,000 a year has this year for the first time under your Honour's auspices been provided for Calcutta Professors. But this is far too small for Calcutta itself, and relief is no less necessary in the Mufassil. Most of the Government Colleges have an inadequate staff—inadequate in quantity and sometimes in quality, inadequate accommodation, inadequate appliances, which helps in the gradual deterioration of the whole work. And if this is the state of things in Government Colleges, how worse is the case in private institutions the resources of which are still more cramped? The recent statement made in Council clearly shows that whatever assistance the private colleges at and near Calcutta may be receiving, it is a good deal worse in the Mufassil, particularly in Bihar. All these colleges require strengthening as also do the schools from which our colleges are ultimately supplied. These considerations which might be multiplied manifoldly and which have been repeatedly urged on the Government, make it necessary that some more grant should be given in aid of education all along the line. And as we cannot look for aid outside the Educational Budget, I ask for reduction, at least for a time, of the Inspecting charges, most of the increase under which item is for a higher scale of travelling and incidental expenses. Let us have our schools and colleges in working order first and be content with inspection such as has brought us to the stage in our education that we attained with much less inspection and which is no mean result to have attained. Superior inspection may come on later.

"Last year the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming was pleased to observe:—

'The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has emphasised the difficulty and expense of bringing our colleges to a proper University standard. Government appreciates the propriety of setting a good example in Government Colleges and of giving assistance to private colleges.'

"We gladly recognise and appreciate the notable efforts that the Government has been making in the near past to make up for long-standing deficiency in this important domain of administration, and our grievance is that Education proper is being elbowed out by Inspection, which ought to and may wait till the vital element has had a fairer chance. It was refreshing and reassuring to read in the Annual Administration Report for 1908-09, just published, that 'a sufficient advance having now been made in the direction (of inspection of primary schools), efforts are henceforth to be directed towards the improvement of the teaching staff.' And thus reassured I plead for timely reversal of the process affecting secondary and higher education. If the whole of the reduction that I ask for cannot be agreed to, there may, at all events, be some reduction and proportionate strengthening of the items of the Educational Budget to which I have drawn attention. This will be a mere inter-departmental readjustment and need in no way disturb the general Budget as a whole. In passing I may be permitted to observe that the whole country is thankful, Sir, for the kind and sympathetic assurances that Your Honour was pleased to vouchsafe the other day at Krishnagar regarding the continuance of the College there, and for being able to provide much larger educational grants generally than could be expected in view of the cramped resources of the year.

"I do not conceal from myself that in seeking to encroach on Inspection preserves I am leading a fairly forlorn hope, and as one seeking 'any port,' I am tempted to ask myself if I could not take the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction at his word, and have released, at least, for the time being and for my present purposes, even the non-recurring charges of a lakh and fifty thousand rupees for the Presidency College Laboratory, which he does not seem to urgently want or to be particularly anxious to get. There is a ring of doubt and misgiving in the Hon'ble Member's speech as to the utility and expediency of spending more money for the improvement of the Presidency College in situ, and it is difficult quite to make out whether it is a mere individual or authoritative doubt and misgiving. If the question be still open and the Government has not finally decided the matter, this expenditure, when money is badly wanted for strengthening the service, which ought always to be the fundamental and predominant factor, would be inexpedient. Pending final decision, diversion of the funds for the purposes I indicate would be greatly helpful. I am myself free to say that in connection with private educational institutions recently started or about to be started, we are weighed down with difficulties in getting suitable land in or near Calcutta at a reasonable cost. In connection, for example, with a higher grade school and second-grade college of a special type, proposal for which has the sympathy and support of leaders and Educational authorities like the Hon'ble the Law Member of the Government of India, the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor of the University, the Hon'ble Maharaja Bahadur Sir Prodyot Kumar Tagore and Sir

Guru Das Banerji, it has been felt and conceded that such an institution must go to a healthy, central and easily accessible place like Madhupur, where the stricken of many diseases, such as our students mostly are now-a-days, may advantageously congregate. The case of a model Government institution like the Presidency College seems, however, to be different; and if there is a preponderance of educational opinion in favour of its removal, there is a preponderance of opinion the other way so far as students and guardians and a large section of the public are concerned, considerations of expediency and sentiments being urged with no little vigor and effect. Since the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's speech on Saturday I had opportunities of conferring with distinguished exponents of both the views, and there seems to be little indication of any decided change of opinion either way. If in this state of things the budget item in question is stayed and not passed, it could be used for no more useful purposes than those that I venture to indicate.

"I shall now shortly state my objections to Government undertaking preparation of text-books, which the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's explanations do not fully meet.

"The reason why I venture to ask that the costs of preparing scientific text-books should be reduced is that Government is undertaking somewhat unnecessary work in this connection, and much, in fact the greater part of it, may and ought to be left to the literary public. In fact, the Government resolution on the subject provides, as the Director has also pointed out, that if the public can prepare equally good or better books they will be acceptable to the Text-book Committee. If so, why should the burden be thrown on, or be undertaken by, the Government. As I ventured to press on a previous occasion, it is alike undesirable and unnecessary that the Government should enter into a competition with the public in the matter, and the interests of education would be best served by leaving the preparation of text-books to the usual literary competition, seeing that literature and science have admittedly made an advance in Bengal and the time for foster school book societies, even regarding science text-books, has gone by. If the result of competition is not yet in all cases satisfactory, it is because of the cramping conditions laid down in regard to the preparation of text-books in some subjects. I shall just refer to one such condition. Geography is one of the subjects which has been left open to competition, and one of the conditions is that a translation of the vernacular text into English should be submitted for approval. No such condition has been attached to preparation of text-books in subjects like History, in regard to which under existing circumstances there might be some reason for laying down such a condition. There may be, and in fact are, experts in Geography who can turn out excellent vernacular text-books, but would and do find it extremely difficult to rewrite the work in English in a style that would be acceptable. The excellence of the English translation being naturally the criterion of the excellence of the work, these competitors would be at a great disadvantage, for they could not secure the services of master craftsmen in the subject except on prohibitive terms. The members of the Central Text-book Committee are men of light and leading, well versed in the vernacular or supposed to be so—Inspectors of Schools, Additional Inspectors of Schools, Government Translators, Government Librarian, retired High Court Judges, Professors of Colleges and representatives of public opinion. They might well be left to judge of the excellence of the text in vernacular, and no English translation, which must be of an inferior merit, ought to be necessary for proper judgment of the suitability of the texts. If some indication as to the subject-matter in English is deemed necessary, a table of contents in English might possibly answer the purpose, but no translation of the complete text would or could be necessary. This is a weakness of the system which ought to be put right as soon as possible, and everything ought to be done to facilitate the production of proper text-books in all subjects by open competition.

"Regarding other matters mentioned in my Resolution, I would merely observe that we have growing amongst us some worthy private schools imparting education to females and also in arts, the claims of which I should again like to press on the Government. They are doing excellent work, but cannot go on unaided much longer, and I plead only for a slight aid by way of encouragement and as an earnest of more assistance that the Government may be able to give in better years. A sum of Rs. 4,200 in aid of maktabs appears to be far too small, and as a special encouragement to Muhammadan education, I propose that the sum be raised to Rs. 10,000. I do not overlook the provision for the Madrasa Hostel, and have to express the thanks of the Muhammadan community in the educational advancement of which I take a keen and special interest. It is a misfortune under the prevailing circumstances that much of what ought to come under Public Works Department charges, figure under the educational head and confuse the issues. More has to be spent on education proper, and I propose that the Middle Vernacular and Middle English schools which Hindus and Mahomedans alike resort to should have an extra assistance of Rs. 20,000. This would be a step further in aid of extension of primary and secondary education, for which there is a marked and growing demand all over the country to which gradual response has to be made.

"Though not referred to in my Resolution, I remark that the provision for supervision of hostels and students' messes has been reduced from Rs. 2,700 last year to Rs. 400, and no provision has been made, as far as I have been able to see, for the rent of the messes and hostels which the Government has for the last few years been allowing to the University. I shall be glad if non-discovery of the item is merely an oversight on my part. But if the omission has been decided on, it will seriously affect the question of students' residence in Calcutta and the University regulations bearing on the matter as well as the question of discipline. The University has been thinking of the appointment of an Inspector of its own, but its resources do not permit this at present, and it has to depend upon Government for help. If the University is unable to find the supervision expenses, it can much less find funds for supplementing the funds of the Students' Residence Committee, and Government assistance will for some time be imperatively necessary if the work is to be done at all. As the Hon'ble the Vice-Chancellor of the University, even whose giant efforts in the cause of the University are barely sufficient to meet its infinitely expanding requirements, and whose reappointment is a great aid to the cause of education, emphasised in his Convocation address the day before yesterday :—

'The principal difficulty in connection with students' residence is one of funds, and I make no secret of my conviction that without a liberal grant-in-aid from the State, continued for many years and supplemented by private effort on an equally extensive scale, it is impossible to provide colleges, and schools with adequate and well-managed places of residence for their students.'

"I can hardly put the case higher or plead stronger for continued State aid in this direction.

"I do not quite follow the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler as to why the receipt side of the Education Budget should have lost a lakh and seventy-eight thousand rupees by the amiable 'non-refund' of the sum on the part of District Boards or why any falling off in the Presidency College fees should be apprehended. The Presidency College occupies a very high place in the esteem and affection of the people, particularly those who had to do with it in early life, and whoever can possibly afford it, even by stint and strain, seeks to send his son and ward to this still beloved seat of learning. It can always command more than a full complement of students, and students had to be, and have to be, sent away from its portals not in tens and twenties but in hundreds. Such is its popularity, and higher will that popularity rise if full and sufficient manning can be secured as I propose. In passing I would express gratification at the bettering of the Darjeeling School Buildings, to which I was obliged to call pointed attention two years ago, and would also beg to suggest that the Ministerial cadre of the Educational Department be separated from the Teaching cadre, as the present arrangement operates as a great hardship on the latter. My separate resolutions as regards this and the separation of the Translators' Department from the Educational Department were disallowed as being matters of policy and not of budget, and I cannot therefore press these matters by way of resolution. But I hope I may be permitted to draw Your Honour's attention to them under the leave kindly given by Your Honour on Saturday and in the hope that some action may be possible.

"The limited character of the Orissa Law stipends referred to in the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler's speech to-day also requires a passing word. There is a large number of non-Uriyas settled or working in Orissa whose sons have to be educated at Cuttack and who can neither claim nor establish an Orissa domicile. The stipends are provided because Cuttack cannot have its Law College, and these Bengali students would have been reading law at Cuttack without their being any way handicapped on account of their race if Cuttack continued to have a Law College. While some preference for Uriyas and domiciled Uriyas may for obvious reasons be necessary and desirable, other things being equal, Bengalis should hardly be handicapped and excluded for no worse fault than that in the service of the Government or in the exercise of their profession or calling their fathers and guardians are obliged to be in Orissa, though they cannot establish claim to a domicile there. Such differentiation is calculated to affect the harmony between the races, and ought to be out of place in our educational policy and educational institutions. The undesirable results of such 'provincialisation' in educational matters if I may call it so, were brought out with peculiar force by the answers of the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay this morning to the question of the Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad, when we learnt that though graduate teachers was the order of the day in the Bihar schools, ten years ago, graduate teachers cannot be maintained at this level in these schools because of the recent rule about Biharis getting a preference in the matter of these teacherships, and because of the inadequate number of Bihari graduates that are available.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD said:—"Your Honour,—I have much pleasure in supporting the Resolution which has been moved by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari. If the Resolution is carried through the Council or is accepted by the Government, the chances of the educational institutions in Bihar of getting larger sums of money towards their improvements are materially increased and strengthened. For example, if in addition to the sum of Rs. 42,000, which has been allotted in the next year's budget for improving the teaching staff of the Government Arts Colleges, we get a sum of Rs. 50,000 more, we may fairly hope that the Patna College may get an additional Professor, so that a B. A. class in Philosophy and M. A. classes in one or two subjects may be opened. Your Honour, education is a very important affair, and, as all of us know, on education depend the general advancement and progress of a people. Education should therefore form the first charge on the public revenues of a country. But I am sorry to note here that the Government has not fully accepted this view, though of late years there have been genuine and real efforts on behalf of the Government to look to the educational needs of the country; but here again, Sir, it is with much regret that I am constrained to point out that Government has very much neglected the education of the Biharis in the past. Biharis have not been given the same educational facilities which their brethren in Bengal enjoy, and I would not be far from the truth if I were to say that the backwardness of Bihar is due simply to the neglect of the Government. I shall just now illustrate my point by quoting certain figures which were supplied to the Council in reply to a question put by the Hon'ble Maharaj-Kumar of Tikari. These figures relate to the grants-in-aid given by the Government to the private colleges in Bengal in the years 1906 to 1909. Your Honour will find that in the year 1906-07 a total grant of Rs. 1,86,574 was given to all the colleges in Bengal, and out of this we find that Bihar got only Rs. 17,000, i.e., only 9 per cent. of the total grant. Similarly, in the year 1907-08 the total educational grant was Rs. 2,15,947, and out of this Bihar got only Rs. 15,585, i.e., 6·9 per cent. of the total grant. Then, in the year 1908-09, out of a total grant of Rs. 1,50,725 Bihar got only Rs. 15,755, i. e., only 10 per cent. of the total grant. In the year 1909-10, we find that there was a total grant of Rs. 1,66,514, and out of this Bihar got only Rs. 19,784, i.e., 11·4 per cent. of the total grant. Now, if we take up the grants made in all these years, we find that Bihar got very little, and to this fact I may venture to say that the backwardness of Bihar in education is due.

"These figures are very significant and speak for themselves. Now what justification the Government has for such a treatment of the educational claims of Bihar it is difficult to understand. But I may submit that there cannot possibly be any justification for it. When we take the case of individual private colleges of Bengal, the injustice done to Bihar in these respects becomes more flagrant."

THE PRESIDENT said:—"I am afraid the Hon'ble Member is wandering from his subject. There is nothing in the Resolution which discriminates between education in Bihar and Bengal. I must ask him to confine his remarks to the subject-matter before the Council."

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD said:—"Your Honour,—What I wanted to say was that if this Resolution were accepted by Your Honour, we would get more sums for education in Bihar. However, Sir, I shall only point out a few facts more as regards the individual colleges of Bengal. I will mention some instances. In all these four years, four colleges in Bihar got only a sum of Rs. 68,224, out of a total of Rs. 7,19,760, while one Missionary College in Calcutta, viz., the St. Xavier's College, got no less than Rs. 83,500; another private college in Calcutta, viz., the Bangabasi College, got as much as Rs. 1,26,450, i.e., about twice as much as was given to all the colleges together in Bihar. Then, if we take the case of the Daulatpur Academy in the Khulna district, which is a second-grade institution, we find that it got as much as Rs. 34,750. In Bihar we have got three first-grade private colleges, viz., the B. N. College, Bankipore, T. N. Jubilee College, Bhagalpur, and B. B. College, Muzaffarpur, and one second-grade college, namely, the Diamond Jubilee College at Monghyr. Coming to my own Division, i.e., Tirhut Division, I find that in all these four years the Muzaffarpur College, a first-grade college, got only Rs. 7,000, while the second-grade college in Khulna got Rs. 34,750, i.e., five times as much.

"I shall finish by saying that if this Resolution is carried through the Council, we shall have very great chance of getting larger sums of money for education in Bihar, and with these remarks I humbly support the Resolution of the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, and I hope that it will be carried through the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—"I have not before me, Your Honour, any Resolution which the Hon'ble Member for the Calcutta University intended to move, and yet the hon'ble gentleman who just now resumed his seat gave me to understand from his speech that there was a Resolution which he intended to support. The Hon'ble Member for the Calcutta University has referred to various subjects touching on educational matters. It is not my purpose, Sir, to make any remarks on those various points, but in his speech he made a reference to certain scholarships which have been awarded by Government, and he made certain remarks with regard to the claims of the different sections of the community who are residents of Orissa. As far as I understand, Sir, those scholarships were given for the benefit of the people of Orissa, and by that I understand, the people who are interested in the welfare of Orissa, and who mean to reside there permanently without reference to caste or colour or creed. But a person to be of service to a province must be a person who, by his past life, has shown that he takes an interest in the welfare of the province; and, that if he receives his education outside Orissa, his life ought to be spent in Orissa and for the benefit of the province. I have always advocated that a proportionate number of those scholarships should go to the domiciled Bengalis or people of other places who have settled down in Orissa, always bearing in mind that the proportion in which these scholarships are awarded to the different communities must be in proportion to the population of the different communities. And if the hon'ble gentleman has been informed from any source that there is objection to the domiciled Bengalis—the term, Sir, I have never been able to understand, and yet that is the term by which a person coming from Bengal and domiciled in Orissa is generally described, domiciled Bengali being a contradiction of terms—I should tell the Hon'ble Member that nobody ever objects to the domiciled Bengalis having their proper and legitimate share in these scholarships—a share such as the proportion of their population would justify in comparison with the population of the Uriyas generally. And as regards certain parts of the province being backward in education, I am not prepared to say that the whole burden of the education should lie on the shoulders of the Government. I myself come from that part of the country in Your Honour's rule, where education is as backward and perhaps more so than it is in Bihar. But certainly I do believe that if the people wish to avail themselves of the benefits of education which are within their reach, no Government convinced of an earnest desire on the part of the people to raise themselves to the rank of educated people, will hold its hands or fail to stretch forth a hand of ready help."

The Hon'ble MR. KÜCHLER said:—"I observe that the Hon'ble Member has inverted in his remarks the order of the Resolutions as given in the Agenda paper. As indicated there, it would appear that he intended to make the proposed reduction of expenditure under certain heads of the Education Budget contingent on the acceptance by the Council of his proposals for increased allotments for other educational objects. The new procedure is undoubtedly preferable, as however admirable the Hon'ble Member's proposals might possibly be, they must necessarily fall to the ground unless ways and means can be found to carry them out. Unfortunately the recommendations made by the Hon'ble Member in this respect cannot be said to be of a practical character. The chief proposal is that the allotment for inspection should be reduced by Rs. 1,30,000. Does the Hon'ble Member really put this forward as a serious business proposition? I presume that he is aware that the acceptance of his Resolution would mean the withdrawal from their present employment of a large number of inspecting officers, and those officers would either have to be provided with other posts, or to be compensated on account of their services being dispensed with. The former alternative is not practicable, unless new posts were created for the purpose, so that either contingency means large expenditure during 1910-11 and a consequent reduction, if not a total extinction, of the funds which the Hon'ble Member hopes to make available for the purposes he has in view. Quite apart from this consideration, however, I am compelled to take exception to the Hon'ble Member's proposals for the reduction of the inspecting staff. The Hon'ble Member is of opinion that this staff has been unduly increased at the expense of other branches of education. I must here seriously join issue with him. He does not intimate what branch of inspection is overstaffed, but I presume his criticisms apply more or less to all. As far as Sub-Inspectors are concerned, far from their number being excessive, complaints are constantly reaching me that they are still insufficient for the effective inspection of primary schools; nor is this astonishing when we consider that the total number of primary schools is over 37,000, and the number of Sub-Inspectors only 300. It is true that the previous training of these officers still leave much to be desired, but this consideration points to an increase rather than a reduction of expenditure. Again if we consider the higher inspecting agency, the Hon'ble Member will recollect that at the instance of the University the work of reporting on all higher schools to the Syndicate has lately been entrusted to the departmental Inspectors. The system has worked most satisfactorily and the Hon'ble Member, despite the disfavour with which he is apt to look on school inspection in general, will acknowledge that the Syndicate is indebted to those Inspectors for very valuable reports. All this, however, means an increase of work, and it is difficult therefore to see how the Hon'ble Member could advocate a decrease in the strength of the higher inspecting staff.

"I maintain, therefore, that the expenditure on inspection is by no means disproportionate to that on other branches of educational work, and that any increase of expenditure for that purpose has proceeded pari passu with increase of expenditure on other educational objects. This is illustrated even by the figures of the present budget which show that while inspection shows an addition of some sixty thousand rupees, the total budget allotment has increased by Rs. 5,60,000.

"On these grounds alone I think the Resolutions of the Hon'ble Member should be rejected, but I should like nevertheless to say a few words on the merits of the proposals he has made for additional support to other educational objects.

"(a) I agree with the Hon'ble Member that the acquisition of the market is desirable and would greatly add to the amenity of the surroundings of the Senate House. It is hardly, however, a matter for which a special grant is required. The University has now for many years past received large Imperial grants for general University purposes, including the acquisition of land and the erection of buildings. The total amount which has been contributed by the Imperial Government towards the Building fund since the year 1904-05 is Rs. 4,10,000, and the balance of the fund at the end of February 1910 was Rs. 1,81,985. In addition to this there is the University Reserve fund, the balance of which at the end of February was Rs. 6,08,015. The Government of India grant is, moreover, still being continued and for the next year Rs. 80,000, as will be seen from the Budget figures, has been given for general University purposes. No doubt the larger portion of this will be allotted to the Building fund. It is for the University, therefore, to decide whether it thinks it desirable to acquire the particular plot referred to by the Hon'ble Member or whether other plots adjacent to the present Senate House would suit its requirements better. A large piece of land has already been acquired at a cost of Rs. 1,96,348-13-6 as a site for the new library and Law College. There certainly seems to be no reason to supplement the liberal contribution of the Government of India by a special grant covering a similar purpose as suggested by the Hon'ble Member.

"(b) I have already, in introducing the Budget for Education, called attention to the sanction which has been given by the Secretary of State to the scheme for strengthening the staff of the Government colleges, and to the allotment of a sum of Rs. 42,000 for giving effect to the scheme as far as that is possible during the coming year. It will also be seen from the figures that to give full effect to this project a considerable additional allotment will be necessary the year after. In addition to all this, a sum of Rs. 6,000 has been set aside this year for improving the staff of the Sanskrit College, while, besides the posts contemplated in Mr. Earle's scheme, a number of others, at present on a temporary basis, have been created. Apparently, therefore, the Hon'ble Member's wishes in this matter have already been met. It is possible, however, that he intends that the sum already allotted should be increased by a further allotment of Rs. 50,000. No valid reason has, I think, been advanced by him for additional expenditure on this large scale. With the increased strength of staff, which has been sanctioned, a very considerable improvement has been made per saltum in the teaching capacity of the several Government colleges, and though I would be the last to maintain that we have now come to a dead stop, and that all further expansion is barred, I think that future additions to the teaching staff of the colleges should be gradual and in response to well-considered proposals from their respective governing bodies. No case appears to have been made out for an abrupt increase of expenditure as now proposed by the Hon'ble Member, especially as such additions, as may in future be found necessary, will be largely with respect to tutorial and therefore comparatively inexpensive appointments.

"As regards free quarters or house allowances for college professors, it has been laid down by the Government of India that the former shall only be given to such professors as undertake specific duties in connexion with the supervision of students outside college hours, and it has not been thought advisable to give allowances in lieu of such quarters. The general question of the adequacy of the salaries of professors in Government colleges, which to judge from his remarks, the Hon'ble Member seems partly to have had in mind in proposing an increased allotment under this head, cannot be disposed of in the way here suggested. It is entirely a separate matter and is, I may state, at present under the consideration of Government.

"(c) Here again I presume that the Hon'ble Member is aware that a considerable allotment has been made for recurring grants-in-aid to private colleges—the actual distribution during the current year was Rs. 77,080—and that therefore what he really wants is that the amount in question should be increased by Rs. 50,000. It is of course easy to distribute this or any other sum to private colleges. One way alone, in which it could be absorbed, would be by a general increase of salaries, and the Hon'ble Member seems indeed to suggest something of the kind in the course of his remarks. I am afraid, however, that each application for an increased grant-in-aid must be considered on its merits, and I can assure the Hon'ble Member that such applications will always receive sympathetic consideration. It is obviously undesirable to budget for a large increase of the allotment under this head on the strength merely of general considerations, and a resolution of Council recommending an additional lump allotment of this kind would be tantamount to asking Government to give grants-in-aid, either where they have not been applied for, or where on a careful scrutiny applications for such grants have already been rejected. The same arguments apply also to the case of the other classes of institutions mentioned in the Hon'ble Member's resolution. Industrial and technical schools are already largely aided both by Government and District Boards, and each application must be considered separately. The purely departmental grants to these schools amount to Rs. 23,287.

"(d) The control of Middle Vernacular schools and Middle English schools rests with the District Boards wherever such exist. Any increased aid would therefore have to be made through these bodies. This would involve an increased grant from the provincial revenues to the District Boards for educational purposes, and probably the Hon'ble Member contemplates that the additional allotment in the budget should be made in this way. I am in sympathy with the Hon'ble Member as to the desirability of improving Middle Vernacular and Middle English education, but such a matter can hardly be effected by haphazard increase in the budget allotment. It must follow on a well considered and systematic scheme dealing with the whole question, and as the Hon'ble Member will have gathered from the answer to one of the questions put in to-day's meeting, the matter, which is part of the general question of the improvement of secondary education, is at present receiving the attention of Government.

"(e) In proposing an increase of Rs. 5,800 for Maktabs and other Muhammadan institutions, the Hon'ble Member is probably unaware of the provision that has already been made not only in the present, but also in the last year's budget for this purpose. Prior to the present year the amount of our grants-in-aid to Maktabs was Rs. 16,250. This year we increased it by Rs. 21,386 and next year we shall probably be in a position to raise the total grant to Rs. 50,000. We also provided Rs. 3,380 last year for Madrasas under Mr. Earle's scheme. We have given grants on generous lines to every Madrasa that has applied and that has been willing to adjust itself to the conditions of aid imposed by Government. In face of these figures it is unlikely that the Hon'ble Member will wish to press for a relatively insignificant increase of Rs. 5,800.

"(f) Similar considerations hold good with regard to the proposed additional grant for assisting private institutions for imparting education to females. There is no doubt great scope for expansion in this field, but a considerable amount, i.e., Rs. 59,210, has already been provided in the budget for aiding such institutions, and I look forward with confidence to the time when this allotment will be largely increased.

"It is difficult, however, to see what result the addition of the meagre sum of Rs. 5,000 is expected to produce. There is no more important problem awaiting solution than that of female education; but the question of finance enters into it only in a minor degree and it is useless to provide funds before their application has been carefully thought out.

"While, however, I cannot support the resolutions of the Hon'ble Member, I acknowledge the discussion has served a useful purpose. No doubt, several of his proposals have been put forward under a misapprehension of what is actually being done by Government, and I trust that my explanations have shewn that Government is not inattentive to the claims of the educational objects for which the Hon'ble Member has pleaded to-day. At any rate they may have helped to put in a clearer light what has already been done in the directions indicated."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"Sir, in reply, I would not like to go over the whole of the ground traversed by my friend for the obvious reason that, having regard to his very decided views, not much useful purpose would be served by my rejoinder in the way of shaping the views of the majority of the Council. But as my friend has extended an invitation to me to acknowledge that the Government is not inattentive to the educational needs of the country, it is an invitation that I cannot possibly refuse. That acknowledgment is and is bound to be cordial and whole-hearted, though it is but an acknowledgment of a mere truism. If I felt that the Government was not and was not inclined to be attentive to our educational needs or was at all inattentive, I should not have been taking up the time of this Council and my own time for the matter of that, by pressing these needs with what is apt to be regarded as disagreeable persistency, as I have felt it my duty to press. Not only do I gladly acknowledge what my Hon'ble friend has invited me to acknowledge, but I am glad to be able also to acknowledge, Sir, that some of our recommendations have already been accepted and borne fruit. What we are trying to do to-day—if the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction would help and co-operate with us—is to try to make the best of the available resources and to supply and meet the more pressing needs.

"The Hon'ble Member has said that no case has been made out for increased staffing of Government Colleges in the way I propose. The case has been made out by the Hon'ble Member himself in his own speech, in which he says:—

'This scheme was the outcome of the (new) University Regulations, and received the final sanction of the Secretary of State on 21st May, 1909. It involves the creation of a large number of new posts in the Indian Educational Service, Provincial Educational Service and Subordinate Educational Service, the total cost of which amounts to Rs. 1,40,840. As, however, it was necessary to satisfy the requirements of the University, as far as possible, immediately after the promulgation of the regulations, a number of temporary appointments had already been created in anticipation of the Secretary of State's sanction. The cost of these temporary appointments amounted last year to Rs. 45,000. The Rs. 42,000 in the schedule represents the additional cost which the introduction of the complete scheme will entail next year. It will be seen that expenditure for that year, namely, Rs. 87,000, still falls considerably short of the maximum figure, namely, Rs. 1,40,840. This is mainly due to the fact that it will not be possible to recruit several Professors in the Indian Educational Service for the present.'

"From my point of view the only question now is as to whether the service should be brought up to the requisite strength this year or later, and whether the newly-introduced Inspection charges ought not to wait. Both the branches of the service need strengthening according to the Hon'ble Member, and for reasons not very obvious, the Hon'ble Member shows preference to the Inspection Branch. I plead for the other and the more important branch, which cannot be said not to be in need of strengthening.

"Then, Sir, the Hon'ble Member has said that we ought to know what to do with the Rs. 50,000 demanded for the private colleges. The Hon'ble Member and myself and our colleagues on the Syndicate have experienced numerous difficulties over the distribution of sums annually alike for private colleges, but I cannot understand the Hon'ble Member's present perplexity. He knows as well as I know what a difficult, delicate and embarrassing task it is to apportion out Rs. 80,000 among private colleges, whose demands could not be fully met by ten times as much money. There could be absolutely no difficulty or perplexity in distributing all the money that we could have and for the best of purposes.

"With regard to inspection charges, my friend has reminded me of the invaluable services that his Inspectors have rendered to the University, and I should feel wretched and miserable indeed if I were not cordially to acknowledge the excellent, and I may say the splendid, service which the inspecting department has rendered to the University, but for which its work would have been considerably more difficult in the absence of its own inspection agency. But, Sir, that work is by no means new, but has been going on since 1907 when the inspection charges stood at Rs. 6,27,000. In fact the brunt of the work fell on those that worked in the beginning, when we were obliged to have frequent whole-day Syndicate meetings to dispose of these very helpful reports. The work is now comparatively easy and of the routine type, and is not responsible for the immense increase in the inspection charges since. I would in all seriousness ask if we have had better or more inspection since? And do we need it? If not, why these charges? Of course the Department thinks that we must have extra inspection before the service proper is in full working order.

"That is a matter of adjustment which I ask this Council to make. I myself think it best to let the teachers and professors do their work in the best of their light and to the best of their skill and ability, without too much inspection and, I was going almost to say, interference. If need be, more inspection may come later when we are better off. If it is to be a choice of evil, I would let the augmentation of the Inspection department stand over awhile, while we manned our colleges better. I therefore invite my Hon'ble friend to forego the increase of the Rs. 60,000 for the inspection which he is adding this year, less the Technical Inspector's pay, and I hope my friend will consider this at least to be 'business like.'

"Regarding the grant for the University Buildings extension, if there is any difficulty with regard to what I ask for, I am ready to withdraw it, if thereby I may advance the other causes which I advocate. Supposing again that my friend does not himself now want more money for the Government colleges, we think it would immensely benefit the private colleges if they could get fifty or sixty thousand rupees which would be set free if inspection charges be not added to. Why should we not have this at all events?

"These are matters, Sir, that are within the rights of the Council to determine, and it may be convenient if Your Honour is pleased to put this Resolution, section by section, to the Council, so that if one particular section is rejected, other sections may probably be benefited. Of course, as I admit there are difficulties this year which may stand in the way of the University grant being allowed, though I do not admit that the University can do the extension work out of its own resources, whether they be reserved funds or otherwise; some Government grants in this direction will be badly needed later on, and I am glad my friend has been good enough to admit the necessity of the work.

"With regard to the question of female education, my friend seems to fear that we might not know what to do even if a grant is made. I think that lady-educationists like Miss Dass and Mrs. Roy, who have devoted their life-energy to the cause can tell him that the question is not what to do with the money, but the question is how to get money. Let the money be found and the apportionment will be in no way difficult. As my friend has said nothing as to the Presidency College and Student Mess grants, I suppose and hope he will carefully take into his consideration my suggestions.

"As regards the observations of my Hon'ble friend, Mr. Das, regarding the Orissa scholarships, I am afraid my Hon'ble friend is labouring under a misapprehension. I did not mean that preferential treatment should not be accorded to the class for whose benefit the stipends are primarily given; all that I tried to get the Council to say is that Bengalis as such should not be excluded by reason of their race and some arrangements ought to be possible by which all the sections of the Community—Uriyas or domiciled Uriyas, as the Hon'ble Mr. Das would like to put it, as well as non-domiciled Bengalis—could participate in the benefaction. As I gather, my Hon'ble friend has and could have no objection to this, and for this I venture to plead.

The Resolution was then put and lost.

The foregoing Resolution having been lost, the following Resolution, of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice, was not moved:—

The Council further recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the following reductions be made in the Budget:—

(a) Reduction of one lakh and thirty thousand rupees under the heading "Inspection", under the major head "Education", and of Rs. 5,000 under the heading "Preparation and Translation of Science Text-books".

(b) Reduction of fifty thousand rupees under "Lump provision for grants for works of sanitary improvements".

The Hon'ble MR. DAS then moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the necessary arrangements be made for teaching history in the Ravenshaw College, Cuttack."

He said:—"Sir, with Your Honour's permission, I should like to inform the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay that it is not my intention to demand any large sum. Demands for large sums have been previously made, and consequently a further demand may make the Member in charge nervous about this motion. There is a necessity for a lecturer in History in the Ravenshaw College. The cost of maintaining a lecturer for twelve months will, according to the information I have received from the Director of Public Instruction, be from Rs. 1,500 to Rs 1,800. As regards the necessity for such a lecturer, I should only draw Your Honour's attention to certain remarks which have been made from time to time by the Director of Public Instruction, both the present Director, the Hon'ble Mr Küchler, and Mr. James who officiated for a time as Director when Mr. Küchler was away. At the commencement of this year's session the need for a lecturer in History was brought to the notice of the Director of Public Instruction by two of the successive Principals of the Ravenshaw College. But the then Director stated that a timely application had not been made, while at the same time he admitted both in private conversation and in official correspondence that there was certainly a necessity for such a professor. I remember, Sir, having met Mr. James at a private social gathering when everybody interested in the education of young people in Orissa actually pressed the claim of the Ravenshaw College for a lecturer in History before him. There were non-official gentlemen who were interested in education generally, there were people who were parents of the students, there were the professors and the Principal of the Ravenshaw College, and the Commissioner of the Division. All these agreed that there was a necessity for such a lecturer. But, Sir, we were told that the application had come too late, and Mr. James said that people who did not come in time for the train must wait for the next train, and so I have taken this opportunity of coming before Your Honour before the next train is due. But I learn from some source that even now the present Director is inclined to say that there is no room in the train, so you must wait further. My application is one which does not require any disjoining of the budget. I find that there is provision of Rs. 42,000 for the improvement of the instructive staff of the colleges. So the question before the Council and before Your Honour is whether, under the circumstances, Ravenshaw College ought to have a share (not a big share) to the extent of Rs. 1,800 annually. The budget does not show if any final decision has been made as regards how this amount is to be distributed amongst the several colleges; nor does it show as to whether any share of this has been allowed to Ravenshaw College. Consequently the question presents itself before this Council in this form, Sir—whether, taken on its merits, the claims of Ravenshaw College for a lecturer of History are such as ought to commend themselves to the Hon'ble Members of this Council and to Your Honour. During the commencement of the present session there were fifty students who were willing and even anxious to have passed in science. Limited accommodation in the Science Laboratory could provide only for 14 in Chemistry, 14 in Physics and 24 in Botany. Very many of the Intermediate in Arts students wanted to take up either Botany or Chemistry, but they could not be educated because there was not sufficient accommodation as required under the new regulations of the Calcutta University. There was no alternative for these students but to take up Mathematics, and Mathematics is not always a congenial subject for students. Sir, I beg to submit that, under the new Regulations, an option is given to students in the choice of subjects, and certainly, Sir, if a college is so equipped with regard to its instructive staff as to compel a student to take up a subject which is not congenial to him, such college under these circumstances does not fulfil the object which the University had in introducing the new system of education. Besides I should mention also that Mr. James in one of his letters wrote that the history teaching of the college was very desirable, and trusted that this may be satisfactorily arranged for next year. He again said in another letter that it was a necessity and he regretted that he was unable to make arrangements for the current session, but pointed out that every effort will be made to appoint a lecturer in 1910. Then, Sir, the financial aspect of the college shows that the earning from fees was Rs. 320 more per mensem in 1909-10 than in 1908-09. So we have an additional income of Rs. 300, and all that I want, Sir, is that the pay of a lecturer, which is Rs. 125 or Rs. 150, may be met out of this. If the Director of Public Instruction has made up his mind finally as to how this Rs. 42,000 are to be spent, though there is nothing in the Budget to show that any final decision has been arrived at on this point, I appeal to the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay. He told us that he has given us Rs. 52,000 or Rs. 53,000 for the Civil Courts building; that is bound to remain incomplete during next year; and if he gives us Rs. 1,800 out of that that would be more incomplete by perhaps 1,000 cubic feet of mortar and brick work, and the college will be provided with a professor. As a last resort, Sir, I beg to submit that I undertake to raise the required amount if Your Honour directs the Director of Public Instruction to appoint a lecturer of History. I am sure the hon'ble gentleman who represents the landlords of Orissa will join me in raising this sum, should it come to the necessity and the Government have such a tight grip on its purse."

The Hon'ble RAJENDRA NARAYAN BHANJA DEO said:—"With Your Honour's permission, I wish to make a brief remarks about the teaching of History in the Ravenshaw College. I have heard complaints of inconvenience and hardship to which the students of Ravenshaw College are put to at present for want of a lecturer in History. A lecturer in History is, in my opinion, a necessity. If Government cannot find funds for this purpose, I will be glad to join with the Hon'ble Mr. Das in raising subscriptions for this purpose, and I am sure there will be no difficulty about raising this small amount of Rs. 1,800."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"Sir, I do not think that there will be any difficulty in finding Rs. 1,800 out of the general funds available to the Government Apart from the kind offer which my Hon'ble friend Rajendra Narayan Bhanja Deo has made, and which I do not think it will be necessary to accept at present, there are funds placed at the hands of the Commissioner of the different Divisions for petty works, and it may be possible, as a temporary measure, to utilize some of these grants for this purpose. Afterwards, this small sum may be found out of the Budget without much inconvenience to any department concerned."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"Sir, I beg to support this proposal, and whether the rider which the Hon'ble Mr. Das has added will make it more acceptable to the Council, I do not know. That there is a clear necessity for it has long been acknowledged, and it would profit those students who are willing to take up the history course, and who have special aptitude for the subject which they can but exercise in the historic land of Orissa, replete with its unique and magnificient monuments.. I therefore support this motion."

The Hon'ble MR. KÜCHLER said:—"Sir, I have not been able to catch all that fell from the Hon'ble mover, but so far as I can gather, the facts as stated were substantially correct. The matter is, however, not quite so simple as appears at first sight. The difficulty is that the Ravenshaw College is a small college, that is to say, a college which has a very small number of students attending it, and according to the rules of the University, whether a college be small or large, for affiliation in a fresh subject it must have an addition of one or two professors, and the consequence is that in the case of small colleges they have to keep a number of professors which is disproportionate to the total number of students, and the carrying on of the work of the college becomes unduly expensive.

"I may mention for instance, that the Ravenshaw College has already received two professors in addition to what was contemplated in Mr. Earle's scheme, so that it cannot exactly be said that Government has not treated this college with a sufficient amount of generosity. Then, as regards the Rs. 42,000 to which the Hon'ble Mr. Das refers, I may also inform him, if the distance is not too great for him to hear, that a very considerable portion of this amount has been earmarked for the Ravenshaw College, and over and above this, there are one or two temporary appointments which have also had to be provided in the budget for 1910-11.

"A more hard-hearted Director might therefore be inclined to give this as a reason for refusing consideration of the Hon'ble Mr. Das' proposal. At the same time, I think, and of course, Mr. Das is acquainted with my views, that the Ravenshaw College has got strong claims to have a professor in history. History is a very popular subject, and what is more important, it is also a very desirable subject for inclusion in a University course, and I am therefore prepared to accept the Resolution as an abstract proposition, allowing the question of ways and means to be decided later on."

The Hon'ble MR. M. S. DAS said:—"I am sorry that I should have been misunderstood. I did not mean to say, and as far as I remember, I did not say that I thought the Senate treated the Ravenshaw College ungenerously. It is perhaps the distance which accounted for this."

The Resolution was then put and carried.

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XX.—Medical.

Expenditure—

24.—Medical

He said:—"I have now to introduce, Sir, the Budget estimates of the Medical Department.

"On the receipt side the revised has been taken at Rs. 2,84,000 in comparison with Rs. 2,90,000 in the Budget for 1909-10. The small difference was mainly due to an anticipated falling off in the receipts from paying patients. The Budget for 1910-11 has been fixed at Rs. 2,98,000, the higher provision being mainly on account of the increased contributions promised by the Calcutta Corporation to the Campbell and Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospitals.

"As regards expenditure, the revised stands at Rs. 23,39,000 as against the sanctioned estimate of Rs. 25,20,000. The most noticeable savings were in the provisions for the improvement of the pay of the Civil Medical Assistants, and the reorganisation of the Sanitary Department. Neither scheme was brought into force during the year, but the former will, it is hoped, be given effect to very shortly. Savings of Rs. 27,500 under grants to mufassal hospitals and of Rs. 55,000 under expenditure upon measures for the prevention of plague are also anticipated. Till latterly the severity of the disease had lessened appreciably, but the returns since November, 1909, have unfortunately shown a large rise in the mortality from this cause.

"The Budget for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 25,16,000, or Rs. 1,77,000 in excess of the revised. The important changes are the following:—Rupees 32,520 have been provided for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, and Rs. 41,000 for similar action in the case of Assistant Surgeons. Recommendations in the latter instance were submitted some time ago, but discussion ensued with the Government of India whose orders are still awaited. We do not as yet know what form the reorganisation will take, but we have provided a lump sum roughly estimated on the assumption that the scheme submitted by us has effect from the middle of the year. A new item of Rs. 4,000 appears for house allowance to medical assistants in lieu of quarters, and of Rs. 18,000 for the establishment required at the new surgical block in the Medical College Hospital, for the equipment of which Rs. 50,675 has also been entered. We have cut the provision for grants to mufassal hospitals and dispensaries rather fine, but the grants already sanctioned have been met, and the financial position scarcely allows of much expansion of expenditure under this head at the present moment. Under the Sanitary Department the provision for an inspector of septic tank installations is new, although this officer is now working and has been found very useful in controlling the working of these tanks in the mills along the Hooghly. We have not made provision for the reorganisation of the Sanitary Department, since there is no immediate hope of orders being passed. The provision for grants in-aid of plague preventive measures (Rs. 48,500) is perceptibly smaller than in the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 (Rs. 90,000), but it is hoped that it will prove sufficient. A new appointment of a Professor of Anatomy is proposed at the Medical College, and Rs. 6,000 appears on this account, while as Hon'ble Members are doubtless aware, Captain Greig of the Indian Medical Service is at present making an inquiry into the causes of Beri-beri, and this has been provided for in so far as it will be a provincial charge.

"The new buildings to be undertaken in the Medical Department (although they appear in the Public Works Budget) are detailed in paragraph 59 of the General Review accompanying the Revised Financial Statement The Medical College, Calcutta, comes in for the lion's share, and this is in continuation of the heavy expenditure upon this institution in recent years. The works recommended, however, are all important. The new surgical block must be finished, and the fourth block gone on with. We had to stop work on the latter structure this year owing to financial pressure, since it was considered preferable to push on with the surgical block. The new block requires new nurses, and they have to be housed. The Clewer Sisters, who have long been honourably connected with the Hospital in supervising charge of the nursing arrangements, are about to withdraw from this responsibility at their own request. The proposal is to recruit four Lady Superintendents in their place, and for these too quarters are needed. The improvements to the Biological and Chemical Laboratories are required in order to allow of the more elaborate courses under the new University regulations being adequately taught. The ward for insane lepers at Gobra is a useful and badly needed project, since these lepers are at present confined in the ordinary Lunatic Asylums, to which the objections are obvious, and I can speak from personal knowledge in saying that the Civil Surgeon's residence at Darbhanga is badly in want of improvement. Attention was recently drawn in this Council to the condition of the frontage to the Temple Medical School at Patna, and the provision for its improvement is in redemption of the promise that the matter should not be lost sight of."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant Governor that a provision of Rs. 8,000 be made for special investigation about the causes and spread of Beri-beri, and for taking such preventive and curative measures as may be recommended to the Government by its expert advisers and the Faculty."

He said:—"That this disease is committing great havoc in different parts of the country is abundantly clear from the recent report of the Health Officer of Calcutta, though his observations are naturally confined to the Metropolis where the outbreak is most serious. The report is quite recent and must be fresh in the minds of the members of the Council, and I shall not take up time by referring to it in detail. The Health Officer admits that the situation is a 'gloomy' one, but he consoles us that 'all are equally helpless and human knowledge is wanting to battle with the disease'. He therefore excuses the Health Department and defends its not taking 'unwarranted and unreasonable action in the face of panic' Luckily for us all, there is no overt indication of the 'panic' referred to by the Health Officer, though repeated reference to 'panic' is likely to make the situation more 'gloomy' and 'serious', to borrow the Health Officer's own words. What is wanted no doubt, is that 'unwarranted' and 'unreasonable' action should be avoided as the Health Officer rightly claims and suggests, whether a 'panic' exists or not. But what is still more wanted is that 'warranted' and 'reasonable' action should be taken and 'panic' should not be created where none yet exists. The best way of avoiding such panic and grappling with the situation would be to obtain the best available expert opinion, and the Government has with commendable promptitude deputed a special officer, on the Health Department of Calcutta expressing itself unequal to the task. But the deputation of a single officer, however eminent and energetic, may not be sufficient when the sanitary security of the Metropolis as well as the whole countryside is in question, and the Resolution that I have the honour of moving invites more vigorous action in this direction, by way of at least reassuring the public against possible 'panic.'

"To malaria, cholera and small-pox the country has long been accustomed, and it is getting daily familiar with plague, regarding which the Hon'ble Dr. Lukis has recently made an authoritative pronouncement in the Imperial Council. Such an authoritative pronouncement, whatever its advantage and consolation may be, is not yet possible in the case of this new dread agency of death, and slow and steady decay which in many cases is worse than death, the ravages of which are growing apace every day. There is one aspect of the spread and development of this fell disease, however, which finds no place in the Health Officer's long, though hardly exhaustive, note in which negatives predominate, and that is that the victims are largely zenana ladies of the better classes who, by habits and customs of the country, as well as by reason of the faulty construction and cramped conditions of their residences, as well as of their congested neighbourhood, have little chances of freely breathing pure air. These cases generally improve when removed from the locality of the origin of the disease to purer and freer surroundings, and it would be of interest to know if the daily growing congestion of our towns is not responsible for the rapid growth and continued persistence of the disease which is making its way into the country from the town.

"There are well-known plague spots in Calcutta for example—well known to the Health Department—in which plague, cholera and small-pox regularly appear the earliest, linger the longest and commit most havoc, and it would be of interest to know if these are not also the very spots which Beri-beri or epidemic dropsy, by whatever name it be called, select as favourite hunting grounds. And the pettiest schemes of purely local improvement round these spots, no matter of what standing and however inexpensive they may be, have been hung up in some cases because of the comprehensive town improvement scheme for which the heart is sick and weary with waiting.

"The Health Officer quotes the Board of Health which, in its turn, says that 'for want of knowledge as to the cause of the disease it is impossible to prescribe measures for its prevention and that active measures cannot be taken.' It would be 'serious,' 'gloomy' and causative of 'panic' indeed if the state of helpless inactivity was long to continue, and special measures seem to be imperatively called for.

"My Resolution does not seek to imply and does not imply that the Government is not fully alive to the seriousness of the situation, for, in fact, the deputation of Captain Greig implies that it is much more alive to it than the Health Department of Calcutta. But as the area of ravages is large and the causation may be manifold, larger measures than is implied by this deputation seem necessary.

"The Malaria Commission and the Plague Conferences that we have had somewhat late in the day warrant the suggestion that early, vigorous and sustained efforts are needed for grappling with newly-created situations like those brought about by the advent of Beri-beri, and I hope that in the interest of the whole Province the Resolution which calls pointed attention to the situation will find acceptance at the hands of this Council and the Government. Here is a peculiar field of inquiry in which non-official medical talent might be advantageously and considerably associated; and I have learned with great satisfaction that my esteemed friend Dr. Nil Rutton Sarkar, one of the acknowledged and foremost leaders of the Faculty, is to be associated in the inquiry. But even that will not be enough when such a large, mysterious and difficult field is concerned, and more determined efforts are necessary."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER said:—"The Hon'ble Member himself admits that the object of his present Resolution is rather to draw attention to the existing state of affairs than to justify any alteration in the Budget figures. No indication is given as to the cost of the measures which he suggests should be undertaken from the increased provision. He might just as well have asked for a lakh or half a lakh as Rs. 8,000, so far as his speech provides us with any material for judging the nature of the expenditure which he desires. He asks for special measures, but the necessary preliminary of special measures is knowledge, and it is this knowledge that we are at the present moment in search of. It is unfortunately the case that instances of Beri-beri have appeared in Calcutta, but it is not a new disease. There have been cases in Kurseong and in the Duars, and in this connection various inquiries have already been made which were, however, not very conclusive. Our medical advisers are at present unaware of various features connected with the disease, and are unable to advise authoritatively. There is nothing new or strange about this. For instance, it was many years before anything definite was ascertained about malaria. In the course of the epidemics between 1860 and 1880 malaria was ascribed to almost anything, and it was long after it was known as a disease that the mosquito theory became accepted. In the case of plague also, in more recent times, the prevalent theories have varied considerably. However, the facts being as they are, when the matter attracted attention, this Government did all that was possible and asked for the services of a medical officer to investigate the causes of the outbreak. The Government of India deputed Captain Greig of the Indian Medical Service, and he is now working with a subordinate staff and a special laboratory in this city. I should explain that, in case it is thought that the Budget provision is unduly small, we are only required to pay the additional cost of Captain Greig's deputation and the incidental expenditure. The sum of Rs. 2,000 provided will be adequate to meet the cost of the present inquiry. We are not aware what progress Captain Greig has made with his inquiry, and it would not be desirable to press him to make a premature pronouncement. Surely instances of the harm done by premature claims to the discovery of cancer cures, consumption cures and so on must be known to all. Captain Greig may be able to give us definite advice as to what to do, or he may not; we can only wait and see. The only point is that for the present, and so far as this Budget is concerned, we have done all that we need or can do. It would be most unwise and would only conduce to the panic, which the Hon'ble Member apprehends, to provide for special measures in casual directions at this stage, merely in order to show the public that we are doing something. I fail therefore to see that there can be any necessity for this small additional provision, and I cannot recommend the Council to accept it for the only purpose which is to-day relevant, viz., as a basis of a change in the Budget. For the purpose which the Hon'ble Member apparently has in mind, viz., that attention should be drawn to the prevalence of Beri-beri, that fact was recognised some time ago."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"Sir, if the provision of Rs. 8,000 is likely to cause panic, I am afraid the provision of Rs. 2,000 to which the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler has referred by way of reassuring me will cause at least a quarter of a panic. But that is not the way I have looked at the question. I looked about for ways and means and found that Rs. 8,000 can easily be taken away from the Temple School, the frontal adornment of which, that has been budgeted for, may well wait. I am afraid, Sir, the scope of the inquiry and its pace must be a little larger and quicker than is implied in the deputation of the Special Officer working in the laboratory, associated though he may be with non-official medical men. But if the Government has made provision for all the contingencies that may arise, there is really no necessity for my pressing the Resolution. My real object in moving the Resolution was to draw attention to the question, as the Hon'ble Member has rightly divined, and I believe my purpose has been fully attained, having regard to the assurances that the Hon'ble Member has given."

The Resolution was then withdrawn, together with the following Resolution of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that the following item in the Budget under the heading "Medical" be omitted:—

"Improvement of the frontage of the Temple Medical School—Rs. 8,000."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

X.—Registration.

Expenditure—

12.—Registration.

He said:—"The estimated receipts of the Registration Department will be found on page 27, and the estimated expenditure on page 44 of the Financial Statement. There is but little for me to say concerning these figures. The receipts are estimated at Rs. 14,87,000—a decrease of Rs. 63,000 on the previous year's estimate; but, except from a financial point of view, this decrease is rather a matter for congratulation. The crops of the last year have been good and the cultivators have curtailed their borrowing and have found it unnecessary to mortgage their lands to the same extent: the number of registrations anticipated next year is therefore smaller.

"The total expenditure of the department amounts to 8·13 lakhs,—a decrease of a few thousand rupees, compared with the estimate of last year.

"A sum of Rs. 19,030 has been provided in the Civil Works Budget for a necessary extension to the record-room at Muzaffarpur and for new offices at Onda and Indus, in the district of Bankura, where the present rented offices are unsuitable.

"There are many urgent projects in the Registration Department, but it has not been found possible to provide for more than three. The rest must await a more prosperous year."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXIII.—Stationery and Printing.

Expenditure—

39.—Stationery and Printing.

He said:—"As regards the estimates of the Stationery and Printing Departments, there is a small reduction of Rs. 8,000 in the revised estimate on the receipt side, made in view of the available actuals. The Budget for 1910-11 (Rs. 1,34,000) is Rs. 1,000 in excess of the sanctioned estimate for the current year, and calls for no particular remarks.

"Turning to expenditure, the revised shows an anticipated saving of Rs. 41,000, but the budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 45,000 in excess of the sanctioned estimate of the current year. The only important difference is under the head of Government Presses, which shows an increase of Rs. 48,500.

"The subject of our printing arrangements has caused considerable anxiety during the current year, during which it was considered by a departmental committee. The demands upon the Press continue to increase, and this process is not likely to slacken. The enlargement of this Council is only one of various causes tending in that direction. At present our printing is done mainly at the Secretariat Press and in the Presidency Jail; there is a small Press at Darjeeling, and another for the Lieutenant-Governor's use at Belvedere. The Secretariat Press is hopelessly congested, and work is carried on there under conditions of extreme difficulty; it is more than likely that at no very distant date the province will have to face the expenditure of constructing a new Press elsewhere. For the present we hope to get along with temporary expedients. Printing is to be an important industry in the new Presidency Jail, and in the Public Works Budget a provision of Rs. 2,50,000 has been made for buildings, the total estimated cost of which is Rs. 5,08,372. It is hoped, by pushing on with this, that it will be found possible to vacate the Paid division of the present Presidency Jail Press, which is separated from the Jail, and to make this over for the accommodation of a section of the Secretariat Press.

"Otherwise we are trying to save space, time and labour by substituting machinery more extensively for hand work, and this accounts for a provision of Rs. 36,592. Finally, we are trying to get more work done outside the Secretariat, and an item of Rs. 20,000 appears for the printing of the Indian Law Reports by private agency."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXIX.—Irrigation—Major Works.

XXX.—Minor Works and Navigation.

Expenditure—

42.—Irrigation—Major Works—Working Expenses.

43.—Minor Works and Navigation.

He said:—"In introducing the Budget estimate for Irrigation works for 1910-11, I would explain as follows:—

"Irrigation works in Bengal are classed under three heads, viz.—

(1) Protective works which are constructed from funds given from Imperial revenues.

(2) Productive works which are constructed from Imperial loan funds.

(3) Minor works which are constructed from Provincial revenues.

"The Protective works are the Tribeni and Dhaka Canals in the district of Champaran. The former is now under construction, and the latter was opened for irrigation in 1906-07, from which date its working has been provincialized.

"The works classed as Productive are the Sone, Orissa, Midnapore and Hijili Tidal Canals. The first three are utilized chiefly for irrigation, and the last for navigation only. The working of these four projects was, under orders of the Secretary of State, provincialized in 1878-79. When a work is provincialized the Local Government receives the revenue realized from it, and provides the cost of its upkeep and maintenance as well as the interest charges on the expenditure incurred from borrowed money.

"All receipts from Productive and Protective works are shown in the Budget under head XXIX—Major Works—Receipts. All charges for the maintenance and interest for these works are shown under the head 42—Major Works.

"The receipts from all other irrigation and navigation works in Bengal, including embankments and drainage works, are shown under head XXX, and the expenditure under head 43—Minor Works and Navigation. Under the latter head is also included any expenditure in the capital account of the Productive works, as such expenditure is now met from Provincial revenues.

"I would explain that a work is classed as Productive if it is expected that within ten years after completion the revenue derived from it will suffice to pay the annual interest on the capital invested, including the arrears of simple interest and all indirect charges.

"Unfortunately none of the works in Bengal classed as Productive have realized these expectations. The capital (direct charges) expended on these works up to end of 1908-09 is Rs. 6,27,88,766, of which Rs. 6,12,89,104 was met from Imperial loans and Rs. 14,99,662 from Provincial revenues. The interest on the former, which now amounts to Rs. 20,91,000 per annum, is a provincial charge. During the past few years the net revenue from the Sone Canals has been just sufficient to cover the interest charges, but the gross revenue from the Orissa, Midnapore, and Hijili Tidal Canals has been only slightly in excess of the working expenses.

"The net result is that these works now impose a burden of about 8½ lakhs per annum on the provincial revenues. This is, however, better than three years ago when it was over 10 lakhs.

"The revenue derived from these canals is chiefly from the rates levied for the irrigation of the rice crop; the area of other crops irrigated is small except on the Sone Canals. The revenue derived from tolls for navigation has in recent years considerably decreased owing to the competition of railways. The area of rice irrigation does not now fluctuate much, and that of rabi depends on the autumn rainfall.

"The area of rice now under irrigation is nearly the maximum that can be irrigated with the supply of water available. Every endeavour is being made to teach the cultivators to be more economical in the use of the water, but only a very slow progress in such economy can be expected. The working expenses of the canals have been reduced to a minimum. The only method therefore of increasing the revenue and thereby decreasing the burden of interest which this province has to bear is to increase the rates levied for irrigation. These rates are now very low on the Orissa and Midnapore Canals as compared with those on the Sone and on canals in other provinces.

"It must be remembered, however, that these irrigation canals, besides improving the general condition of the tracts irrigated from them, form a valuable protection from famine and avoid the necessity of expenditure on relief works in years of drought. The area irrigated from the Sone Canals during the triennial period ending 1908-09 averaged 622,000 acres per annum, and the revenue derived from this irrigation, nearly 16 lakhs of rupees. As practically the whole of this revenue was realized each year as it fell due, it may be concluded that the rates at which it was assessed did not press heavily on the cultivators.

"The receipts from Major Works during the current year will be the highest on record and considerably larger than expected, owing to the rabi area irrigated on the Sone Canals during 1908-09, the revenue for which fell due in 1909-10, being underestimated, and to a larger area than anticipated being irrigated during the kharif season on the Sone and Midnapore Canals. During 1910-11 the receipts will probably be less than during the current year, as owing to favourable rainfall the rabi area irrigated on the Sone Canals this year will be less than that irrigated in 1908-09.

"From Minor Works and Navigation, the receipts from which are shown under Budget head XXX, the chief source of revenue is the tolls for navigation on the Calcutta and Eastern Canals. These canals, which are partly artificial channels and partly tidal creeks which have been improved and conserved, form the navigable routes for boats and inland steamers between Calcutta and Eastern Bengal. The capital expenditure debited to these canals up to date is about 85 lakhs; the gross revenue has averaged about 5 lakhs; but as the working expenses have, owing to improvements in the canals, considerably increased during recent years, there has been a falling off in the net revenue, which does not now amount to one per cent. on the capital expenditure.

"The Madaripur Bhil route, a channel connecting the Pudda and Madhumati rivers, which formerly formed part of this system, is now treated as a separate project. Prior to 1907-08 Rs. 14 lakhs were expended on this route to make it navigable for inland steamers during the flood season; it is now being deepened at a further estimated cost of 17 lakhs so as to make it navigable for inland steamers throughout the year. Half of this further expenditure, also half the maintenance charges, are contributed by Eastern Bengal and Assam, that Government receiving a share in the revenue in proportion to the amount contributed towards the capital cost. Up to date about one-third of the length of this channel has been deepened by dredging, and it is anticipated that in another three years the scheme will be completed, and that the net revenue then derived from it will amount to over 4 per cent. on the capital expended. The distance by this route from Naraingunge to Khulna is 100 miles less than by the present dry-weather route vid Barisal.

"Owing to damage done to boats during the cyclone in October last and to that portion of the canals between Bamanghata and Kulti being closed for silt clearance since the 15th February, the tollage receipts from the Calcutta and Eastern Canals will be less this year than anticipated, but during the coming year an increase is expected, as the Chord Canal now under construction between Ultadanga and Bamanghata will be opened for traffic in June next. This Chord, the length of which is 10 miles and the estimated cost 9 lakhs, will be a great convenience to boats using these canals, as it will give a still-water reach from Chitpur to Kulti, a distance of 27 miles, and will avoid the delay which now occurs in the tidal channel between Dhappa and Bamanghata.

"The working expenses of Major Works, which is shown under Budget head 42, does not vary much. For 1910-11 the amount provided is that required in a normal year and should not be exceeded unless unusual damage is done by the floods to the head-works of any of the canals.

"The expenditure on Minor Works and Navigation, which is shown under the Budget head 43, will, for the current year, be slightly in excess of that anticipated. On capital works of the Calcutta and Eastern Canals there will be an increase of about 1½ lakhs owing to a larger expenditure on the Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal. This is, however, partly balanced by decreased expenditure on the maintenance of these canals and on other smaller works.

"The amount provided for expenditure on Minor Works and Navigation under Budget head 43 during 1910-11 is in excess of that of previous years. The excess is due chiefly to an extra amount required to repair the damage done to embankments by the severe floods of last season and to special repairs and silt clearance necessary on the Calcutta and Eastern and Orissa Coast Canals. This, however, is partly balanced by a smaller provision for capital works on the Calcutta and Eastern Canals.

"Provision is made for completing the Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal and for continuing the deepening of the Madaripur Bhil route. The maintenance charges of the Calcutta and Eastern Canals and of the Orissa Coast Canal will be higher than during the current year, owing to special repairs to locks and extra silt clearance being necessary.

"Provision of Rs. 40,000 is made for training works to improve during the dry season the navigable channels across the shoals in the river Ganges. Similar work was carried out in 1903-04 to 1905-06, and the increased depth of the channels was a great boon to both the steamer and boat traffic.

"Rupees 30,000 are provided for commencing the construction of a lock at Utterbagh on the Peali river, the estimated cost of which is Rs. 81,800. This lock will give access to the channels constructed under the Magra Hât drainage scheme to boats coming from the Sundarbans and Eastern rivers. There is a considerable trade, chiefly in paddy, between the Sundarbans and Magra Hât, which is much hampered by want of through communication for boats. It is proposed to levy a small toll on boats passing through this lock, which will suffice to cover maintenance charges and interest on capital. The Magra Hât drainage scheme, which provides for the drainage of an area of 290 square miles in the Diamond Harbour subdivision, is now being carried out under the Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act of 1895 at an estimated cost of Rs 21 lakhs. Magra Hât is the centre of this area, and the drainage will be discharged partly into the Peali river and partly into the Hooghly at Diamond Harbour, where a lock is being constructed to give access to all the interior drainage channels which are being made of sufficient depth to be navigable for moderate-sized boats. The Bengal Government has contributed five lakhs towards the scheme, and makes no charge for the Public Works Department establishment employed in carrying it out, and has also undertaken that all maintenance charges shall be borne by Government in return for any income derivable from the scheme, which includes such tolls as may be levied under the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864). The scheme, though not yet completed, has this year effected a considerable improvement both from a sanitary and agricultural point of view. A good rice crop was reaped from an area over 100 square miles where none or only a very poor crop had hitherto been obtained. The traffic in this tract is carried chiefly by boats; the completion of the locks at Diamond Harbour and Utterbagh and of the interior channels will greatly facilitate this traffic and add to the benefits derived from efficient drainage.

"The floods in the Midnapore district, which last flood season were of unprecedented height and duration, caused immense damage to the embankments there, and a considerable expenditure, estimated at about two lakhs, will be necessary to repair the embankments damaged by these floods. The amounts provided for the maintenance of the smaller canals and drainage works and for the takavi embankments are normal.

"It will be noticed that certain items under Minor Works are put down as in charge of the Civil Department. These are for the most part connected with the administration of the Embankment Act. The Budget of receipts reproduces the sanctioned estimate of the current year, and the estimate of expenditure (Rs. 8,000) is only Rs. 1,000 less than in 1909-10. The details scarcely call for notice."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI moved the following Resolution:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that a provision of Rs. 20,000 be made for beginning protective work in connection with the Begua Hana embankment."

He said:—"In moving the Resolution about Begua Hana I beg to draw the attention of the Council to a largely and influentially signed memorial of the inhabitants of the villages affected by the overflow of the river Damodar through the Begua breach which was presented to the Government last year. Such villages number nearly 400 in the districts of Burdwan and Hooghly, the sufferings of whose inhabitants during the rains every year are growing more and more. The breach in the western embankment of the river Damodar is extending every year, and the increase in the suffering and attendant loss is proportionate. On the representation of some of the memorialists who had memorialised on a previous occasion, Mr. Horn was deputed to make an investigation, and he made a report on the 21st of February, 1902. One of his suggestions was the training of the Begua river by excavation of the bed at suitable places enabling the river to scour out its own channel and help a speedy discharge of its water. The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu pressed the question upon the attention of the Engineering Department while he was a member of the Bengal Council some years ago, and as a result of further investigation into the matter the Department found that if a larger remedial scheme could not be immediately or in the near future be undertaken, it would be possible to remove some of the obstructing bars at a small cost and afford relief which was and is extremely needed. The Hon'ble Sir Andrew Fraser was pleased to visit the spot and expressed himself in sympathy with the schemes suggested, but the matter was lost sight of, and attention was called to it again in Council by me. In answer to a question put by me in Council, the then Secretary to the Government in the Public Works Department said two years ago:—

'The scheme, to which the Lieutenant-Governor has accorded administrative approval and which it is intended to carry out at the cost of the general revenue is the following:—

It is proposed to make an earthen embankment or dam across the head of the Begua channel where it leaves the Damodar river and to provide for the escape of the flood-water by means of two long overflows or weirs at the level of natural bank which will be paved with rubble stone or concrete blocks. The object aimed at is to retain the low water flow in the old channel of the Damodar, while permitting the flood-water, which is far in excess of what the channel of the river can accommodate, to spill over the bank without cutting a deep channel.

The only possible means of relieving the country between the Damodar and the Rupnarain of flood-water is the construction of reservoirs in the upper channels of the river. This problem has been investigated more than once and it has been ascertained that the cost would be prohibitive. Moreover, a large part of the country derives benefit from the inundation. The scheme which has been approved will be carried out as soon as funds can be made available. It is not practicable to make any temporary works which would be of service.'

"Nothing, however, was done towards carrying out the scheme by reason of its very largeness and expensiveness, and individuals began small unauthorised and objectionable protective works on their own account at different points of the river and for their own benefit which accentuated the sufferings of the general body of the local public. If I am not mistaken, a portion of the charges can be and ought to be met out of the pálbandi charges which landlords in the affected districts have to pay, and the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, who pays a considerable sum under this heading, would be able to tell the Council, I believe, how matters stand. Raiyats and zamindars alike suffer by these devastations, and it is the interest of all that a portion of these protective works should be immediately undertaken and their comprehensive and expensive nature should not shunt them indefinitely. I believe the department is still of opinion that the existing bars should and can be removed and the channel kept open for free and quick discharge of the water, at a reasonable cost and the first instalment of work, I suggest, should be commenced at once. The sufferings of the last year were greater than in the previous years as there was general flooding of the country, and when during the last rainy season I ventured to approach your Honour through Sir Charles Allen, then Officiating Chief Secretary, on behalf of those who had suffered most, I was gratified and encouraged to find that your Honour had, at your own instance and on information that had reached your Honour, given directions to the local officers to afford such temporary relief to the sufferers as was possible. A memorial pressing forward the remedial measure was presented to your Honour, and it was urged that, so long as the Government is not in a position to undertake the contemplated larger measures, steps should be taken to see that the channels through which the waters discharge themselves should be kept free. Some protective work should, I therefore submit, be immediately undertaken, and they would prevent a repetition of the last year's devastation which affected numerous homes and families."

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY MAHTAB, MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR of Burdwan said:—"Your Honour—I rise not exactly to support the Resolution that my hon'ble friend wishes to move, but to place before the Council and the Government particularly the urgency of framing proper estimates for repairing the Begua breach. A great deal of damage is done every year by the flooding of the right banks of the river Damodar since the cutting of the embankments on the right side, a measure about which the Engineer then in charge (in 1860) said, as is to be found from the Bengal Embankment Manual, that 'there could not be a question of the wisdom which dictated the removal of the embankments from the right bank of the Damodar. It is not, nor will it ever be, a measure of unalloyed success, but it has simplified what must have been a hopeless task, and put a stop to a useless expenditure of public money. Complete protection has been secured to the wealthy and rapidly prospering districts on the left bank of the river (a blessing only fully understood within the last few years, as may be seen from examining the list of breaches from 1847). The gloomy predictions regarding the depopulation and utter ruin of the right bank have not been fulfilled, nor is there any likelihood of such occurring within the present generation at all events.'

I am afraid this prophecy has since been falsified to a certain extent. At present there are several hanas (breaches) made by the force of the floods and several important channels have formed. Of these, 'Begua,' 'Lakhra' and 'Bachoordaha's khal' are the largest. 'Begua Hana' has become so wide and important a channel that it carries a greater part of the Damodar flood water and does a lot of damage to the mauzas and lands situated on either banks of it. This 'Begua Hana' requires carefully looking into, and means should be devised by which the annual damage done to the properties could be efficiently minimized and a proper estimate for repairing the breach or for necessary protective work should be framed. Damodar flood water passes over the greater part of the lands on the right banks. I refer this matter to my Commissioner, who is also in this Council. At a place near Mayapur in the Arambagh sub-division, the flood water goes into the river Dwarkeshwar, washing over many villages and passing over a vast stretch of cultivable paddy fields. Owing to these annual floodings, several Raj patni lots have been given up by patnidars, and they have become khas with a reduced rent roll and bad collection For this the Burdwan Raj suffers an annual loss. Early in the nineteenth century soon after the Permanent Settlement, when the inordinately high revenue assessment was fixed by the Government on the Burdwan Raj estate, first of all Government was pleased to make a reduction of Rs 60,000 so as to permit the Maharajas of Burdwan to maintain the embankments in Chukla Burdwan themselves. Later on as this system did not work properly, the Maharajadhiraj of the time, the late Tej Chand Bahadur, handed over these embankments to the Government, and we still pay over half a lakh of rupees as p olbundy for the maintenance of the embankments in Chukla Burdwan. I therefore think, Sir, that I have some right in bringing to the attention of the Goverment that the Begua Hana should be carefully examined and an estimate properly prepared so as to stop or rather help in protecting these parts from being flooded and from the annual ravages done by the river at present."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER said:—"Prior to 1856 there were flood embankments on both banks of the Damodar river from Silna to its junction with the Hooghly river. As the capacity of the channel of the river was not large enough to carry more than a portion of its discharge even in moderate floods, these embankments were breached in many places nearly every year.

"In 1856 the embankments on the right bank between Silna and Salalpore were removed for a total length of 20 miles, and since that date, though a considerable tract of country on the right bank has been yearly submerged by the flood spill, it has been possible to maintain the embankments on the left bank intact.

"The spill which at first passed at a fairly uniform depth over the river bank where the embankments had been removed has in the course of time formed gaps in the river bank, the largest and deepest of which situated near Somagereah village is now called the Begua breach.

"From this breach a channel has formed through which about 2-5ths of the total flood discharge of the Damodar now passes and spills over the country to the south and west, eventually finding its way through numerous small channels into the Rupnarain river. The bed of this channel is now at a lower level than that of the Damodar river at its offtake, and consequently the whole of the dry weather discharge of the Damodar passes down it.

"A proposal to close the Begua breach and to allow the surplus flood water of the Damodar to pass over two weirs to be constructed one above and the other below the breach has been carefully investigated, but the cost estimated at 9¼ lakhs is prohibitive.

"The cost of constructing a weir across the breach itself, which, while allowing that portion of the flood discharge of the Damodar which could not be carried by the parent streams to pass over the weir and down the Begua channel, would force the discharge of moderate freshets down the Damodar river, has also been estimated and amounts to 4½ lakhs.

"The safest course would be to construct a low weir across the breach which would force all the discharge during the dry season and in low freshets down the parent stream. When its channel had been thus scoured out to some extent the weir could be raised so as to confine the discharge during moderate freshets to the channel of the Damodar. The initial cost of such a scheme would be 2 lakhs, and the ultimate cost before any great benefit would be derived from it would probably amount to 4 to 5 lakhs.

"The maximum discharge that can be carried by the Damodar channel below the breach is not more than one tenth of the total discharge brought down during high flood. The balance of the flood discharge must pass over the right bank. It is possible, therefore, to exclude from the Begua channel only the discharge of moderate freshets. Such exclusion would no doubt be of some benefit to the country now inundated. The cost, however, is heavy, and it must be remembered that if the Begua breach was even partially closed the flood spill might at any time form a similar channel in another part of the river bank.

"The Damodar river is now cutting into its left bank opposite the Begua breach and it is probable that in the course of a few years the offtake of the Begua channel may move some distance down stream. If a weir were now constructed across the existing breach it might be left high and dry in a few years.

"The suggestion made in Mr. Horn's report of 1902 that the Begua channel should be trained by excavation of its bed in suitable places is alluded to. As such training works were estimated to cost 20 lakhs, and the benefit that would be derived from them was problematic, the scheme was set aside as impracticable. Removal of any existing bars in the Begua channel or any such temporary measures would not be of service in mitigating the damage done by the floods.

"Some relief might be afforded to the country inundated by the spill of the Damodar by improving the channels which connect the Begua with the Rupnarain river and thereby enabling the flood water to pass off more quickly. The most important of these channels is the Buxi khal, the discharging capacity of which is much reduced by embankments which have been constructed along its margin. The cost of retiring these embankments and thereby increasing the discharging capacity of the khal is being ascertained. As this will, however, necessitate the removal of some villages which are protected by the existing embankments the cost would not be inconsiderable.

"The recommendation to provide Rs. 20,000 for work on closing the Begua breach during 1910-11 does not meet the case and would commit this Government to a recurrent expenditure of 4 to 5 lakhs on a scheme the benefits of which are doubtful. This is not advisable in the present financial position of the province."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"I had the honour some time ago, when I was a member of this Council during the time of Sir Andrew Fraser, to call the attention of the Government of Bengal to this serious grievance of the people of Hooghly and Burdwan districts; it would be more correct to say, this great calamity to which these people are periodically subject. The water from the Begua breach overflows into the old bed of Dwarkeshwar, which is not able to discharge all this water, with the result that the whole country to the right side of the Damodar is inundated once every fortnight, if not more often during the whole of the rains, making any cultivation absolutely impossible, and making the life of the inhabitants very miserable indeed. I speak, Sir, from personal experience, because I have the misfortune to come from that part of the country. These inundations have reduced the people there to great straits, and have made cultivation impossible. The Burdwan Raj probably feels the pinch by reason of the deficient collections, but the people there suffer very much indeed. Mr. Inglis, while he was Chief Engineer to the Government of Bengal, suggested some means which to some extent would alleviate the sufferings of the people by cutting a canal which would carry Dwarkeshwar to Rupnarain and thus to some extent control the discharge of water which at present spills over the whole country side. I believe Mr. Inglis once said that a sum of about 30 to 50 thousand rupees would suffice for the purpose. I do not know whether the Hon'ble Mr. Butler has considered that scheme. I brought this matter before the Finance Committee of this Council; but, having regard to the largeness of the expenditure involved in the greater scheme, and to the very small funds placed at the disposal of the Finance Committee, it was not thought possible to deal effectively with the question. But I appeal to the Hon'ble Mr. Butler to visit the country when the next rains begin and to satisfy himself that the sufferings of the people there are very very great indeed. Beginning from the middle of May till the middle of October the fields are inundated nearly every fortnight, and sometimes oftener. We have in this Council our Commissioner, and we have gentlemen who have been connected with the districts of Hooghly and Burdwan, and I can appeal to them with confidence to corroborate everything that I have said. I am sure that it will not be impossible to devise some means to give some relief at least, if not complete relief, to the inhabitants who have the misfortune to live in the part of the country to the right bank of the river Damodar."

The PRESIDENT said:—"I should venture to suggest to the Hon'ble Mover of the Resolution that after hearing what the Hon'ble Member in charge has stated, it may be well if he accepts the position that there is a case for inquiry as regards this matter, but that the specific proposition put forward in the Resolution is one which has been shown by experience to be inappropriate. If the Hon'ble Member is disposed to agree in that view, the best thing would be to withdraw his resolution on the understanding that further inquiries are being made by the Public Works Department into this question."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—"I am quite convinced of the reasonableness of the course suggested, and I accept it."

The Resolution was then withdrawn together with the following Resolution of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice:—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor the omission of Rs. 20,000 from the following item under the heading 'Public Works Department':—

Quarters for the Executive Engineer, Ranchi—Rs 21,000."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER then introduced the following head:—

Expenditure—

40. Subsidised Companies, Land, etc,

He said:—"In introducing the budget estimate for Railways, I would explain that the only provision made in the budget for 1910-11 under this head is Rs. 2,000 for land required for the Tribeni extension of the Bengal Provincial Railway. The agreement with the Railway Company provides that the Local Government shall bear the cost of any land required for this extension."

The Hon'ble MR. THOMSON introduced the consideration of the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXXI.—Civil Works—in charge of the Public Works Department.

Expenditure—

45. Civil Works—in charge of the Public Works Department.

He said:—"The estimated Revenue is Rs. 3,55,000, the same as for the current year; it is chiefly derived from rents of buildings and lands, and there is little scope for expansion.

"The grant for expenditure in 1910-11 is Rs. 52,59,000. It is about 3½ lakhs more than the revised estimate for the current year, but is far below the grants for previous years.

"We have first to provide for the normal recurring expenditure on Establishment, Tools and Plant, and Repairs.

"The total estimate for Establishment amounts to Rs. 13,75,000, but towards this the Government of India contribute Rs. 2,85,000 on account of Imperial Works, the contribution being at the rate of 23 per cent. on the cost of Imperial Works carried out during the year. There is also a small contribution of Rs. 2,755 for work done for the Darjeeling Improvement Fund.

"The balance of Rs. 10,87,165 represents the Provincial charge. It is less than the budget estimate of 1909-10. The normal increase, on account of additions to incremental salaries, has been counterbalanced by a considerable reduction in temporary establishment.

"For Tools and Plant the estimate exceeds the budget estimate for this year, but is below the average. The expenditure on Tools and Plant depends largely on the extent of the works undertaken in any year.

"Under Repairs the estimate for Civil Buildings is Rs. 5,75,000, which is rather more than the budget estimate for the current year. The cost of repairs is normal, but the yearly addition of new buildings to the list, and the extension of electrical installations and sanitary improvements, adds to the total expenditure.

"The number of buildings to be maintained, excluding subsidiary buildings, is over 1,850.

"The cost of some important groups of buildings is as follows:—

	Rs.
Courts, Civil and Criminal	1,00,000
Jails	80,000
Police	84,000
Educational	60,000
Medical	66,000

"For repairs to Communications, Rs. 10,00,000 are estimated. The amount is the same as the budget estimate for this year. 1,750 miles of metalled roads and 912 miles of unmetalled roads are maintained, besides some thousands of bridges and culverts, and a number of Inspection and Dâk Bungalows. The largest items are:—

	Rs.
Grand Trunk Road	1,50,000
Orissa " "	95,000
Calcutta Maidan and Strand Roads (this includes lighting, watering and conservancy)	1,30,000
Darjeeling Hill Cart Road	90,000
Calcutta-Jessore Road	37,000
Old Grand Trunk Road	32,000
Ranchi-Purulia Road	24,000

"Under Miscellaneous Public Improvements Rs. 50,000 are provided for the maintenance of a number of Miscellaneous Works including some Port and Shipping buildings in Calcutta and Orissa, works connected with the Maidan and public gardens in Calcutta, and special repairs to "Jhoras" in Darjeeling.

"Deducting the recurring expenditure from the total grant there is a balance of Rs. 24,95,000 for original works. For Works in Progress Rs. 8,86,000 have been allotted to Civil Buildings.

"The principal works which are entered on pages 16, 17 and 18 of the Financial Statement have been referred to by the Hon'ble Members in charge of the several Departments and need not be recapitulated. To these may be added :—

	Rs.
Installation of Electric Fans in the office rooms at the High Court as required by the Hon'ble Judges	10,000
Improvements at the Akra Brick Factory, which are necessary for the manufacture of bricks	8,000

"Besides these there is a large number of small items required to complete buildings in progress.

"There are only three works in progress under Communications.

	Rs.
Improvement of Cuttack Sambalpur Road, Khalsa Section ...	25,000

"This road is of considerable local importance and there is heavy traffic to the railway. The work has been kept back for want of funds and it is very desirable to complete it.

"The roads in the Sambalpur district are much in need of improvement, but we are unable to do more at present.

	Rs.
Metalling a portion of the Calcutta-Jessore Road	9,200

"About 13 miles remained unmetalled, and it was considered important that the road should be metalled throughout.

"Reconstructing a bridge over Guri Khall Nalla on the Orissa Trunk Road was necessary and Rs. 5,400 are required to finish the work.

"For New Works Rs. 15,69,000 are available. New works are divided into two classes—

Minor works costing Rs. 5,000 or less, and Major works costing over Rs. 5,000.

"Minor works are now dealt with mainly by the Commissioners of Divisions and the Heads of Departments who sanction estimates prepared by the Public Works Department, and allot funds from grants placed at their disposal for that purpose.

"It has been explained in the notes accompanying the Financial Statement how the former grants were found to be inadequate and have been raised in the aggregate to Rs. 3,38,200. The distribution is as follows :—

	Rs.		Rs.
Commissioners ...	1,00,000	Police, Calcutta ...	3,000
Excise Department ...	57,000	Educational ...	39,200
Jails ...	48,000	Medical ...	47,000
Police ...	39,000	Registration ...	5,000

"The New Major Works are entered in the Financial Statement on pages 16, 17, 18 and have been explained by the Hon'ble Members in charge of the departments concerned, with the exception of one work for the Public Works Department, viz., quarters for the Executive Engineer at Ranchi, Rs. 21,000.

"The demand for house accommodation at Ranchi has increased so much and rents have become so high that it is very difficult to find a house for the Executive Engineer, and it is therefore necessary to build a house.

"The electrical installations in all public buildings in Calcutta are now maintained by Government instead of by private firms and the arrangement is found more convenient and economical. For all the fans, lights, lifts, pumps, and so on, accessories are required, for repairs and renewals, and Rs. 10,000 are provided for that purpose.

"There are no new works entered under Communications.

"The estimate for Miscellaneous Public Improvements includes provision for a metre to measure the water used on the Calcutta Maidan roads as required by the Calcutta Corporation.

"A general reserve of Rs. 1,00,000 has been provided under Civil Buildings and Rs 85,000 for Communications.

"It is usual, and absolutely necessary, to keep a substantial reserve to meet unforeseen requirements."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI then moved the following Resolution :—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that a provision of Rs. 1,000 be made for contribution towards the expenses of the repairs of the ancient temple of Ghanteswar in Khanakul, district Hooghly."

He said:—"I now come to the last and the least of my resolutions which are now fast oozing out, and I hope its very size will enable it to pass. I feel I am pleading in a worthy cause which will receive attention even if my Resolution is lost. A representation on the subject is, I believe, already before the Government, and it can be acted upon independently of my Resolution.

"The sum of Rs 1,000 I venture to ask for in this Resolution is by way of contribution towards the urgently needed repairs and protection of the site of the ancient and venerated temple of Ghanteswar within the thana of Khanakul in the district Hooghly. It is a temple mentioned in our ancient religious literature and near it is one of 52 Pitasthans which all Hindu India venerates. The old temple is an object of interest and value also from an architectural and archæological point of view and it is seriously threatened by the inroads of Dwarkeshwar, which is one of the branches of the river Damodur through which the Begua overflow passes to the serious detriment of the locality. The local public have caused an estimate to be prepared by two well-known Engineers, one of whom, Babu Hari Pado Ghosal, B.C.E., suddenly died the other day, under singularly tragic circumstances as a result of illness contracted while rendering gratuitous services in the causes of the preservation of the temple. Subscriptions are being collected for the repairs. But as the local public, already impoverished as a result of these floods and persistent malaria, are unable to meet the whole of the costs, I venture to ask that a small contribution of a thousand rupees be made towards the cost by the Government."

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY said:—"This is not a very large item of expenditure, and the work might be undertaken on the ground of the archæological interest of the monument. I have examined the list and can find no account of this monument in this list of ancient monuments that we have. Mr. De (the Collector of Hooghly) has visited the spot lately, and he has informed me that a local Committee has been formed with the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu as the President and that a sum of about Rs. 1,000 has been already collected. Mr. Longhurst, who is the Archæological Surveyor, is at present away on tour in the Central Provinces, and I have not been able to communicate with him and ask him to visit the place. I shall, however, ask him to do so soon after he returns, and if he reports that this is a monument of archæological interest, we will take the matter up. If it is not of archæological interest, the course already taken by the local people of contribution towards the repairs is the best one possible, and the District Engineer will give any assistance in the way of advice for which he is asked. Perhaps this assurance will satisfy the Hon'ble Member."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—"I take it that the Resolution is withdrawn on the undertaking given by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay"

The Resolution was then withdrawn, together with the following Resolution of which the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari had given notice :—

"The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor the omission of Rs. 1,000 from the following item under the heading 'Public Works Department' :—

Quarters for the Executive Engineer, Ranchi—Rs. 21,000."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER then introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XXXI.—Civil Works—in charge of the Civil Department.

Expenditure—

45. Civil Works—in charge of the Civil Department.

He said:—"The Hon'ble Mr. Thomson has dealt with the Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department, but it will be seen that the budget also includes entries on account of Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers.

"On the receipt side the budget reproduces the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 (Rs. 1,80,000), the only item of importance being that of tolls on ferries. As regards expenditure, the two largest items are Rs. 7,63,000 on account of contributions in aid of Excluded Local Funds and Municipalities, and Rs. 11,24,000 for contributions to District Funds and District Road Funds. The former includes the lump provision of four and-a-half lakhs which is allotted to us by the Government of India for the execution of sanitary improvements. This is in continuation of a similar grant in the budget for the current year, the details of the expenditure incurred from which will be found in paragraph 60 of the General Review. The money is distributed as schemes come up in the course of the year. It is impossible to allot it now, since we have no list of sanctioned schemes which are only waiting for funds to be undertaken. Some municipalities are working upon projects of water-supply and drainage, and as these are completed, the means of financing them will be considered. This usually entails assistance from Government, which is practically never refused if local effort is forthcoming to an appropriate extent. Government does not, and cannot, attempt to pay for the majority of such schemes entirely, but grants are given in proportion to the funds forthcoming from other sources. The next largest item is one of Rs. 1,07,900 to the Calcutta Corporation on account of the re-alignment of the sewers in the neighbourhood of the new Presidency Jail. The total expenditure on this project is Rs. 1,52,900, of which Rs. 25,000 was given in 1908-09 and the balance has been provided in the revised. The work was undertaken at the instance of Government and in the interests of the new Jail, and the grant-in-aid was made for this reason. The Calcutta Corporation also receives Rs. 50,000 as the Government contribution towards the drainage of the fringe area, exclusive of one or two other small grants. The only other large item is the allotment of Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of Commissioners for petty works of local improvement. In the current year's budget the corresponding provision is Rs. 75,000. The system has worked successfully, and it permits the Commissioner to give immediate aid to deserving objects brought to his notice while on tour or at other times. The effect of such petty grants is far greater than a tardy recognition of such purpose, made after a reference to head-quarters. Otherwise the provision is made up of various petty grants, each of which has a history of its own, but which it is scarcely necessary now to detail.

"The second provision of Rs. 11,24,000 is for contributions to District Funds. The bulk of this, Rs. 8,90,000, falls under the grants-in-aid to the resources of District Funds and Road Funds, which Government makes upon the basis of 25 per cent. of the net receipts of each fund from Road Cess. The system has been in vogue since 1905-06. Another large item is a grant of Rs. 60,000 to the Sonthal Parganas. The local resources of this district are not equal to its needs, and it has for some time been the custom to assist it. Of the collections on Government estates, one and-a-half per cent. is made over to District Funds and Road Funds for the improvement of roads, and this accounts for an item of Rs. 51,912. Further, there is a lump provision of Rs. 60,000 for the construction of feeder roads, which become necessary as districts are opened up and railways spread, and the District Road Fund in Singhbhum receives an annual special grant of Rs. 10,000 on the ground that its own income is insufficient to meet the reasonable requirements of the district."

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XVIII.—Ports and Pilotage.

Expenditure—

21. Ports and Pilotage.

He said:—"In introducing the Ports and Pilotage Budget estimate for 1910-11, I would offer the following remarks:—

"The receipts for the current year are expected to be somewhat larger than at first anticipated, owing to the addition of Rs. 5,700, the sale-proceeds of the Port Officer's launch Enchantress, which had become unserviceable from age. There is now no launch entirely at the disposal of the Port Officer, but it will be necessary to provide one when funds are available. The increase under head "Pilotage" is due to an increase in the tonnage of vessels using the port.

"In 1910-11 a further small increase is expected from pilotage for the same reason. There will, however, be a decrease under the head 'Sale-proceeds,' also from examination fees, as the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam now conducts its own examinations for certificates under the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884 (VI of 1884).

"The expenditure during the current year is expected to be nearly one lakh less than anticipated. This is due to the postponement of the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide and to reduced towing charges for the State Yacht Rhotas. The reduction under head 'Pilotage and Pilot Establishment' is due to the figures in the revised estimate being based on the actuals of the first nine months of the year.

"The budget provision for 1910-11 is about 1½ lakhs in excess of the revised estimate for the current year. This is due to the provision of Rs. 57,000 for the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide. The present boilers are old and worn, and it would not be safe to keep them in use for another year.

"The anticipated increase under the head 'Pilotage and Pilot Establishment' is due to an expected increase in the number and tonnage of vessels using the port.

"Provision has been made for the house allowance recently sanctioned for the Assistant Shipping Master, Assistant Port Officer and the Surveyors of Steam-vessels.

"The building now occupied as Leadsmen's quarters at Kidderpore has been acquired by the Port Commissioners, and will eventually be dismantled by them to make room for the extension of the docks. Pending the construction of new quarters, an expenditure of about Rs. 2,000 is necessary to keep the present quarters habitable."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads:—

Revenue—

XII.—Interest.

XXII.—Receipts in aid of Superannuation, etc.

Expenditure—

1. Refunds and Drawbacks.
29. Superannuation Allowances and Pensions.

He said:—"The group of Major Heads which it is down in my name to introduce does not perhaps call for particular remarks.

"The Interest Budget represents for the most part the loan transactions of the Local Government. We borrow money from the Imperial Government at 3½ per cent. calculated on the mean outstanding balance, and re-lend it, under the Land Improvement and Agriculturists' Loans Acts, to Co-operative Credit Societies, as drainage and embankment advances, to land-holders, etc., and to local bodies. The receipts comprise the interest we receive (with a few other odd items), and the expenditure is the interest we pay. The only noticeable feature is the heavy suspensions of the realisation of interest on account of famine conditions, which is reflected in the reduced estimate for the revised under Land Improvement and Agriculturist Loans. Neither will this be made entirely good next year, as the recoveries may be spread over an extended period.

"In the Superannuation Budget the receipts represent the recoveries from different officers towards their pensions, and the expenditure, the pensions and allowances actually disbursed. These, unfortunately, tend constantly to increase.

"Refunds and drawbacks occur in different departments, and we budget on the basis of the average actuals of the past three years."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE introduced the following heads :—

Expenditure—

33. Famine Relief.
36. Reduction or avoidance of Debt.

He said—"The only observation that requires to be made with reference to the head 'Famine Relief' is perhaps that the Government has to congratulate itself on the extremely prosperous condition of this year compared with the time when the last year's budget was framed. Then prospects were distinctly ominous There had been a failure of rain in North and South Bihar and in other parts of the Province, and we were compelled to budget on the expectation of having to undertake extensive famine relief operations, so that altogether a provision of Rs. 9,14,000 appeared necessary. But we were fortunate in that a great deal of rain fell during last hot weather, so that in the end famine had only to be declared in the district of Darbhanga, and in all the other districts which suffered from distress, the necessary relief was afforded by test works and by a liberal provision of agricultural loans which the favourable early rains enabled to be distributed to advantage.

"The result is that in the revised estimate only Rs. 2,84,000 appeared for famine. This year owing to the magnificent crops which have been reaped and to the favourable prospects of the rabi harvest at present there appears no possibility of any famine relief being required, and accordingly nothing has been budgeted under this head.

"The other head 'Avoidance of Debt' is a matter of account. On page 3 of the Financial Statement on the receipt side amongst the assignments from Imperial funds will be found a sum of Rs. 2,60,000, which is regularly assigned to us by the Imperial Government as a provision against incurring debt to them by our expenditure on famine, and the same sum appears in the budget estimate of expenditure."

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER introduced the following heads :—

Revenue—

XXV.—Miscellaneous.

Expenditure—

32. Miscellaneous.

He said:—"The Miscellaneous Budget covers a variety of odds and ends, but on the receipt side the only noticeable change is, perhaps, the enhancement of the revised on account of the sale of the trawler Golden Crown, and of the Jorabagan Thana in Calcutta, the sale proceeds of which figure partly in the revised and partly in the budget for 1910-11. In the latter the sale proceeds of the Garden Reach Thana are also shown.

"On the expenditure side the revised shows a saving of Rs. 1,44,000, which was mainly due to savings under donations for charitable purposes, the expenditure under which has gone up considerably in recent years, but in respect of which the present financial position does not permit of excessive liberality; economies under special commissions of enquiry which in the current year covered the Fishery enquiry now transferred to the Scientific and Minor Departments Budget—the Golden Crown has been sold, and the crew paid off; and to the fact that no portion of the grants to District Funds was debited to this head.

"The Budget is less by Rs. 1,29,000 than the sanctioned estimate of the current year. As just stated, the cost of the Fishery Department is now shown elsewhere, and we have cut down the provision for charitable donations to bare requirements. On the other hand, the allotment for petty grants by His Honour has been now inserted in this budget (it was previously shown under Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers), and has been raised from Rs. 50,000 during 1909-10 to Rs. 1,00,000. The demands to be met are numerous, and the smaller provision scarcely permitted of any substantial sums being given in individual cases. For special commissions of enquiry a lump provision of Rs. 20,000 has been made, and the experiment of a training school for apprentices at Alipur accounts for an expenditure of Rs. 3,140. Finally, a lump sum of Rs. 1,05,000 is included under Miscellaneous and unforeseen charges. This (taken with a reserve of Rs. 50,000 under Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers) represents the reserve which we keep back to meet unforeseen demands during the ensuing year. It is impossible to work without such a reserve, as we know from past experience that demands will arise which we cannot now foretell. This is unavoidable. Although the provision here is new, this does not mean that in previous years no reserve has been kept. It was the custom to leave small margins scattered about the budget under different heads, which amounted for instance during 1909-10 to an aggregate of Rs. 3,23,528. This was inconvenient in working, and obscured the true position. It seems in every way preferable to provide a general reserve in large sums which can easily be identified as representing what is intended."

The PRESIDENT said :—"Gentlemen—That concludes the discussion of the revised Financial Statement in so far as discussion is permitted by the rules at the present stage. I think the proceedings have been business-like and satisfactory and that they will be found to have cleared the ground for the fuller discussion which will take place at an early date. Our intention is to present the final budget to the Council on the 26th of this month, and then after an interval of a week or thereabouts, the regular debate on the budget as a whole will take place.

"We will now take up the consideration of the business provided for this day, which consists of the Resolution of which notice has been given by the Hon'ble Babu Baikantha Nath Sen and of a number of amendments to that Resolution."

RESOLUTIONS ON MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

The Hon'ble BABU BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN was to have moved the following Resolutions:—

I. The Council recommend to the Lieutenant-Governor—

(a) that the system of appointment to the Provincial Service by nomination be abolished, and

(b) that the competition test be restored, and

(c) that competitive examinations for the selection of the requisite number of officers for the Executive branch of the Provincial Service be held in as many centres as there are seats of Divisional Commissioners, with such standards for the test as may be deemed proper and fair.

II. Should the recommendation for competitive examination, as made in he foregoing Resolution, be not deemed fit to be accepted, the Council further ecommend to the Lieutenant-Governor that a competitive special examination e held for selection amongst those candidates who may be nominated by the Divisional Commissioners and the Calcutta University.

He said :—" Your Honour—Instead of moving the Resolutions standing against my name, I am going to withdraw them after offering some personal explanatory remarks. I had asked for and taken two remands. On the first occasion, I came to know that our hon'ble colleague, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, had asked certain questions and had asked for certain information. I thought that it was proper and desirable that the information should have been obtained before moving the Resolutions. Then on the second occasion, the questions put by my hon'ble friend were answered, and we received the information, but there was not sufficient time for studying the statistics, and so I asked for another postponement. After that when I found that there were several amendments opposed to my Resolutions, I thought that an attempt should be made to come to a satisfactory conclusion. I therefore invited all the non-official Members of this Council to assemble together, and I had Your Honour's permission to use the old Council Chamber, and we did meet there on the 9th instant. There we assembled and discussed the matter, and it was expected that a certain scheme which was suggested by my hon'ble colleague, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, would be accepted by all the members. Last evening, there was an assembly of a large number of Members of this Council, as well as of the Imperial Council amongst whom were two Muhammadan Members. Then I came to know with surprise and with a certain amount of regret that there was a certain amount of ill-feeling and a little heart-burning amongst some of our Bihari and Muhammadan colleagues. My hon'ble friends were labouring under a misconception. I was told that they thought that I had intended by moving these Resolutions to monopolize all the appointments for the Bengali Hindus to the exclusion of the Bihari candidates as well as Muhammadans. Nothing was further from my intention than this. The wording of the Resolutions intended to be moved by me shows that there was no proposal of an out and out competition. There would be, as contemplated by the Resolutions, nomination as well as competition. Besides, my object mainly was by moving these Resolutions prominently to draw the attention of the Government to the minute of Sir Stuart Bayley of 1889, which was altogether ignored by the Resolutions of the Government of India and the Bengal Government of 1904. That minute is a masterly one on the subject, and gives the whole literature from a certain time. That that should have been altogether ignored when the Resolutions of 1904 were adopted by the two Governments is not satisfactory and I thought that this should be brought to the notice of Your Honour's Government. Now such being the case, and in order that there might not be any misunderstanding or ill-feeling amongst ourselves, and in order that we might act harmoniously and might co-operate without there being any friction, I came to the conclusion at the request of some of my best friends that I should not allow anything like irritation to spring up. Sir, it is with that desire that I consider it expedient to withdraw the Resolutions which stand in my name, and I ask Your Honour's permission to do so. Of course, I intend to bring this question up at a later time when it would be permissible under the rules, and I hope by that time my Hon'ble colleagues will study the matter and will look at this question in a dispassionate manner. We shall then come to an unanimous opinion on the subject. I have the authority of my Hon'ble friend, Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, that he will withdraw his amendment, and I believe all the others of my colleagues who gave notice of amendments will also withdraw their amendments."

The PRESIDENT said :—" There are amendments standing in the names of the Hon'ble Rai Kishori Lal Gosain Bahadur, the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur, who is absent to-day, the Hon'ble Babu Bal Krishna Sahai, the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh, the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Maulvi Sarfaraz Husain Khan and the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu. Strictly speaking, when the original Resolution is withdrawn, all amendments to that Resolution would necessarily disappear with it ; but I am not quite certain whether some of these so-called amendments ought not to be regarded as substantive Resolutions. Therefore I ask each of the movers of these amendments to state whether he agrees in the course proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen."

The Hon'ble RAI KISHORI LAL GOSAIN BAHADUR said:—

"After hearing the Hon'ble Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen, I see no reasons for pressing my amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAI and the Hon'ble MR. DIP NARAYAN SINGH also withdrew their amendments.

The Hon'ble KHAN BAHADUR MAULVI SARFARAZ HUSAIN KHAN said:—

"I have no objection to withdraw my amendment, but I may be allowed to say a few words with reference to what has fallen from my hon'ble friend Babu Baikuntha Nath Sen. He said that at the informal meeting held in the old Council Chamber we agreed that the scheme which was proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu would be acceptable to the other members. I was present at that meeting, and I may submit that there was no such understanding. The reasons which have induced my hon'ble friend to withdraw his Resolutions are well known to him. It is discretionary and optional with him. There was also no bitterness of feeling to which he referred. That is all I have to say on this matter."

The PRESIDENT said:—"The Resolution and the various amendments that have been notified in connection with it are by leave withdrawn.

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 26th March, 1910, at 11 A.M.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

Educational Notice.

WITH reference to Government Notification No. 4305, dated 23rd November 1909 in which detailed information was published as to the text-books required in accordance with the new syllabuses for Standards III to IV, writers of arithmetic books are requested to be good enough to provide a table in the beginning of their books giving the vernacular equivalents of the English numerals :—

0, 1, 2, etc., 9.

2. The provision of such a table is rendered necessary in consideration of the possibility that the employment of English figures prescribed in the main arithmetic syllabus which will be applicable to all classes of schools,—high, middle and upper primary—might otherwise constitute a difficulty in purely vernacular schools.

3. In this connexion it may be pointed out that while the use of English figures is prescribed in the main syllabus the vernacular notation will be used in the additional Subhankari syllabus to be taught in middle vernacular and upper primary schools.

CUSTOM HOUSE NOTICE.

Credit system for the payment of Salt duty.

UNDER this system, as explained in the rules appended hereto, the payment of duty on salt manufactured in, or imported into, or transported within Bengal may be postponed for any period not exceeding six months from the date on which such payment is due.

2 The advantage to the merchant is that in taking delivery of a consignment of salt from boardship or from bond, it will be open to him, instead of prepaying the amount of the duty into the Treasury, to execute a bond and to deposit Government Promissory Notes or the other securities specified in the rules of a sufficient value to secure the payment He will have the advantage of drawing interest on the securities throughout the period for which they are deposited. At present he loses interest on the amount of the duty from the date of payment till the date of the sale of the salt. If any further particulars are required, the Accountant at the Custom House will furnish hem on application.

CALCUTTA CUSTOM HOUSE, H. F. HOWARD,

The 11th December 1909. Offg. Collector of Customs.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 338 S.R.—The 2nd April 1909.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 3 of the Indian Salt Duties Act, 1908 (X of 1908), the Lieutenant Governor is pleased to make the following rules providing for the payment of duty on salt (manufactured in, or imported into, or transported within Bengal) within a period not exceeding six months from the date on which payment is due, and for the furnishing of security for such payment :—

Rules.

1. The payment of duty on salt manufactured in, or imported into, or transported within Bengal may, subject to the following rules, be postponed for any period not exceeding six months from the date on which such payment is due.

2. Any person who desires such postponement must deposit adequate security for such payment, and must execute an agreement in the form appended to these rules.

3. Such security shall take the form of—

(a) Government promissory notes,
(b) Treasury loan acknowledgments,
(c) Treasury Bills,
(d) Calcutta Port Trust Bonds,
(e) Calcutta Municipal Bonds,
(f) Government Savings Bank Pass-books, or (g) Post Office Savings Bank deposits of the kind referred to in clause 42 in rule 333 of the rules contained in the Indian Postal Guide of April 1908, which must be endorsed over to and deposited with the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, or a District Collector empowered by the Board of Revenue in this behalf,

4. (1) Whenever securities are so deposited, the Collector shall grant to the depositor a receipt therefor, showing the amount of duty and charges for which the depositor will receive credit in respect of such securities.

(2) The said amount shall be fixed according to the probable marketable value of the securities, after making such deduction as the Collector may think fit to meet the contingency of depreciation in such value during the currency of the credit.

5. The Collector shall open a credit account for the amount shown in the aforesaid receipt: provided that no account shall be opened for a less sum than Rs. 500

6. (1) A depositor may have more than one credit account opened in his name at the same time, upon depositing separate securities and executing a separate agreement in respect of each account.

(2) Any deficit arising upon any such account may be realised from securities deposited on any other such account.

7. (1) Where a credit account is opened by the Collector of Customs, Calcutta, applications by the depositor for the clearance of salt must be made upon a Bill-of-Entry bearing the words "Credit Account" in red ink on its face, and the depositor must in all other respects conform to the Customs procedure for the time being in force in Calcutta.

(2) Where a credit account is opened by a District Collector, applications by the depositor for the clearance of salt must be made in the prescribed form, and the Collector shall then pass the necessary orders for the issue of the salt.

8. (1) All payments due upon credit accounts opened in Calcutta must be made to the Collector of Customs, Calcutta :

Provided that the Collector may permit any such payment to be made at any Treasury outside Calcutta.

(2) All payments due upon credit accounts opened in any district outside Calcutta must be made to the Collector of that district.

9. Any interest accruing on securities during the time they remain in the custody of the Collector shall be paid to the depositor on presentation of interest warrants.

10. (1) Each current account shall be adjusted at the expiration of a period of six months from the date on which the account is opened.

(2) Whenever an adjustment is made, the Collector shall either—

(a) allow the account to be continued and the balance thereof carried over, after requiring additional security to be deposited if necessary, or (b) if he thinks fit, direct the account to be closed.

11. (1) If any depositor fails to pay upon demand, the balance found to be due by him to the Government upon the final adjustment of his account, he may be charged with interest on such balance from the date on which the credit expired, at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum, and the Collector may proceed to realise the amount due for principal and interest by the sale of the depositor's securities or any of them.

(2) Any surplus accruing on such sale shall be paid to the depositor, and any loss consequent on the securities not realising the sum due from the depositor for principal and interest must be met by him.

(3) For the purpose of making good any such loss, the Collector may credit to the Government any interest that may have accrued on any of the securities.

12. When an account opened in respect of any securities has been settled, such securities shall be returned to the depositor, upon his presenting the receipt which the Collector granted therefor.

13. (1) A depositor may have an account closed at any time before the expiration of the period of six months referred to in rule 10, upon paying amount shown to be due by him.

(2) When such payment is made the securities shall be returned to the depositor, upon his presenting the receipt which the Collector granted therefor.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Report of the Re-constituted Select Committee on the Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Bill, 1910, together with the Bill as amended by the Committee, is, by order of the President, published for general information :—

THE CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1909.

REPORT OF THE RE-CONSTITUTED SELECT COMMITTEE.

THE Bill further to amend the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866, was twice amended by the Select Committee as originally constituted, namely :—

(1) early in August, 1909 (upon a consideration of the opinions contained in Papers Nos. 1 to 6), the principal amendments then made being explained in the Committee's Report signed on the 5th day of that month, and

(2) later in the same month (upon a consideration of certain amendments which it had been intended to bring forward at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on the 25th August, 1909, and were entered in the List of Business for that meeting), the amendments then made being noted in a memorandum dated the 3rd September, 1909.

(1) the Bill as amended by the Select Committee originally constituted,

(3) the opinions noted in the margin, contained in Papers Nos. 7 to 19, and have the honour to submit this, our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed hereto. The amendments which we have made in the Bill are, as far as possible, printed in antique italics, and all amendments of any importance are mentioned in the following paragraphs.

Clause 4.

Definition of "Police-officer".

3. We have transferred the definition of "Police-officer" from clause 3 to clause 4 of the Bill, so as to make it applicable to the Suburban Act as well as the Calcutta Act. We have also substituted the words "any member of the Calcutta Police force" for "any member of the Police force for the town of Calcutta, appointed under this Act": this amendment brings the definition into harmony with the new form of certificate prescribed in clause 26 of the Bill, and will enable the Commissioner of Police to employ members of his force in either Calcutta or the Suburbs.

Definition of "place of public entertainment".

4. We have inserted the words "or drug" in the definition of "place of public entertainment", in order to extend the definition to drug-shops.

5. We have re-inserted at the end of the same definition the words which were struck out by the Select Committee as originally constituted. They are useful by way of illustrating the range of the definition.

Definition of "street."

6. We have, for greater clearness, restored the words "permanently or temporarily," which form part of the definition of "street" in clause 4 of the Bill as introduced in Council and in section 3 of the City of Bombay Police Act, 1902.

Definition of "vehicle."

7. We have revised the definition of "vehicle" so as to extend it to locomotives and tram-cars, and have substituted "automobile" for "motor-car," so as to cover taxi-cabs and motor vans. This definition should be as wide as it can be made, so that the police may have power to control all vehicular traffic.

Clause 11.

8. We have altered sub-clause (2) so as expressly to require the Magistrate to make a further inquiry, if that appears to be necessary, before summoning persons who are implicated by offenders charged under sub-clause (1).

Clause 14.

First section.

9. In sub-clause (e) we have inserted the words "or coal, or bricks lime or other building materials," so as to enable the Commissioner of Police to make rules to regulate and control the conveyance of such articles through the streets. They are commonly dropped from carts, to the danger of traffic.

10. In sub-clause (f2) we have inserted the words "placed on or over any street or public place or against the exterior of any building abutting thereon" after the words "or any appliances for illumination". The object of the amendment is to prevent interference with appliances for illumination which are erected within the interior of buildings.

11. We have altered sub-clause (2) so as to require the Commissioner of Police to publish his intention to rescind any rules made by him, before he rescinds them.

Section marked A.

12. We have altered the concluding portion of sub-clause (e) so as to make it clear that the prohibition of interference with music or noises in public places extends to public buildings as well as their compounds.

13. We have converted sub-clause (v) into a separate sub-section, marked (2a), reproducing the opening words of sub-section (2), with the exception of the words "for the preservation of the public peace or public safety". The words just mentioned are not required in connection with this sub-clause, since the sub-clause itself indicates the occasions when a notification may be issued under it.

Clause 15.

14. We have substituted the words "exposes or keeps any article" for the words "exposes any article for sale". It is necessary to take power to punish the keeping of articles on public thoroughfares for purposes other than sale, much obstruction to traffic being caused by this practice.

Clauses 15A, 15B and 15C.

15. These clauses are new. We have inserted them in order to give effect to a suggestion made by Mr. A. M. Biswas, Founder-Superintendent of "The Refuge" (Paper No. 17), that power should be taken to send to a Refuge, instead of to prison, persons who are aged, infirm or incurably diseased and have been sentenced to imprisonment for begging.

Clauses 16 and 17.

16. We have altered sub-clauses (ii) and (iii) so as to make them applicable only where the offender is unknown to the Police-officer and his name and address cannot be ascertained then and there.

Clause 20.

17. We have amended sub-section (1) so as to declare that the attendance of witnesses may be required before superior Police-officers only, namely, those who are not below the rank of Sub-Inspector.

18. We have amended sub-section (4) so as to make it compulsory for the Commissioner of Police to pay the reasonable expenses of witnesses who do not reside in the town or suburbs of Calcutta.

Clause 20A.

19. This clause is new. It amends section 79 of the Calcutta Act so as to declare that no search-warrant issued thereunder shall authorize any Police-officer below the rank of Sub-Inspector to make any entry or search at night.

Clause 23.

20. In view of objections which have been advanced against clause 23 (relating to indemnity, limitation and tender of amends), and of the fact that the Commissioner of Police does not attach great importance to its retention, we have struck the clause out of the Bill.

---

21. We have considered the suggestion of the Calcutta Trades Association (Paper No. 13) that something should be done to prevent danger to the public from bricks and other building materials falling upon thoroughfares during building operations. This matter is important, but we do not propose to insert any clause in the Bill for dealing with it, as we consider it more appropriate that action should be taken under the Calcutta Municipal Act (Bengal Act III of 1899).

---

22. We recommend that the Bill, as now amended, be passed.

DISSENT.

IN my Note of Dissent from the Report of the Select Committee to which the Bill was first committed for consideration (dated the 6th of August, 1909) I pointed out that the Bill had not been referred to the High Court for opinion, which was all the more necessary to do in the absence of the Advocate-General, the most responsible Law Officer of the Crown. When Report of the Select Committee came up before the Council in August last, its consideration was kindly allowed by His Honour the President to be postponed, and there was since a reference to the High Court. The High Court has refrained from expressing any opinion, so far as the Bill "raises matters of a purely political character." It goes on, however, to observe:—

"As regards the other matters which arise in connection with the Bill, the Court notice that a question has been raised whether the proposed Bill does not require the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council. This is a matter of considerable importance, but has no doubt been settled by the Local Government by reference to the Advocate-General and its other Law Officers."

The question was raised by the Chamber of Commerce in their letter and I drew attention to it in my Note of Dissent.

We have the advantage of having a distinguished member of the English Bar as our Advocate-General who does not happen to belong to this Council. Whether this absence affects the constitution of the Council has been questioned by others, and though I have serious doubts about the matter, I do not propose to pursue it, as it is not pertinent to the enquiry I have in view. It does not appear whether and in what shape the Advocate-General and the other Law Officers of the Crown have been consulted, and I feel myself at a disadvantage in not having seen their opinion. The High Court has been pleased to observe that "the matter is of considerable importance"; but no light has been thrown on its elucidation in any quarter. I do not, therefore, feel myself relieved from the necessity of drawing the attention of the Government and the Legislature, to such points connected with it as strike me.

When the Bill was re-committed to the old Select Committee, I urged some of these points in a note dated the 28th August, 1909. As that Note will not be before the Council, some of the considerations contained in it which bear on the outstanding issues have to be embodied in this Dissent. I feel bound to repeat my doubts as to whether the Bill can be dealt with without the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, which would not be a mere adminstrative sanction but should be sanction duly recited in the preamble of the Bill before its introduction in the same way as it was recited in the Bombay Act. My doubts are strengthened by being shared by the High Court. A question that the High Court considers is of "considerable importance" can hardly be dismissed as merely technical, because some local enactments may have been passed in misapprehension of the situation, without the strict formalities and safeguards being observed and secured.

It may be urged in reply that no such sanction is necessary, but administrative assent of the Government of India, which examines all Bills before introduction, is enough, because there is no overt amendment of any Imperial Act or Parliamentary Statute in the Bill, and because, in the language of one of the speeches of the Hon'ble Mr. Duke on the Bill, "it is much more satisfactory, and no doubt even to the offenders, that they should be dealt with under a law which defines their offences precisely and punishes them with a small and appropriate penalty rather than that they should be brought up under a general definition with the risk of a much heavier punishment." In pressing this the Hon'ble Member in charge may possibly have the high authority of Sir Henry Maine as to the desirability of arming local Legislatures with limited semi-penal powers in the case of purely municipal offences. Regarding such desirability, however, Sir Henry was careful as to the safeguards for the supremacy of the higher Legislature, and laid down that "when a question of convenience arises and when a legislative question like this has reached its proper stage, a joint opinion should be asked from the Advocate-General and the Standing Counsel." Something like this seems to have been contemplated by the High Court, as I venture to read its letter above referred to.

Sir Henry Maine recorded two long notes on the amplification, expansion and adaptation of these penal powers; and though the whole of these notes may not entirely bear out and may possibly be considered to discount some of my contentions, in fairness I feel it my duty to set them out at length:—

No. 6.

LOCAL LEGISLATION—PENAL CODE (STATUTE 24 AND 25 VICT., C. 67, S. 43).

[23rd April, 1863.]

Proceedings, Home Department (Legislative), June, 1863, No. 7.

THIS Bill appears to me to raise a difficult question—one of a class which I have thought likely to arise ever since I read section 43 of 24 and 25 Vict., c. 67, for the first time.

The question is—What is meant by "altering" the Penal Code?

If one of the local Legislatures were to define an offence exactly as the Penal Code defines it, or in language of equivalent generality, and then were to assign to it a punishment different from that prescribed in the Code, it would be conceded, I presume, that this would be an attempt to alter the Penal Code and would be beyond the powers of the Local Council. But the attempt made in the present Bill is not exactly this. Here a particular form, instance or sample is taken of the general offence defined in the Code, and a penalty is assigned different from that which the Code allots to the general offence. Is this, which may be called a constructive alteration of the Penal Code, beyond the powers of the Bombay Legislature?

In favour of the affirmative view, which I understand Mr. Harington to take, there is the wide language of the 43rd section of the English statute. The local Legislatures are incapacitated, not merely for "altering" but for "altering in any way" the Penal Code of India. It is difficult to contend that by "constructive" alterations one does not alter in some way the Penal Code.

The argument the other way must be derived entirely from the inconvenience and, judged by its consequences, the unreasonableness of the affirmative construction.

The Penal Code has been drawn so skilfully and with so much forethought that there is hardly a single conceivable wrongful act which it does not cover by its general definitions. But then, as a general rule, the Penal Code contemplates the Queen's subjects in India, apart from any particular capacity they may happen to fill, or from any particular circumstances in which they may be placed. Practically, however, offences do constantly alter their character and deserve a different or severer punishment through the circumstances of the offender or the capacity he may happen to fill. Not to go further than the subject of the Bill, what may be no offence or a venial offence in a man driving a hackney on the Grand Trunk Road may deserve exemplary punishment if done by the driver of a Calcutta gharry. In short, as it seems to me, the punishment assigned to an offence described in general terms will never be adequate to all the forms of that offence, however wide be the limits within which the discretion of the Judge who selects the penalty is permitted to range.

Now, the matters to which the local Legislatures can address themselves with most advantage are matters of local and municipal regulation. Consequently, the chances are that they will be constantly dealing with extremely special and particular forms of the wrongful acts which the Code describes in general language. Every rule which we lay down in local or municipal matters will involve the assignment of a penalty to its breach, and it will be often, and indeed generally, necessary that this penalty should be heavier than that applied by the Code to the general offence. At all events, it will be desirable that the penalty be precisely defined—a necessity which will often entail some narrowing of the discretion which the Code allows to the Judge; and this would be "altering" the Penal Code if the construction which I am examining should prevail. Is it possible that the English Parliament intended that the Governor General should be invariably invited to express an opinion on municipal penalties, or, in other words, to settle matters which an Imperial authority is not more, but less, able to deal with than the local Legislatures?

The Bill before me raises this important question, but does not raise it in a very favourable way; for I quite agree with Mr. Harington that in this particular case it so happens that the Bombay Council might just as well have been satisfied with the Penal Code. But I cannot help seeing that such questions will be perpetually arising in a more perplexing form: indeed, the legislative power of the local Councils will be almost nothing if they have not at least as great liberty of legislation as is permitted in England to a railway company, which always has it in its power to assign, by its by-laws, special penalties to breaches of railway rules heavier than those which would be incurred if those offences were prosecuted, as they often might be, under the general law as misdemeanours.

A still more serious consequence of the construction which I am calling in question is its tendency to tempt the local Legislatures into dispensing with the securities of the Penal Code; for, though they cannot alter the penalties according to this view, there is nothing to prevent them changing the definition of the crime by omitting a material part of it. This would, in many cases, be not "altering the Penal Code," but creating a new offence which it has not provided for; and it would be hard to call such an attempt illegal, though it would be contrary to the spirit of the Secretary of State's recent despatch.

The argumentum ab inconvenienti must always, I know, be received with caution; but the inconvenience here seems to me so great and so likely to meet His Excellency the Governor General at every turn that, when the question has reached a proper stage (which I do not understand it to have done at present), I should recommend that a joint opinion be asked from the Advocate-General and Standing Counsel.

No 7.

LOCAL LEGISLATION—PENAL CODE (STATUTE 24 & 25 VICT., C. 67, S. 43).

(24th April 1863.)

MR. HARINGTON has been good enough to let me see his further remarks, and I add a few words, chiefly because an inadvertence in my first note (which I have corrected) prevented my bringing out one phase of the argument derived from the inconvenience of supposing that the local Councils are debarred (except with the permission of the Governor General) from constructively altering the Penal Code.

Proceedings, Home Department (Legislative), June 1863, No. 9.

Mr. Harington suggests that the inconvenience to which I have referred is greatly mitigated, if not proved, by the provision for obtaining the previous permission of the Governor General. If His Excellency could, on having a local Bill submitted to him, give a general permission to alter the Penal Code for the purposes of the Bill, I would acquiesce in Mr. Harington's explanation. But I do not think that His Excellency can give his permission without considering each instance in which it is proposed to alter the Code. This seems to follow both from the words of the Councils Act, "altering in any way," and from the nature of the case, from the duty cast upon him being that of comparing one instrument (the Bill) with another (the Penal Code).

If this be so, His Excellency will have to give an opinion on all parts of the very Bills which an Imperial Authority is least capable of dealing with satisfactorily. The key to every rule of law is the penalty for its breach, and it would be impossible to say whether the penalties are reasonable without considering the sections of the Bill which fix the rules. The Bills on which His Excellency will thus have to give an opinion will be Bills regulating local and municipal concerns, and he will have to do this, not after he knows that the measure has been fully discussed by persons on the spot or near it, but beforehand and without the power of ascertaining the changes which may be introduced by a Select Committee.

On noting down the list of subjects (in section 43 of the Councils Act), which the local Legislatures are prohibited from dealing with except under permission, it will be seen that the Bills falling under each head (except the 4th) have a distinct common character. But if the 4th prohibition covers constructive alterations of the Code, the Bills to which it applies are altogether miscellaneous and, as it seems to me, include nearly all the measures which would naturally be brought before a local Legislature. This consideration, so far as it goes, seems to me an argument for thinking that Bills having for their main and direct purpose the alteration of the Penal Code are the measures intended: any such measure would be "a law or regulation for one of the purposes hereinafter mentioned"— language which seems to me slightly in favour of the above view.

Sir Henry would thus be inclined to limit Provincial interference to "Municipal penalties" and offences of the nature of "Railway offences," and such like matters. It is difficult to say that that is what we are providing for here and, if we are not, Sir Henry's verdict seems to be against this Bill.

Sir FitzJames Stephen described the Penal Code as "the Criminal Law of England clothed and in its right mind", and Sir Henry Maine himself says that "the Penal Code was drawn so skilfully and with so much forethought that there is hardly a single conceivably wrongful act which it does not cover by its general definitions."

The question of the fallibility of Penal Code definitions came up later before the Imperial Legislature when the Penal Code definition of good faith was reduced to the General Clauses Act definition in 1897. The Hon'ble Mr. H. E. M. James in objecting to the change of the definition said: "We have the great authority of Lord Macaulay for our present definition. We have had a succession of able legal members like Sir Henry Maine, Lord Hobhouse, Sir FitzJames Stephen, Sir Andrew Scoble, and none of them dared to lay sacrilegious finger on these definitions. It is wonderful indeed what very little alteration the Penal Code has needed." Sir Henry Prinsep, who was on the Council at the time, expressed general "sympathy with the Hon'ble Mr. James' observation," though he "did not object to the change in the definition for general purposes, as he did not understand that any future codification of the Penal Code to alter the law in this respect was contemplated." Though in this Council we are not quite "codifying the Penal Code," we are certainly not merely providing an amending Act "for removal of doubts and uncertainties as to police powers" for there has never been any serious doubt as to those powers under the existing Penal Code, the Criminal Procedure Code and the Calcutta Police Act.

The "constructive alteration of the Penal Code," as Sir Henry Maine calls it in his minutes, and which this Bill may well claim to be called, leads to quite a difficult position. We have the dictum of a distinguished British Judge (per Abinger, C. B, Henderson v. Sherbourn, 1837, 2 M. and W., 236) that "if a crime be created by statute with a given penalty and be afterwards repeated in another statute with a lesser penalty attached to it, the new Act would be in effect a repeal of the former penalty." Practically following the judgments of Lords Mansfield and Hardwicke in earlier cases, we are told again (per Campbell, C. J., Mitchell v. Brown) that if a later statute again describes an offence created by a former statute and affixes a different punishment to it varying the procedure, the prosecution must proceed under the latter statute, and the same consequences seem to follow from altering the procedure and the punishment." Differences of opinion led to the enactment of the provision of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897, section 26) to the effect that "when an act or omission constitutes an offence under two or more enactments, the offender shall be liable to be prosecuted and punished under either or any of these enactments, but shall not be liable to be punished twice for the same offence."

In spite of all these differing judicial dicta and statutory provisions, we have in the present Bill added an Explanation in clauses 16 and 17 of the Bill that the added sub-section (which adds some very large powers of arrest, and therefore in Chief Justice Campbell's words may be said to "alter the procedure") does not restrict the exercise by a Police-officer of any power of arrest conferred upon him by any other law.

The statutory provision dealing with the matter is that the local Legislature may not without the previous sanction of the Governor General make or take into consideration any law:—

(d) altering in any way the Indian Penal Code;

(e) affecting the religion or religious rites or usages of any class of His Majesty's subjects in India.

We are further told that "the local Legislature has no power to make any law affecting any Act of Parliament for the time being in force in the province."

Though "an Act or a provision of an Act made by a local Legislature and subsequently assented to by the Governor General is not deemed invalid by reason only of its requiring the previous sanction of the Governor General," it will hardly be urged that when pointed attention is drawn to the defect at an early stage, full consideration should not be bestowed upon it in time.

Sir Charles, Wood, who made himself memorable not only in connection with his famous Education despatch, clearly laid down in his despatch of the 1st December, 1862:—"As a general rule, for the guidance of the local Legislatures it would probably be expedient that all Bills containing penal clauses shall be submitted for your (Governor General's) previous sanction."

In the despatch of Sir John Wood, from which I have just quoted, we find: "It was the intention of Her Majesty's Government that, except in local and peculiar circumstances, the Code," by which was meant the Penal Code, I take it, "should contain the whole body of the penal legislation, and that all additions and modifications suggested by experience should from time to time be incorporated in it." Some of the matters that we are dealing with here are not local and peculiar and therefore not fit subjects for treatment by the local Legislature, but by the Supreme. And this is best illustrated by the fact that the Supreme Legislature has already anticipated events by the new Crimes Act, the new Explosives Act and the Seditious Meetings Act, which could be extended to any part of the Empire in case of need.

And, however much in the doubtful light of the early Bombay decisions, to which I shall presently refer, one may claim that the local Legislature can affect Muffassal Courts and the Appellate side of the High Court, the Original side of the High Court—the lineal descendant of the Charter-created Supreme Court, with its enormous and unquestioned inherent rights and jurisdiction, the bulwark of peoples' liberties, to which they look with affectionate and reverent confidence, stands on a high pedestal, all its own, so far at least as the administration of the Common Law of England is concerned.

The provisions of clause 23 of the Bill were thus open to many and serious objections, which were set forth in my note dated the 25th of August, 1909, and which it is no longer necessary to recapitulate.

The High Court observed regarding these provisions:—

The Chief Justice and the Judges have considered and discussed several of the definitions and the language employed in certain sections of the Act; but these points are so bound up with questions of policy that, without departing from their general rule in this respect, they can hardly express a definite opinion regarding them. In clause 23 of the Bill, however, they notice that the words "in good faith" occur in several places. No definition of "good faith" has been given in the Bill, and the words will bear the meaning assigned to them in the General Clauses Act, I of 1899 (B.C.). The definition of "good faith" given in that Act reproduces the definition contained in the Bills of Exchange Act, 45 & 46 Vict. c. 61. The conception of "good faith" thus defined has therefore its origin in the Law of Contract, rather than in the Law of Tort. The framers of the Indian Penal Code, in the definition of "good faith" given in that enactment, thought it necessary to introduce a further element than that required by the General Clauses Act, in that the exercise of due care and attention is required by their definition, which is in accordance with the doctrine of the English Law of Tort. In this connection it may be observed that the definition of "good faith" in clause 4 of the Indian Civil Wrongs Bill prepared by Sir Frederick Pollock states that these words imply "the use of due care and attention." In making these remarks, the Chief Justice and Judges merely wish to draw the attention of the Government to the effect of the clause as it now stands without expressing any opinion as to its expediency."

We are at a disadvantage in not getting an authoritative opinion of the High Court by reason of some of the points being supposed to be bound up with questions of policy. But it is not difficult to gather the opinion of the Court in regarding the matter apart from, and independent of, the "question of policy."

Regarding the questions of indemnity of, and protection to, Police-officers, the High Court observes—

"The whole of clause 23 in its relation to 24 & 25 Vict., c. 104, and other Acts of Parliament has no doubt been the object of careful and minute examination by the legal advisers of Government, in order to preclude the possibility of objection, and the Court in its administrative capacity can offer no opinion on this question."

Opinions of important public bodies were also against these provisions, and those who felt compelled to object to them at the meetings of the Select Committee are exceedingly obliged to the Government for seeing its way to drop the clause.

This will leave the existing section 99 of the Calcutta Act as it stands, which also is open to some of the objections directed to the provisions of clause 23 of the Bill. These objections, however, could not be dealt with by the Select Committee after clause 23 was omitted, for the Bill before it is a mere amending and not a consolidating Bill, and the Select Committee has no seisin of provisions withdrawn from the purview of amendments. This strengthens the case for consolidation of both the Calcutta and the Suburban Acts for which I pleaded in my first Note of Dissent, and which was pressed once again by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu on the present Select Committee.

With reference to the powers given in clauses 14, 16, 21, and generally, the High Court observes that "the Bill increases the powers of the Police authorities, and at the same time affords them a greater measure of protection than they have hitherto possessed. In accordance with the practice of the Court, however, the Chief Justice and the Judges refrain from expressing an opinion on that, which is a question of policy."

The reticence of the High Court in its "administrative capacity" and in view of "questions of policy" does not make it difficult to gather from the trend of their letter as to what the opinion and views of the Court are in regard to the respective matters in question. They may not unreasonably be taken to support the submissions that some of us have ventured to make. We must remember that we are not legislating in view of doubly regrettable incidents and circumstances of the recent times that had to be dealt with by special Imperial enactments during the past two years, to some of which I have referred. Ours is an every-day Act that must do duty for a long time, and affects the average citizen and his every-day life. If in this enactment also it is felt to be necessary as a matter of policy to provide special powers and facilities, it would be not for us to object to it. But to ensure such an end, a separate chapter might possibly authorise the Local Government or the Commissioner to exercise such special powers in the given circumstances, to which there could not be the objections which are bound to apply to the every-day section.

Thanks to the co-operation of the official members and the sympathy of the Hon'ble President, the Bill has been much improved in the Select Committee in its different stages. The Bombay safeguards, which had been omitted from the original Bill, have been introduced at the instance of His Honour the President and not owing to any outside pressure, as had been erroneously supposed and stated in some quarters, which fact I feel it my duty to put on record. Many of the amendments for which our then colleague, the Hon'ble Babu Radha Churn Pal, who had worked very hard over them, and myself, were obliged to give notice on the previous occasion, will thus be now unnecessary. There are, however, still points to which the attention of the Council will have to be called in detail by way of amendments when the amended Bill comes up for consideration, and some of which may be summarised as follows:—

(1) The necessity of excluding from the definition of "place of public amusement" the places where money is or may be collected for bonâ fide religious purposes.

(2) The desirability of excluding from the definition of "place of public entertainment" places where food and non-intoxicating drinks are sold and allowed to be consumed.

(3) The desirability of substituting the word trespass for the words enters or remains in lines 4 and 5 of clause 9.

(4) The desirability of reducing and altering the punishments provided in the different sections of clause 14 and the other penal clauses.

(5) The desirability of minimising police interference with music and songs on religious and ceremonial occasions, and with public addresses, meetings and processions.

(6) The desirability of restricting powers of arrest in non-cognizable cases under certain circumstances.

(7) The necessity of providing proper safeguards on the occasions of night-search.

DISSENT.

THE inclusion of the section marked C in clause 6 of the Bill, which provides for punishment of police officers in case of vexatious entry, search, seizure, arrest or detention, and the omission of clause 23, known as the indemnity clause, and which practically rendered police officers immune against the consequences of their illegal acts in a civil tribunal, have removed two of the most objectionable features of the Bill. There are, however, other clauses which I cannot but look upon with grave misgivings.

2. Clause 9 makes it punishable for a person to enter or remain in any private or public premises without satisfactory excuse. Instances are very common when people, especially ignorant people from the mofussil, enter into public or private buildings merely as sight-seers. Under the law, as proposed to be altered, these people will be liable to be arrested and punished. The present section 29 in the Calcutta Police Act makes only "trespass" punishable. The word "trespass" has a well-defined meaning under the Penal Code. I think the innovation which renders innocent sight-seers liable to punishment is both unnecessary and undesirable.

3. Sub-clauses (2), (2a) and (3) of section A' in clause 14 of the Bill give the police powers, in regard to the rights of the public to hold meetings and processions, which may lead to a practical denial of such rights. The clauses give the police powers to stop processions, meetings, speeches, public utterance of cries, singing of songs and playing of music, in fact, it clothes the police with power to stop every variety of public demonstration. Apart from the unwisdom of such a drastic provision, it is a serious invasion on liberty of speech and on the right to hold public meetings. The existing law has been found adequate to cope with and check any abuse of such rights, and it seems to me that the provisions go far beyond any legitimate necessity of the police in the cause of the maintenance of law and order.

4. In section C (1), in clause 14 of the Bill, where the police are vested with powers to prevent disorder in any public assembly or meeting, I would suggest that the police officer should not be below the rank of a sub-inspector.

DISSENT.

IN view of the express recognition in the "Statement of Objects and Reasons," on the introduction of this Bill, that amendment of section 99 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 (Bengal Act IV of 1866), is called for, it is a matter of regret that, with the withdrawal of the proposed amendment (the substitution of clause 23 for section 99), the intention of amending the section referred to has apparently been altogether abandoned.

The objection to that section is not merely because it has been "framed in antiquated terms" as represented in the Statement of Objects and Reasons. The terminology of the section palpably has no application to Calcutta. Throughout the section, we find indications that it presupposes a system of trial not prevailing in Calcutta, and pleadings of a highly technical character not in use here. To take only the concluding portion of clause 2 of section 99: "and, though a verdict shall be given for the plaintiff in any such action, such plaintiff shall not have costs against the defendant unless the Judge, before whom the trial shall be, shall certify his approbation of the action and of the verdict obtained thereupon." It is clear that a trial by jury is contemplated: and trials by jury were unknown in Calcutta, in civil cases, at the time.

I am unaware of the circumstances under which the section was incorporated into the Act of 1866, and, owing to the urgency of the demand for my note, I have no opportunity of tracing the matter to its source. It is evident, however, that the section has been taken from a Statute passed by a Legislature with plenary powers, and has reference to a procedure distinct from the procedure under the Indian Civil Procedure Code of 1859, which was in force in Calcutta at the period when the Calcutta Police Act of 1866 was passed by the Bengal Council, and at a time when the powers of that Council were even more limited than in the present day. In all the circumstances, therefore, I am not prepared to accept the section under notice, as authority for the powers which it purports to create.

I am constrained, inasmuch as the Calcutta Police Act is being amended, to draw the attention of the Government to the matters to which I have referred, because I feel that I should be open to criticism, and I should be wanting in my duty, if I omitted to do so. I cannot see any practical use in retaining the section, and I venture to suggest that it be repealed.

I must add that owing to causes which I am ready to admit were unavoidable, I have been exceedingly hurried and have had only a very limited opportunity of writing this note.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

THE PRESIDENCY COLLEGE.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

(a) What is the total estimate of the expenditure for the improvement and extension of the Presidency College?

(b) How much of this sum has already been spent, and what are the heads upon which the expenditure has been incurred?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

(a) "No detailed plans and estimates have yet been prepared in connection with the improvement and extension of the Presidency College; but the cost of the whole scheme has been roughly estimated at about 20 lakhs, and the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, has been asked to draw up an ordered programme for gradually carrying out the scheme."

(b) "A sum of Rs. 3,19,684 has been spent on the acquisition of land. No other expenditure has been incurred."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked the following supplementary question:—

"Does the Government treat the question of the removal of the Presidency College as a closed question or as one open to discussion?"

The PRESIDENT said:—"That question does not arise out of the answer that has been given."

THE LATE KHAN BAHADUR SHAMS-UL-ALAM, DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state what measures it has in contemplation to make provision for the family of the late Khan Bahadur Shams-ul-Alam, Deputy Superintendent of Police?

(b) Is there any truth in the statement published in some newspapers that the Government has already made a grant of Rs. 1,500 to the family of the deceased ?

(c) Will the devolution of any grant, whether in money or land, which the Government may make to the family of the deceased, be governed by the Muslim Law of Inheritance ?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied :—

(a) "Government proposes to provide for the family of the late Khan Bahadur Shams-ul-Alam by a grant of land yielding an income of about Rs. 5,000 annually.

"The arrangements for this grant are in progress."

(b) "The statement that a money grant of Rs. 1,500 has been made to the family to maintain them while the arrangements for the grant of land are being carried out is correct."

(c) "It is not the intention of Government to propose any special devolution of the grant which may be made for the family of the late Khan Bahadur."

THE BURDWAN POST-OFFICE.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) the distance between the Burdwan Collectorate Treasury and the local Post-office ; and (ii) the number of Revenue Money-orders issued from the Post-office in January and September last ?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied :—

(i) "The distance between the Burdwan Collectorate Treasury and the local post-office is slightly under 300 yards."

(ii) "The number of Revenue money-orders issued from the post-office in January and September last was 7,338 and 1,427, respectively."

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked the following supplementary question :—

"Will the Government be pleased to hold an inquiry as to the reason why, in spite of the Post-office and the Collectorate Treasury being so close to each other, people resort to the Post-office for payment of Government revenue ?"

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE said :—

I regret I cannot answer this question without notice."

THE SYEDPUR TRUST ESTATE.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked :—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the antecedents and qualifications of the present Manager of the waqf estate of Haji Muhammad Muhsin, called the Syedpur Trust Estate, in the district of Khulna ?

(b) Was ever any effort made to appoint a qualified Muslim to the post ?

(c) Is it true that the said Manager has relations who are tenure-holders under the Trust Estate or proprietors of neighbouring lands ?

(d) Is it true that the said estate has recently lost in a civil suit a thousand bighas of valuable lands, which have passed into the possession of a local pleader, and that the estate had to pay Rs. 1,600 as costs of the litigation ?

(e) Is it true that in another suit, to which the said estate and a relation of the said Manager are parties, five thousand bighas of land have been attached under section 145 of the Code of Criminal Procedure ?

(f) Is it true that the net annual income of the said estate is Rs. 85,000, out of which Rs. 60,000 goes to the Muhsin Fund, Rs. 5,000 as management and audit rate, Rs. 4,000 as contribution to schools and hospitals and Rs. 4,000 as costs of establishment ? If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a detailed account of the expenditure of the balance, Rs. 12,000 ?

(g) Is it true that, out of the fund reserved for contribution to schools, not a single penny goes to the 200 maktabs and madrasahs in the district of Khulna, while grants-in-aid are made to schools having no Muslim students on their rolls ? If so, will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a list of schools in receipt of grants-in-aid out of the said fund, together with a statement of the amount of such grants to each school and the number of Muslim students on its rolls ?

(h) In consideration of this Trust Estate being a Muslim waqf, will the Government be pleased to associate with the management thereof representative Muslim gentlemen of Bengal, or, in the alternative, to entrust a Muslim Government official with the task of supervising its management ?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied :—

(a) " Babu Jotindra Nath Bose, the Manager of the Syedpur Trust Estate, prior to his appointment to his present post, had done eight years' service a Head Clerk of the Estate."

(b) " So far as Government is aware, no other candidate was in the field at the time of the present Manager's appointment. No occasion has ever arisen for making any change in the management."

(c) " It is true that the Manager has distant relatives who are tenure holders under the Trust Estate or proprietors of neighbouring lands. So far as Government is aware, however, the Manager has never allowed his relationship with these persons to influence him in the administration of his charge."

(d) " It is understood that the case referred to was a suit instituted by the Patnidars of Damodar which adjoins the Trust Estate Bil Dakatia. The Subordinate Judge decided in the plaintiffs' favour on the ground that the Survey Maps showed that the lands claimed by them appertained to Damodar. An appeal was preferred before the District Judge which was dismissed. The Collector, in consultation with the Government Pleader, decided not to prefer an appeal to the High Court. The Manager gave evidence in favour of the estate, but was in no way responsible for the conduct of the case. The estate had to pay Rs. 1,061 as costs."

(e) " It is understood that the case referred to is one in which certain lands claimed as belonging to Bil Dakatia were attached under section 146 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The estate, however, was not a party to the case as Bil Dakatia was leased out in perpetuity in 1891. The estate loses nothing by the attachment as, under the terms of the lease, the lessees are bound to pay the full stipulated rent.

(f) " A statement abstracted from the budget estimates of the Syedpur Trust Estate for the year 1909-10 is laid on the table, which furnishes the information required by the Hon'ble Member."

(g) " A statement is placed on the table showing the schools in receipt of grants-in-aid from the Syedpur Trust Estate together with the amount of the grant and the number of Muhammadan students on the roll in each case. It will be observed that there are Muhammadan students in every school which receives a grant, with the exception of two Girls' Schools. It may be added that the Muhammadan students enjoy preferential treatment in respect of fees. Some pay at one-half or one-third rates, and many are free. As regards Madrasahs and Maktabs, only one Madrasah within the estate has applied for help, and a contribution has been granted. Only three Maktabs have asked for assistance. One application has been rejected, as the Maktab is situated outside the estate. The other two have only recently been started, and funds are not at present available for their assistance."

(h) "Government does not consider it desirable to make any change in the system of management, which is controlled by the Board of Revenue, and, under the Board, by the Collector."

MUHSIN WAQF ESTATES.

The Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SAHRAWARDY asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table an abstract account of the income and expenditure of the Muhsin Waqf estates?

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE replied:—

"The Muhsin Waqf Estate comprises all the properties included in the deed of endowment, some of which are not administered by Government. Government is consequently unable to furnish in full the information required. An account of the income and expenditure of the estates which are under the control of Government will be found in the Muhsin Endowment Budget, a copy of which for the year 1909-10 is placed on the table for information."

SUPERVISION OF MUSSALMAN EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble Dr. ABDULLAH-UL-MAMUN SUHRAWARDY asked:—

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to give effect to the recommendation of the Hon'ble Mr. Earle, as Director of Public Instruction, that of the existing superior staff, one Muslim officer in each Inspector's circle, either an Assistant Inspector or a selected Deputy Inspector, should be set apart for the supervision of Mussalman education?

(b) If so, when?

The Hon'ble MR. GOURLAY replied:—

"It is the intention of Government, gradually and in so far as is consistent with public interests, to give effect to Mr. Earle's proposals.

"Assistant Inspectors have already been appointed in the Patna and Tirhut Circle, the Presidency Circle and the Burdwan Circle. A Deputy Inspector has been appointed in the Bhagalpur Circle; and Sub-Inspectors have been appointed for Chota Nagpur and Orissa.

"The Government is fully alive to the importance of the subject."

THE SONTHAL PARGANAS.

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the inconvenience suffered by the people of the Deoghur and Rajmahal Sub-divisions of the Sonthal Parganas, which are mostly inhabited by non-Sonthal people, owing to their being residents of a non-regulation area?

(b) Does the Government contemplate to convert that portion of the Sonthal Parganas which is outside the Damin into a Regulation district in the near future?

PLAGUE IN MONGHYR.

(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the recrudescence of plague in Monghyr this year?

(b) Does the Government, in view of the almost continual recurrence of plague in Monghyr, contemplate taking any steps towards the prevention of future recurrence of the disease?

BUDGET FOR 1910-11.

The Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler presented the Budget of the Government of Bengal for 1910-11.

BUDGET OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR 1910-11.

Part I.—General Review.

(1) ACCOUNTS FOR 1908-09.

IN the revised estimate for 1908-09, which was laid before the Council on the 28th March 1909, the receipts of the year were taken at Rs. 5,58,55,000, and the charges at Rs. 5,71,06,000. The accounts of 1908-09, as finally closed, show that the actual receipts amounted to Rs. 5,59,03,006 and the charges to Rs. 5,72,33,377, while the closing balance was Rs. 58,43,588 against Rs. 58,77,000 anticipated when the last Financial Statement was presented.

(2) REVISED ESTIMATE, 1909-10.

2. The revised estimate for 1909-10, as now passed on the basis of the actuals of the first nine, and in some cases ten, months of the year is compared below with the sanctioned estimate for the year :—

	Sanctioned estimate.	Revised estimate.	Increase (+) or decrease (—).
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Opening Balance ...	58,77,000	58,43,000	—34,000
Revenue receipts ...	5,27,62,000	5,12,43,000	—15,19,000
Adjustments	32,73,000	65,00,000	+32,27,000
Total Receipts ...	5,60,35,000	5,77,43,000	+17,08,000
Grand Total ...	6,19,12,000	6,35,86,000	+16,74 000
Total Expenditure ...	5,69,12,000	5,48,49,000	—20,63,000
Closing Balance ...	50,00,000	87,37,000	+37,37,000

3. The increase under adjustments is due to the additional assignments from Imperial to Provincial detailed below :—

	Rs.
Grant to the Calcutta University, and for distribution to private Colleges	1,60,000
Grant for Archæological expenditure...	5,000
Grant in connection with Captain McCay's deputation to conduct an enquiry into the subject of Jail dietaries ...	13,000
Contribution by the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam of a moiety of the cost of conducting the Overseer and Sub-Overseer examinations	4,000
Refund of the cost of training in agriculture of Babu Jatindra Nath Chakrabarti, who was deputed to America at the expense of the Government of Bengal, but whose services were subsequently transferred to Eastern Bengal and Assam	8,000
Cost of printing and publishing text-books for the High Proficiency and Degree of Honour examinations in the Tibetan language	2,000
For Capital expenditure on the Madaripur Bhil Route ...	2,000
Special contribution to general provincial revenues ...	30,42,000
	32,36,000
Deduct—
For retransfer to the Military Department of the management of the gardens at Government House, Calcutta	—8,000
For excess of receipts over charges of the office of the Agent for Government Consignments which has been provincialized (raised from Rs. 15,000 to Rs. 16,000)	—1,000
Total ...	32,27,000

4. The falling off of revenue is the net result of decreases under some heads and increases under others. The improvements aggregate Rs. 9,88,000, and are chiefly under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 3,36,000) due to the increased collection of arrears and larger receipts from the redemption of land revenue and the sale of Government estates.

Provincial Rates—(Rs. 2,19,000) due to the increased collection of arrears and larger collection of cess on coal-mines.

Courts of Law—(Rs. 12,000) under fees and fines.

Police—(Rs. 44,000) due to larger recoveries on account of punitive police.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 19,000) mainly under Pilotage receipts.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 77,000) on account of the sale-proceeds of the steam-trawler Golden Crown and a part of the sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana building.

Irrigation Major Works—(Rs. 2,72,000) chiefly owing to larger receipts from water-rates.

The decreases, on the other hand, aggregate Rs. 25,07,000, falling chiefly under the following heads :—

Stamps—(Rs. 4,50,000) chiefly under court-fee stamps and partly also under general stamps ; attributed to stagnation in trade.

Excise—(Rs. 5,75,000). The settlements of shops were very unfavourable, probably owing to the continuance of high prices, and the extension of the contract distillery system in Bihar has so far reduced the revenue.

Forests—(Rs. 1,60,000) owing to depression in the timber trade.

Registration—(Rs. 1,70,000) owing chiefly to a decrease in the number of registrations effected.

Interest—(Rs 3,78,000) chiefly under loans to cultivators and partly also under loans to land-holders.

Jails—(Rs. 3 55,000) owing to the decrease in the receipts from jail manufactures on account of smaller demands from the Ordnance Department.

Education—(Rs. 1,78,000) owing to no refunds having been received from District Boards out of the grants made to them for primary school buildings, whereas two lakhs were anticipated from this source at the time the budget was framed.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 48,000) owing to smaller receipts from the sale of quinine.

Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation—(Rs. 49,000) due to a falling off under navigation receipts owing to the cyclone in October 1909, and to slackness in the jute traffic.

5. On the expenditure side the revised estimate shows a total decrease of Rs. 30,15,000, which is mainly accounted for under the following heads :—

Land Revenue—(Rs. 2,90,000) partly under salaries of officers, partly under net charges of Partition establishments, and partly on account of the delay in giving effect to the recommendations of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee. A lump grant of Rs. 50,000 for Additional Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors was also not utilised, and there were savings under survey and settlement and land records.

Interest—(Rs. 71,000) due to the smaller outstanding balances under the Provincial Loans Accounts.

Police—(Rs. 3,72,000) mainly on account of savings in the grants for grain and conveyance allowances, to savings under constables' pay due to vacancies in the force, to the non-entertainment of additional railway police, and to savings under the head of Contingencies.

Ports and Pilotage—(Rs. 96,000) chiefly owing to the postponement of expenditure on the purchase of new boilers for the S. S. Guide, and to anticipated savings under Pilotage and Pilot establishments.

Medical—(Rs. 1,81,000) due chiefly to savings under District Medical establishments, and smaller grants for plague preventive measures.

Scientific and other Minor Departments—(Rs. 2,16,000) chiefly under the Agricultural Department, and partly also under Veterinary charges, Botanic and other public gardens, Inspector of Factories, and Gazetteer revision.

Miscellaneous—(Rs. 1,44,000) savings in the grant for donations for charitable purposes, petty establishments, Fishery enquiries, the lump provision for grants to District Funds and other miscellaneous charges.

Famine Relief—(Rs. 6,66,000) owing to the necessity for relief measures having been less than was anticipated.

Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers—(Rs. 8,00,000) on account of transfers to other heads.

On the other hand, there was a total increase in expenditure of Rs. 9,52,000, the largest items of which are noted below :—

Courts of Law—(Rs. 3,84,000) specially under Law charges in connection with political cases.

Jails—(Rs. 1,00,000) due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, and an increase in dietary charges owing to an increase in the number of prisoners.

Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department—(Rs. 3,90,000) owing to additional grants sanctioned during the year to meet urgent requirements.

6. The net result of these changes is that the closing balance of 1909-10, including the sum of 50 lakhs held in trust for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which was estimated in March last at Rs. 50,00,000, is now placed at Rs. 87,37,000. The increase is chiefly due to the special subvention of Rs. 30,42,000 given by the Government of India, partly to restore the normal scale of expenditure on Civil Works, and partly to raise the closing balance to the prescribed minimum of 20 lakhs in 1910-11.

(3) BUDGET ESTIMATE, 1910-11.

7. The opening balance of 1910-11 is the closing balance of 1909-10, and is therefore Rs. 87,37,000.

8. The estimates for the year, as approved by the Government of India, show receipts aggregating Rs. 5,58,09,000, an expenditure of Rs. 5,75,46,000, and a closing balance of Rs. 70,00,000. The special grant of 50 lakhs for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, which is held in trust by Government, is included in the Provincial accounts. It is estimated therefore that, leaving aside this amount, the balance at the close of 1910-11 will be 20 lakhs, which is the prescribed minimum.

9. The estimate of receipts includes the following special assignments from Imperial Revenues:—

	Rs.
For Police re-organization (comprising grants made in previous years aggregating Rs. 14,50,000 and an additional grant of Rs. 3,17,000 with effect from 1910-11)	17,67,000

10. On the expenditure side, the total estimated charges for 1910-11 are Rs. 5,75,46,000, which is in excess of the income by Rs. 17,37,000.

11. A schedule is attached showing the new schemes costing individually more than Rs. 5,000 which have been included in the budget. The non-recurring charges on account of these schemes amount to Rs. 7,61,812, and the recurring charges to Rs. 15,90,736. This statement does not form any part of the Provincial Budget, but is annexed thereto for convenience of reference.

PART II.—Detailed remarks on the Budget for 1910-11.

RECEIPTS.

13. Land Revenue.—The total collections under this head in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 2,92,73,443 and the estimate for 1910-11, as provisionally passed by the Government of India, is Rs. 3,02,92,000, against Rs. 3,04,63,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10. The estimate includes Rs. 11,55,000 for recoveries of Survey and Settlement charges, against Rs. 9,60,000 provided for in the revised estimate for 1909-10.

14. The estimated Provincial share of Land Revenue is calculated as follows :—

	Estimate, 1910-11.
	Rs.
Gross Land Revenue	3,02,92,000
Deduct estimated collections from Government Estates (wholly Provincial)	34,67,000
Deduct recoveries of Survey and Settlement charges (wholly Imperial)	11,55,000
Total Deductions ...	46,22,000
Net amount divisible between Imperial and Provincial funds	2,56,70,000
Provincial share (one-half)	1,28,35,000
Add collections from Government Estates (wholly Provincial)	34,67,000
Total Provincial ...	1,63,02,000
Add adjustments as in Appendix A	33,64,000
Total Provincial Receipts ...	1,96,66,000

15. Stamps.—The budget estimate of the total revenue from Stamps for 1909-10 was passed by the Government of India at Rs. 1,65,00,000. The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,55,99,838. The actuals of the first ten months of 1909-10, exclusive of receipts on account of unified stamps used as receipt stamps, show a small decrease of Rs. 2,000 as compared with the figures for the corresponding period of the preceding year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced from Rs. 1,65,00,000 to Rs. 1,56,00,000. The estimate for 1910-11, which has been placed at Rs. 1,67,86,000, allows for a progressive increase of five lakhs, and includes Rs. 6,86,000 being the expected proceeds of the new scheme of taxation sanctioned by the Government of India by the enhancement of the present duties levied on debentures, share warrants to bearer, transfers of shares and debentures, agreements or memoranda of agreements relating to the sale of shares and securities, bills of exchange and probate. The Provincial share is one-half, and thus amounts to Rs. 78,00,000 for 1909-10 and Rs. 83,93,000 for 1910-11.

16. Excise.—The revenue from Excise for 1909-10 was estimated at Rs. 1,79,00,000. The actuals of 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 1,70,01,004, while the figures for the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 2,61,000 as compared with the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year. The decrease in 1909-10 is due to the introduction of the contract distillery system in certain districts of Bihar and to the unfavourable result of the settlements of shops. The revised estimate for the year has therefore been passed for Rs. 1,67,50,000 ; and allowing for a progressive increase of two and half lakhs and for the expected proceeds from the new scheme of taxation, increasing the tariff rates on beer and spirits, amounting to Rs. 52,000, the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 1,70,52,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 83,75,000 and Rs. 85,26,000, respectively.

17. Provincial Rates.—The actual collections of Public Works Cess in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 36,60,066, and the estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 36,53,000. The receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10, however, show an increase of Rs. 1,91,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The annual valuation of existing mines and the first assessment of new mines which were opened in consequence of the development of the coal industry, together with the completion of valuation operations in the Sonthal Parganas, raised the total demand for Public Works Cess for 1908-09 by about Rs. 1,36,000, but the collections in that year were not in proportion to the demand. The arrears are being collected in 1909-10, and the revised estimate for the year has accordingly been placed at Rs. 38,70,000. A reduction in the annual profits of coal mines is anticipated, and there will be smaller arrears to be collected in 1910-11; the estimate for that year has therefore been placed at Rs. 37,90,000. Under "General Rates for the management of Private Estates" the estimate is Rs. 1,85,000, against Rs. 1,63,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10. The increase is due to the levy of higher rates to meet the cost of the Lady Legal Adviser to parda nashin ladies, and her establishment, etc. The total estimate for 1910-11 is therefore Rs. (37,90,000+1,85,000=) 39,75,000.

18. Assessed Taxes.—The budget estimate of receipts from Income-tax for 1909-10 was Rs. 58,00,000. The actual collections in the first ten months of the year amounted to Rs. 44,58,000. For the remaining two months of the year the receipts have been taken at Rs. 10,92,000, and the revised estimate has been placed at Rs. 55,50,000. The estimate for 1910-11 allows for an increase of Rs. 3,50,000, and stands at Rs. 59,00,000. The Provincial share (one-half) amounts to Rs. 29,50,000.

19. Forests.—The total receipts under this head for 1910-11 are estimated at Rs. 11,00,000, against Rs. 10,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 11,84,846 the actuals of 1908-09. The Provincial share is one-half, and amounts to Rs. 5,50,000.

20. Registration.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,50,000. The collections during the first ten months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 46,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the preceding year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 14,26,043, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 13,80,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 14,87,000 after providing for a normal increase of Rs. 1,07,000 over the revised estimate for 1909-10. The decrease in 1909-10 is attributed to the smaller number of registrations effected. The receipts of this department are wholly Provincial.

21. Interest.—The estimate of loans, as submitted to the Government of India, provides for a return in the way of interest during 1910-11 of Rs. 8,53,000, as shown below:—

	Rs.
Interest on advances to cultivators, etc.	4,26,000
„ „ drainage and embankment advances	27,000
„ „ loans to land-holders	1,73,000
„ „ „ to Municipalities and District Boards, etc. ...	1,84,000
Miscellaneous	43,000
Total ...	8,53,000

22. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 6,39,469, and the receipts in the first nine months of 1909-10 show a decrease of Rs. 30,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. In view of the actuals for 1908-09, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 6,12,000, against Rs. 6,00,000 originally passed. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 6,24,000.

23. Jails.—The actuals for the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show a decrease of Rs. 25,000 as compared with the previous year, and a further decrease is anticipated. The actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 9,21,281, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been reduced to Rs. 8,13,000. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 9,64,000.

24. Police.—The actuals of the nine months ending the 31st December 1909 show an increase of Rs. 38,000 over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and as the actuals of 1908-09 were Rs. 1,80,904, the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 1,89,000. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,67,000, as smaller recoveries are anticipated on account of punitive police.

25. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 15,31,000. This has been raised to Rs. 15,50,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 15,48,000.

26. Education.—The actuals in 1908-09 amounted to Rs. 7,18,358 and included more than 1½ lakhs, being the refunds made by District Boards of the amounts placed at their disposal in the previous years for the construction of primary school buildings. As further refunds amounting to two lakhs were expected in 1909-10, the budget for the year was passed for Rs. 7,75,000. The actual collections of the first nine months, however, show that nothing has been thus refunded by District Boards. The revised estimate has accordingly been reduced to Rs. 5,97,000, while the estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 6,00,000.

27. Medical.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 2,90,000, against Rs. 2,81,855 the actuals of 1908-09. The actual receipts during the first nine months of 1909-10 do not show any marked improvement over those of the corresponding period of the previous year, and the revised estimate for 1909-10 has been placed at Rs. 2,84,000. The increase anticipated in 1909-10 under "Hospital receipts" has not been realized. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 2,98,000, in view of the increased contributions promised by the Calcutta Corporation to the Campbell and Sambhu Nath Pandit Hospitals.

28. Scientific and Other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,31,000, against Rs. 2,86,008 the actuals of 1908-09. The Superintendent, Cinchona Plantation, anticipated larger sales of sulphate of quinine in 1909-10, but the actual receipts in the first nine months of the year show a falling off of Rs. 23,000 as compared with those of the corresponding period of the previous year. The revised estimate for 1909-10 has therefore been placed at Rs. 2,83,000. As an increase is expected from the sale of quinine in 1910-11, and as the Director of Agriculture also anticipates an increase in the receipts from experimental farms, the estimate for that year has been passed for Rs. 3,87,000.

29. Receipts in aid of Superannuation.—The budget estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 61,000, against Rs. 64,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 59,540 the actuals of 1908-09.

30. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate under this head for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,34,000, against Rs. 1,25,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,29,070 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimate includes increased provision for work done for local and private bodies and miscellaneous receipts.

31. Miscellaneous.—The receipts for 1909-10 were estimated at Rs. 5,83,000, against Rs. 6,34,688 the actuals of 1908-09. In the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 6,60,000, including Rs. 60,000 being part of the sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana, and Rs. 40,000 being the sale-proceeds of the steam-trawler Golden Crown belonging to the Fishery Department. For 1910-11 the estimate has been placed at Rs. 7,42,000, including the balance of the anticipated sale-proceeds of the Jorabagan thana and Rs. 40,000, the sale-proceeds of the present Garden Reach thana buildings and land.

32. Irrigation—Major Works (Direct Receipts).—The budget estimate for 1909-10 is Rs. 24,36,000, which has been raised to Rs. 27,08,000 in the revised estimate, owing to an increase in the area irrigated. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,92,000.

33. Irrigation—Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 6,33,000, but in view of the collections in the first eight months of 1909-10, amounting to Rs. 3,49,000, as compared with Rs. 3,44,000 in the corresponding period of the previous year, the revised estimate has been reduced to Rs. 5,84,000, against Rs. 5,79,308 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is chiefly in navigation receipts from the Orissa and Calcutta canals, owing to the cyclone of October 1909, and also in the receipts from the Nadia rivers. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 6,50,000, an increase being expected owing to the opening of the Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal.

34. Civil Works in charge of the Public Works Department.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 3,55,000, against Rs. 3,48,202 the actuals of 1908-09. No improvement is now anticipated under this head in 1909-10, and the budget has been repeated in the revised estimate for 1909-10. The same amount has been taken as the estimate for 1910-11.

EXPENDITURE.

35. Refunds and Drawbacks.—The total Provincial expenditure in 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 1,35,000, against Rs. 1,34,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,31,332 the actuals of 1908-09. The estimates under this head are based, as usual, on the average actuals of the previous three years excluding special payments.

36. Assignments and Compensation.—The budget estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 70,000, and this has been repeated as the estimate for 1910-11. The revised estimate has, however, been placed at Rs. 66,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10.

37. Land Revenue.—The total Provincial expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 39,86,000, against Rs. 37,10,000, the revised, and Rs. 40,00,000 the budget estimate, for 1909-10, as shown below :—

	1909-10. Budget.	1909-10. Revised.	1910-11. Budget.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
(1) Charges of District Administration	30,00,000	27,40,000	29,77,000
(2) Charges on account of Land Revenue collections ...	4,000	2,000	4,000
(3) Management of Government estates	3,57,000	3,45,000	4,29,000
(4) Survey and Settlement ...	2,58,000	2,45,000	1,60,000
(5) Land Records and Agriculture	4,41,000	3,78,000	4,86,000
	40,60,000		40,56,000
Lump reduction ...	60,000		70,000
Total ...	40,00,000	37,10,000	39,86,000

Under (1) a lump provision of Rs. 34,400 has been made for an increase in the number of Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors, in order to meet the demands of the Settlement Department. A lump provision of Rs. 33,600 has also been made for the appointment of eight new Joint-Magistrates by promotion of Assistant Magistrates. The budget also includes Rs. 1,50,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers, in accordance with the recommendations of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee to which effect will be given from the 23rd May 1909, the date upon which the orders of the Secretary of State sanctioning the proposals were received in India. Under (3) a special provision of Rs. 40,000 has been made, in order to take up certain works of improvement in Government estates which are urgently required, and which cannot be financed from the Improvement grant as ordinarily calculated. A separate provision of Rs. 17,000 has also been entered for the management of the Hiranpore Market in the Sonthal Parganas, the accounts of which have hitherto been kept out of the provincial account. Under (5) Rs. 2,93,000 have been provided for initial expenditure in bringing the survey and settlement records in Orissa up to date, Rs. 88,000 for the revision of the record-of-rights in Orissa, Rs. 19,627 for the reproduction of maps, and Rs. 36,000 for the maintenance of records in Sambalpur.

38. Stamps.—The sanctioned estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,05,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 4,70,000, owing chiefly to the smaller supply of stamp paper from the Central stores, consequent on the decrease in the sale of stamps, and smaller payments of discount on the sale of stamps. The budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 5,04,000, and closely follows the grant for the current year.

39. Excise.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 8,83,000, against Rs. 8,30,000 the budget grant for 1909-10. The increase is due to a lump provision of Rs. 32,000 for temporary establishment in connection with the introduction of the contract distillery system in the districts of the Patna and Tirhut Divisions; to a larger provision for travelling allowances which is incidental to the employment of larger establishments; and to larger grants under "Petty construction and repairs" in order to meet the cost of erecting warehouses in the Patna and Tirhut Divisions. The budget also includes provision for the Bengal share of the pay of a joint distillery expert for Bengal and Eastern Bengal and Assam.

The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 4,42,000.

40. Provincial Rates.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 64,000, against Rs. 50,000, the sanctioned estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 41,429 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase in the estimate is chiefly under "Collection charges," owing to a provision of Rs. 48,000 for the improvement of the prospects of ministerial officers. One-third of this charge is debitable to Provincial revenues, and two-thirds to District Funds. A small additional provision has also been made for the revaluation of certain chakran and ghatwali lands in Birbhum and other districts.

41. Assessed Taxes.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 1,63,000 against Rs. 1,64,000 the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs. 1,60,003 the actuals of 1908-09. The decrease is due to the omission of provision for the revision of the establishment of the Calcutta Collectorate, which was entered in the budget for 1909-10. The Provincial share (one-half) of the total expenditure is Rs. 82,000.

42. Forests.—The total expenditure for 1910-11 is estimated at Rs. 6,65,000, against Rs. 5,87,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 5,83,981 the actuals of 1908-09. The increase is chiefly due to the following causes:—

	Rs.
Acquisition of land in and along the Satikhola landslip, in the Darjeeling Division.	4,000
Payment to the Raja of Porahat, in the Singbhum Division, on account of profits of the Porahat Forest	20,000
Completion of Forest buildings in Kurseong	5,000
Part construction or purchase of a house for the Divisional Forest Officer, Chaibassa	3,000
Construction of a rest-house near the Ghish River, in the Tista Division	2,500
Construction of a new Forest office in the Sambalpur Division ...	4,200
Purchase of a new steam-cutter for the Sunderbans Division ...	4,000
Establishment for additional flats for the Sunderbans ...	2,000
Construction of quarters for clerks at Khulna	3,000
Reorganisation of the clerical staff of the Conservator's office ...	5,000

43. Registration.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 8,13,000, against Rs. 8,24,000, the budget grant for 1909-10, and Rs 8,14,977, the actuals of 1908-09. The budget for 1909-10 included a provision of Rs. 20,540 for the increase of the pay of ministerial officers. No definite proposals for the revision of salaries have been received, and no provision has been made on this account in the budget for 1910-11. On the other hand, provision has been made for a larger number of Sub-Registrars, and grants for temporary establishments and rent of offices for Sub-Registrars have been raised with reference to probable requirements.

44. Interest on ordinary Debt.—This is interest payable from the Provincial revenues to the Imperial Government on the amount advanced by the latter to the Provincial Government for loans to cultivators under the Agriculturists' Loans and Land Improvements Loans Acts, for advances to Co-operative Credit Socities, for advances on drainage and embankment schemes, for loans to notabilities and to municipalities and other public Corporations (excluding Presidency Corporations).

45. General Administration.—The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 21,02,000, and includes the following provisions:—

	Rs.
Additional establishment required in connection with the expansion of the Legislative Council	12,000
Additional grant for travelling allowances of non-official Members of Council	4,000
Salaries, establishment and contingencies of the Members of the Executive Council	2,00,000
Re-organization of the Chief Secretary's office	14,793
Ditto ditto Judicial Secretary's office	9,105
Ditto ditto Financial Secretary's office	8,946
Temporary establishment in the record-room of the Secretariat for copying correspondence for the Secretary of State ...	6,144
Temporary establishment in ditto for arranging and destroying old records	16,176

	Rs.
Personal allowance of the Uriya Translator	600
Temporary establishment in the Bengali Translator's office for the translation of Acts and Bills for the Government of India	3,300
Increased grant for the revision of the Customs Audit establishment	2,004

On the other hand, savings are anticipated in the salaries of the Hon'ble Members of the Board of Revenue to the extent of Rs. 50,000.

46. Law and Justice—Courts of Law.—The total charges for 1909-10 were originally estimated at Rs. 79,20,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 83,04,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The increase is large, and is chiefly due to heavy unforeseen law charges consequent upon the outbreak of political crime. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 82,43,000. It includes provision for—(a) the revision of the establishment of the Insolvency Court, Rs. 24,820; (b) temporary establishment for an additional Judge of the High Court, Rs. 5,500; (c) the appointment of a Lady Legal Adviser to parda-nashin ladies, under the Court of Wards, Rs. 16,320; (d) the appointment of a new District Judge for Sambalpur and his establishment, etc., Rs. 52,000; (e) purchase of fire-extinguishing appliances for Civil Courts, Rs. 10,000; (f) improvement of prospects of ministerial officers in Civil and Criminal Courts, Rs. 2,00,000 for 1910-11 and Rs. 1,00,000 for the payment of arrears not drawn in 1909-10; (g) fees for the defence of paupers accused of murder, Rs. 5,000; and (h) temporary establishment for sorting the judicial records of the High Court, Rs. 3,500.

47. Jails.—The estimate for 1909-10 was Rs. 27,00,000, against Rs. 27,70,423 the actuals of 1908-09. The actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10 show an increase of Rs. 27,000 as compared with the figures of previous year under "Jails proper," and the total revised estimate for the year has accordingly been raised to Rs. 28,00,000. The increase is chiefly due to the opening of the new Presidency Jail, for which an additional grant of Rs. 69,000 was required, and also to the incidental charges connected with the packing and distributing of pice-packets of quinine, the demand for which has greatly increased. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,71,000, and includes provision—(a) for the reorganization of the Jailor's Service sanctioned by the Government of India at a cost of Rs. 16,536; (b) for the appointment of clerks to assist Medical Officers in charge of subsidiary jails at a cost of Rs. 9,300; (c) for the appointment of circle reserve warders at a cost of Rs. 5,424; (d) for establishment and other charges in connection with the new Presidency Jail, which are estimated at Rs. 1,39,486; (e) for revision of the office establishment of the Inspector-General of Prisons, Rs. 2,000; (f) for the revision of factory establishments, Rs. 4,514; and (g) for the employment of two clerks in the Presidency Jail and six clerks in Central Jails, Rs. 3,840.

48. Police.—The following table compares the figures under this head:—

In connection with the budget for 1910-11, the Government of India have made an assignment of Rs. 3,17,000 representing the balance of the provincial share of the special grants for the purpose of giving effect to the reforms recommended by the Police Commission, and from this sum the following expenditure is proposed during 1910-11 :—

49. Ports and Pilotage.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 stood originally at Rs. 12,44,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 11,48,000 with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of the year. The decrease is chiefly due to the postponement of the purchase of new boilers for the S.S. Guide, and to smaller expenditure on pilots. The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 12,93,000, and includes a provision of Rs. 57,000 for the purchase of two boilers for the S.S. Guide, a larger allotment for the repairs of Pilot vessels, made on the advice of the Dockyard authorities, larger provision for pilotage allowances to Pilots in anticipation of increased shipping, provision for the house allowances of the Deputy Shipping Master, Calcutta, the Assistant Shipping Master, Kidderpore, and the Surveyor and Assistant Surveyors of steam vessels, Calcutta, and for repairs to leadsmen's quarters.

The budget for 1910-11 includes the following items of expenditure :—

	Rs.
Strengthening the staff of Professors of Arts Colleges (additional)	42,000
Inspector of Technical Schools and Industries	17,000
Regrading the sub-inspectors transferred from District Boards to the Provincial Service	17,880

Printing charges to be incurred by Inspectors for work done in private presses	3,300

51. Medical.—The budget grant under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 25,20,000. This has been reduced to Rs. 23,39,000 in the revised estimate, with reference to the actuals of the first nine months of 1909-10. The saving is chiefly under "Medical Establishment" and was due to the non-utilization of the provision for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, to changes in the personnel, and to savings under "Reserve Medical subordinates"; the grants for plague preventive measures were also smaller than in the preceding year, and the provision for the improvement of the Sanitary Department was not expended, since no scheme has, as yet, been sanctioned. The estimate for 1910-11 has been passed for Rs. 25,16,000. It includes Rs. 5,000 for anti-malarial measures, Rs. 41,000 for the improvement of the pay of Assistant Surgeons, Rs. 32,520 for the improvement of the pay of Civil Medical Assistants, Rs. 4,800 for an Inspector of Septic Tank Installations, Rs. 2,000 for an enquiry in connection with Beri-beri which is now in progress, Rs. 6,000 for a Professor of Anatomy in the Medical College, Rs. 18,000 for the establishment and Rs. 50,675 for equipment required for the new Surgical Block at the Medical College Hospital, and Rs. 7,821 on account of the inclusion for the first time of the charges of the Chuni Lall Seal's Outdoor Dispensary in the Provincial account. Rupees 12,000 have been provided for contributions towards the construction of dispensary buildings at Rajmahal and Asansol.

52. Political.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 55,000, against Rs. 56,000 the budget estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 52,404 the actuals of 1908-09. The figures call for no special remarks.

53. Scientific and other Minor Departments.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,32,000, against Rs. 14,05,000 the budget grant for 1909-10. Provision has been made in the budget for the following charges:—

	Rs.
Larger grants to Veterinary Dispensaries	7,000
Fittings of the Agricultural College at Sabaur	25,000
For purchase of cinchona bark	2,00,000
For a new pumping engine and boiler for the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta	5,650

54. Superannuation.—The charges under this head tend to rise year after year, owing to the increase in the number of claims to pension. The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 28,11,000, against Rs. 27,20,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 26,27,146 the actuals of 1908-09.

55. Stationery and Printing.—The estimate for 1910-11 is Rs. 14,16,000, against Rs. 13,30,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 13,35,983 the actuals of 1908-09. The following table compares the figures:—

HEADS.	Actuals, 1908-09.	Revised estimate, 1909-10.	Budget estimate, 1910-11.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Stationery Office at the Presidency ...	57,771	51,000	59,000
Stationery purchased in this country ...	33,646	33,000	34,000
Government Presses	5,71,336	5,70,000	6,47,500
Printing at private Presses	931	21,000	21,000
Stationery supplied from Central Stores ...	6,71,520	6,54,000	6,54,000
Refunds	779	1,000	500
Total ..	13,35,983	13,30,000	14,16,000

The increased provision under "Government Presses" is due to larger provision for overtime fees and the purchase of printing machines, and that under "Printing at private Presses" is on account of the printing of the Indian Law Reports.

56. Miscellaneous.—The budget estimate under this head for 1909-10 was Rs. 5,27,000, but in the revised estimate this has been reduced to Rs. 3,83,000. The decrease is due to smaller provision for rewards for proficiency in Oriental languages, smaller expenditure under donations for charitable purposes and the Fisheries Commission, and to savings under the lump provision for contributions to District Funds and other miscellaneous charges. The Budget for 1910-11 is Rs. 4,98,000, and includes a special provision of Rs. 1,00,000 to be placed at the disposal of His Honour for petty grants, an item which was formerly shown under "Civil Works in charge of Civil Officers." The charges for the Fishery Department are not shown here, but under "Scientific and Minor Departments," as the Department has been placed under the supervision of the Director of Agriculture.

57. Subsidised Companies, Land, etc.—The charges under this head represent the cost of acquisition of land for the Bengal Provincial Railway from Magra to Tarkeswar. This railway belongs to a private Company, but Government meets the cost of land acquisition.

58. Irrigation Minor Works (Working Expenses).—The actual charges during 1908-09 were Rs. 13,97,147, and Rs. 13,44,000 were passed as the budget grant for 1909-10. The revised estimate is Rs. 13,81,000, and the estimate for 1910-11, Rs. 13,50,000.

59. Irrigation Minor Works and Navigation in charge of the Public Works Department.—The actual expenditure during 1908-09 was Rs. 20,32,056. The budget grant for 1909-10 was Rs. 21,31,000, but in the revised estimate this has been raised to Rs. 21,50,000, chiefly on account of the additional grant of one lakh for the acquisition of land in connection with the Ultadanga-Bamanghata

Canal, while a sum of Rs. 37,218 has been transferred to "42—Major Works." The estimate for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 22,72,000. It includes Rs. 43,000 for capital expenditure on the Orissa Canals, chiefly for the raising of the flood-bank of the Pattamundi Canal, and for the construction of permanent outlets and new distributaries in progress since the previous year; Rs. 24,200 for the completion of the new Ultadanga-Bamanghata Canal; Rs. 3,42,000 for the Madaripur Bhil scheme; Rs. 40,000 for training works in the River Ganges; Rs. 30,000 for the construction of a lock at Utterbagh in connection with the Magrahât Drainage Scheme, and Rs. 2,15,000 for flood damage repairs to embankments in Midnapore and elsewhere. The estimate also includes provision for special repairs and silt clearance on the Orissa Coast Canal, and special repairs to the Chitpur Lock.

60. Civil Works.—The estimate of expenditure for 1910-11 has been placed at Rs. 52,59,000, against Rs. 49,00,000 the revised estimate for 1909-10, and Rs. 62,93,800 the actuals of 1908-09. The following figures show the distribution of the allotment as compared with the two preceding years :—

He said : —"Sir, I beg to lay on the table the Budget Estimates of Provincial Revenue and Expenditure in Bengal for the year 1910-11 as finally sanctioned by the Government of India.

"No alterations in the figures in the Revised Financial Statement presented on the 12th instant were necessitated by any Resolutions which were passed in this Council, and the Government of India have made no changes, in finally passing the Budget which necessitate any alterations in the grants under the major heads of account. The only alteration that has been made is the transfer both in the Revised Estimates for 1909-10 and in the Estimate for 1910-11 of a small provision of Rs. 20,000 under No. 30—'Stationery and Printing' for printing the Indian Law Reports which has been transferred from the minor head 'Government Presses' to that of 'Printing at private presses,' since this work is now being done at an outside press.

"A small correction has been made in the opening balance for 1908 09. It was found after some adjustment of the accounts that the year 1907-08 actually closed with a credit balance of Rs. 71,73,959 instead of Rs. 71,73,813 as previously reported, and this amount has accordingly been taken as the opening balance for 1908-09.

"Following the practice of the past two years, a statement has been furnished as Appendix C, which shows the transactions of District Boards and District Road Committees, the figures in the column of estimates representing the sums which have been passed by the Commissioners of Divisions. This statement does not form any part of the Provincial Budget, but it has been annexed for convenience of reference.

"The Budget will come up for general discussion on the 2nd April, and I would ask Hon'ble Members to extend to the various Members in charge of different departments the same courtesy that has been shown on previous occasions, and to give notice within the next two days of any points which they desire to raise in order that information may be collected, where necessary, regarding them."

THE CALCUTTA AND SUBURBAN POLICE (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1910.

The Hon'ble Mr. Duke presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Calcutta Police Act, 1866, and the Calcutta Suburban Police Act, 1866.

THE BENGAL CESS (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1910.

The Hon'ble Mr. Slacke presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill further to amend the Cess Act, 1880.

BUDGET FOR 1910-11.

The PRESIDENT said:—"Gentlemen, as Mr. Wheeler has just told you, the Budget will come up for discussion on Saturday, the 2nd April. I have considered whether it would be desirable to exercise the powers vested in me under rule 30, sub-clause (3) of the Rules for the discussion of the Budget and to fix a time-limit for speeches. I observe that this course has been followed by His Excellency the Viceroy in the Imperial Council. The corresponding rule in connection with the discussion of Resolutions on matters of general public interest applicable to this Council is that the mover of a Resolution and the Hon'ble Member in charge of the department are entitled to speak for not more than 30 minutes, while all other Members are limited to 15 minutes each. I am inclined to think that we might apply a similar rule on the occasion of the Budget discussion, and as there are no movers, no Resolutions can be moved. The effect of that would be to limit speeches to 15 minutes each. Unless that is inconvenient to any Member of the Council, I propose to fix a 15 minutes' time-limit. It is unfortunate that so many Members of the Council are absent to-day, but no doubt they will see my remarks in the newspapers. Of course, that limitation of 15 minutes will not be applicable to the Hon'ble the Finance Member, whose remarks may have to cover considerably more grounds than those of the other Hon'ble Members."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"Would it not be more desirable if His Honour followed the precedent of the Supreme Council where the time-limit is 20 minutes?"

The PRESIDENT said:—"The only reason why I suggested the 15 minutes' time-limit was, as I have already said, to make it correspond with the time-limit in the case of Resolutions. But I am quite ready to accept the Hon'ble Member's suggestion, and will take it at 20 minutes."

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 2nd April, 1910, at 11 A. M.

CALCUTTA,
The 29th March, 1910.

Secretary to the Bengal Legislative Council.

(2) Beard bay—Buoy and beacon established.

No. 136 (second publication).—The President of the Marine Board, Port Adelaide, has given Notice (No. 2 of 1910) that—

(1) Venus bay.—A pair of leading beacons, 500 ft. apart, painted white and having triangular tops, have been erected on the north side of the entrance to Venus bay. These kept in line N. 23°E. lead over the deepest water on the outer bar. Also that a beacon, painted red, having a triangular top, has been placed on the south side of the channel just above No. 1 Red Beacon. This beacon in line with No. 1 Black Beacon N. 67° E. leads over the deepest water on the inner bar and midway between the two points forming the entrance.

Vessels entering the bay should steer for the outer white leads until the inner black and red leads come in line; then steer for them until well over the bar, from whence the black beacon is to be kept on the port hand, as usual.

Approximate position of front white beacon, lat. 33° 13½′ S., long. 134° 39½′ E.

(2) Beard bay.—A red perch buoy has been placed in three and a half fathoms L.W.S. inside the rocky bar at the entrance to Beard bay. This buoy kept in line with Calca Bluff N. 7° W. leads over the deepest and generally smoothest water on the bar, giving a depth not less than 10 ft. at L.W.S. Also that a beacon, painted black, having a triangular top, has been erected on the top of the sandhill on the west side of the entrance. In line with the perpendicular cliff of Cape Radstock S. 42° W. it leads clear of the N.W. edge of Propeller rock, which is situated about half a cable N. × W. from the buoy, and has on it about 6 ft. at L.W.S.

Vessels intended for entering should steer for the buoy in line with Calca Bluff, and when inside the bar keep the buoy on the starboard hand and steer N.N.W. until the beacon comes on with the cliff of Cape Radstock, after which clear anchorage with at least 2½ fathoms will be found from N.N.W. to N.E. for 3 cables, beyond which the bay gradually shoals to about 3 ft. at L.W.S. 1½ miles from the entrance.

Approximate position of buoy, lat. 33° 11½′ S., long. 134° 21′ E. All bearings are magnetic.

These affect Admiralty charts Nos. 1061 and 1066.

All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. The rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.
